Revolt Against Nehru Spreads Across India

Reds In Rioting; 600 Slain Since Monday In Bombay

BOMBAY, India, Sunday, Jan. 22 (AP) — Rebellion against the Nehru government's ideas of repartitioning the Indian states along language lines spread today across the subcontinent. Communists obviously were in the fight.

Violence was reported spreading as far away as Calcutta, the biggest city, and Madras State in the extreme southeast. It started here on the West Coast last Monday in this second largest city. There was a brief upsurge of violence in Bombay late last night after a lull.

As many as 600 persons may have been killed in Bombay City and State since Monday, but official figures were far below that. Responsible observers have counted 200 dead in Bombay.

In the seventh straight day of violence it was apparent that Communists were seizing on and exploiting the so-called language riots as best weapon they have found against Nehru.

Madras State lost a large part of its coastal area in 1953 when the Telugu-speaking state of Andhra was carved out of it.

Red leaders at their fourth Malabar Communist party conference at Mahe, a port in former French India, protested Saturday against federalizing Bombay and demanded an inquiry into shooting by Bombay police. These police have orders to shoot looters and arsonists on sight.

Bombay police shot dead five torch-bearing rioters in the streets late Saturday night.

The police opened fire as a mob of 1,000 advanced with torches in a bid to burn down a police outpost near the Round Temple—scene of many Hindu-Moslem riots before India gained independence from Britain in 1947.

After five men fell dead, the other demonstrators broke and ran, throwing away their torches.

In the same area, another mob rushed police and was met by rifle bullets. Officials said casualties were believed heavy in this engagement.

In the suburb of Sion, Marathi-speaking workers gathered outside

U. S. Raps Red Chinese 'Threat Of War' In Asia

America Balks At Demand To Give Up Chiang

Communists Want 'No War' Pledge To Exclude Formosa

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—UP— The State Department accused Red China Saturday of holding "the threat of war" over the Far East in an effort to force the United States to abandon the defense of Formosa.

It also demanded that Red China make good on its "overdue" promise to release 13 American civilians still held in Communist prisons.

The department issued a caustic, 1,200-word statement blaming the Communists for lack of progress in the Far East peace talks which U.S. and Chinese ambassadors have been conducting at Geneva, Switzerland, since last fall.

The American blast was prompted by what the State Department called a "misleading statement" about the Geneva talks issued last Wednesday by the Red Chinese ambassador, Wang Pin-Nan. Wang accused the United States of stalling in the negotiations. He said his country had offered to renounce use of force in international disputes, but would not include Formosa in such a declaration because it considers Formosa an internal Chinese problem.

Asserting "it is necessary that the record be set straight," the U.S. statement gave this account of the Geneva negotiations:

1. The United States has sought to remove "the threat of war" by proposing a formal agreement in which both countries would renounce use of force in the Far East, and "particularly" in the Formosa area. This country insisted the agreement make clear that each side retained "the right of self-defense" against attack.

2. Red China countered by offering to renounce force in general terms, but refused to apply the no-war pledge to Formosa. This stand, the department said, made Red China's offer of "no value" since Formosa is "the very place

Segregation

5 Southern Governors Set Confab

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 21 (AP) — The governors of Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina will join Virginia's host Gov. Thomas B. Stanley here Tuesday in a new discussion of the thorny school segregation topic.

It is possible the state chief executive will try to form a basis for united action in dealing with the school problem.

But previous efforts to obtain joint action among Southern states have failed.

Stanley has declined to divulge what proposals he may have in mind to place before his fellow governors. His aides said today no formal agenda has been drawn up as yet.

The governors who'll be on hand —J. P. Coleman of Mississippi, George B. Timerman of South Carolina and Marvin Griffin of Georgia—will represent states whose Legislatures are in session.

It will be the second conference called by Stanley since the Supreme Court outlawed segregation in public schools in May, 1954. Nine Southern governors met in Richmond at Stanley's suggestion three weeks after the ruling.

At that time the governors decided the segregation subject was so complex as to require individual consideration by each state. Joint action was ruled out.

In November of 1954, Gov. Charley Johns of Florida attempted to obtain support from other Southern governors for a move aimed at seeking a constitutional amendment to permit retention of segregated schools. Johns broached his plan at the annual Southern Governors Conference.

The conference brushed aside Johns' proposal and adjourned without taking up the segregation issue.

However, seven governors got together and issued a joint statement protesting the Supreme Court ruling. They pledged themselves to try by constitutional means "to preserve the right of the states to administer the public school systems to the best interest of all our people."

Stanley was one of the signers of this statement. It also was signed by one governor-elect—Timmerman. Coleman and Griffin were not in office at the time. Five other governors and one governor-elect declined to sign.

Virginia voters recently gave the go-ahead to a plan to amend the state constitution to permit public funds to be used to send children to private schools as an alternative to attendance at integrated public schools.

And in the state Legislature, which opened last week, a move

Governor-Elect Plans Program

Long To Fight Orleans Property Tax, Ask Stiff Drug Law, Vote Changes

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 —UP— Gov-elect Earl K. Long said today that he favors elimination of Orleans parish's "personal property" tax on automobiles, stiffer state narcotics law and permitting some precincts to vote without voting machines.

In outlining some of his plans and program here before leaving for Baton Rouge and later going to his farm home near Winnfield, Long said he definitely favored removal of the personal property tax on cars in Orleans parish. But he promised 'to replace every bit" of the revenue lost to the city by such action.

"I'm going to fix the city of New Orleans so it can't tax automobiles," Long said. "But, now don't get me wrong. It's not going to cost New Orleans anything. The city will be reimbursed for whatever revenue is lost by it. I'm not going to hurt New Orleans."

Some of the gubernatorial candidates Long beat, particularly Mayor deLesseps Morrison, charged Long in the past had directed punitive legislature against the city which had cost it badly needed revenue.

Long also made known several legislative plans. Among them were:

1. Permit some precincts to vote without voting machines.

2. Remove some voting restrictions.

3. Reduce the cost of hunting licenses by half—to $1.

4. Offer a constitutional amendment to do away with the independent boards created under the administration of Gov. Robert Kennon.

The governor-elect was relaxed and friendly—and talkative.

Wearing his pajama top and in stocking feet, he brewed a pot of coffe and outlined the start of his program.

He said he would accept Gov. Kennon's offer to let him use the capitol facilities to plan for his

Former Employe Of State Disputes Federal Report

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 21 (AP) — A former employe, who resigned during the probe, today disputed a federal report of an investigation of the Louisiana Division of Employment Security.

The report criticized slow collection of payroll taxes from delinquent employers because it hindered unemployment benefits.

But it also was concerned with "what appeared to be a conflict of interests with the official responsibilities of Jules Lamothe, Robert E. Lee Jr., and J. Hadley Heard."

Today, Lamothe, who resigned last fall at the same time Lee was fired, said "several statements" in the federal report were "inaccurate and in need of further explanation."

Lee appealed his dismissal to the State Civil Service Commission and won reinstatement Thursday. In a statement released along with the report, Administrator Richard E. Walker said he would make no further attempts to fire Lee.

Walker replaced Heard last summer when Heard resigned to enter private business.

The report said, "The investigation revealed that a partnership had been formed late in 1954 by J. Hadley Heard, administrator of the Division of Employment Security and Jules Lamothe, director of the unemployment insurance service.

"The partnership operated under the firm name of 'Louisiana Employers Consultant Service.' An employment contract was drawn up between the partnership and Mr. Robert E. Lee Jr., who was to manage and operate the consultant service," the report continued.

"On Dec. 15, 1954, a bulletin was issued by the consultant service and mailed to a group of employers in Louisiana," the report concluded. "Mr. Lamothe prepared the bulletin as well as a subsequent one which was issued on Feb. 15, 1955."

Lamothe said he "at no time entered into a partnership with Mr. Heard, nor did I receive any financial benefit or assist in any of

Kennon Reviews Primary Defeat In Press Confab

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 21 (AP) — Gov. Robert Kennon, the Eisenhower Democrat who lost a state election Tuesday, said today the President will carry Louisiana in 1956 if he chooses to run again.

More Louisianians than ever will vote for Eisenhower because of his "excellent record and proven friendship to Louisiana," Kennon contended.

Thus Kennon, whose administration bowed in defeat, re-emphasized his firm belief in Eisenhower's popularity in this Dixie Democratic state, despite Gov.-designate Earl Long's views.

Long, brother of the late Huey P. Long, said after his landslide victory for governor he hopes Eisenhower doesn't run again because "he might accidentally win."

Long added he doesn't "want no more Republicans" and made clear his efforts would be toward keeping Louisiana in the Democratic fold.

Long and Huey's son, Sen. Russell Long (D-La) supported Adlai

Giant Dam Breaks At Leesville; Wide Area Inundated

LEESVILLE, La., Jan. 21—UP—A giant dam on Anacoco Lake broke Saturday, cascading water over a wide area but the flood posed no threat to populated areas.

Deputy Sheriff J. H. Burns of Vernon parish (County) sheriff's office said there were very few homes in the area and that none was in danger. There also appeared no danger to Ft. Polk south of Leesville.

The waters, he said, were contained in Bayou Anacoco which flows into the Sabine River dividing Louisiana and Texas and in adjoining swamplands.

State Rep. F. E. Hernandez, who was instrumental in having the dam built, said he was standing near the $600,000 concrete spillway when the leak started under an apron of one of the flood gates.

"About 400 feet of the 500-foot long structure gave away all at once," he said. He said there was about 100 feet of the spillway still standing.

Hernandez said the water poured into Anacoco Bayou and was moving into the Sabine. The bayou ordinarily, he said, is about 50 to 60 feet wide, but the waters fanned out over the adjoining swamplands, making it a mile wide in spots.

However, he said, the bayou runs between a chain of hills which will keep the water from spreading to any farmland or communities in the area.

Burns said about the only damage would be to grazing lands. He said owners who had livestock in the area were warned of the break as were any hunters and fishermen who might be about.

The spillway was built in 1950 across the south-southwest end of the lake which is a game and fish preserve. The lake covers about 4,700 acres and the spillway was primarily built to hold back excessive water which drains into the Official Returns Confirm Long's Majority Victory In Democratic Primary

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 21 (AP) — Official returns today confirmed what everybody already knew— Earl K. Long is Louisiana's next governor.

Complete returns from the state's 2,039 precincts gave Long 421,681 votes, approximately 51.4 per cent of the 819,709 votes cast for governor Tuesday in the democratic primary.

The other four candidates, in the order they finished, were: Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans, 191,576; Fred Preaus, 95,955; Francis Grevemberg 62,309; and James McLemore, 48,188.

Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., the state's chief election official, said the returns were completed "at least two days in advance of any previous tabulation."

Martin won a third term, polling the highest total ever received in a Louisiana election.

Martin totalled 624,941 votes compared to 52,073 for J. Ashton Greene, his lone opponent.

The governor-designate still faces the April 17 general election, but Republicans do not plan to oppose him.

However's Long's candidate for lieutenant governor, Lether Frazar, will be opposed by Republican Harry R. Hill of New Orleans in the general election.

Sen. Wiley Joins Douglas In Fight Against Gas Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — UP —Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) said Saturday the natural gas bill in the Senate "is a sham and a frace, providing no real protection to consumers."

The House - passed measure would exempt independent natural gas producers from federal controls ordered by the supreme court in a June 7, 1954, decision. The Senate opened debate on the measure last Monday.

Wiley said in his weekly newsletter that the bill must be amended to provide tight standards for rate control to protect the consumer.

Tight controls are what the bill's backers want to avoid. The measure would free independent producers from direct federal control of the price of gas sold for interstate movement, so long as it is sold at the "fair market price" in the field.

Wiley's junior colleague, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) inserted a statement in the Senate record Friday which said he is supporting the bill because it is in the public interest. McCarthy said continued federal control would result in "less and less" gas and be "a step toward socializing our entire economy."

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the measure would offer no protection to consumers. In the fifth day of what promised to be a marathon speech against the bill, he told the Senate Friday that the fair market price could be set only by sales of gas for use within the producing state. Such sales are not subject to federal regulation.

Douglas charged the measure would add $600 million a year to bills of the nation's gas users. His "facts" were disputed by the bill's co-author, Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — Editor in chief Henry R. Luce today apologized for "unfortunate" brink-of-war headlines in a Life magazine article which brought a storm of world controversy swirling around Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

"If anything in our account of the secretary's position caused any misunderstanding among our readers or the public, we heartily regret it," Luce said in a statement issued from his New York office.

At the same time Luce struck out at critics of Dulles and the magazine article. He declared that any fault on the part of Life "was furiously compounded by those who, for the moment, put prejudice or personal advantage above the best interests of the United States."

Luce is a supporter of President Eisenhower and the husband of Eisenhower's ambassador to Italy, Clare Booth Luce. The editor said Life alone was responsible for the article, both as to "substance and phraseology."

He did not say that Dulles was incorrectly quoted, but declared that the article as originally written by Life's Washington bureau chief, James R. Shepley, had been shortened and edited by Life and that the headlines did not fully reflect the main emphasis of Dulles' remarks. This emphasis, Luce said, was on the administration's "vigorous pursuit of peace." Luce strongly championed the administration foreign policy, saying he had no doubt it averted war by courageous action.

On the cover of the Life edition containing the article was the caption: "Three Times at Brink of War; How Dulles Gambled and Won." The headline on the article itself read "How Dulles Averted War, Three Times, New Disclosures Show, He Brought Us Back From the Brink."

Faulk Re-Elected; Gibbs, Thompson To Enter Runoff

Rep. Gilbert Faulk has been assured re-election to the state House from Ouachita parish, according to Burt Sperry, chairman of the Ouachita Parish Democratic Executive committee. Faulk was high man in a six-way first primary contest.

Sperry said the withdrawal of Shady Wall from the runoff race, after last Tuesday's first primary, automatically gives Faulk a first primary victory. Wall, low man among the four candidates eligible for the second primary runoff, announced Friday he had decided not to be candidate on Feb. 21.

Thus, the Ouachita parish representatives race was narrowed to a two-man race between Lawrence Gibbs and Lea S. Thompson for the other representative's post. Ouachita parish is represented by two members in the state house.

Gibbs and Thompson emerged from the first primary second and third, respectively, Richard Ware and J. G. McKeller were eliminated last Tuesday.

Enlisted Under One Name, Discharged Under Another

Army Mixup Continues To Plague Ex-GI

FT. DEVENS, Mass., Jan. 21 (AP) —A 30-year-old Maine woodsman, inducted in 1944 as Stanley R. Bean and discharged as Charles R. Thomas four years later, has the Army puzzled.

Bean was brought to Ft. Devens today by military police who picked him up yesterday in North Waterford, Maine, on a charge he has been absent without leave since 1946.

Army officials at Ft. Devens said Bean is not in confinement, adding, "There's nothing we can do here until his records arrive from Washington, probably Monday."

Bean's story goes back to a January morning in 1946 in Tachou, Czechoslovakia, where he was stationed with his outfit. A big party the night before caused Bean to oversleep, he says.

When he woke up he hitchhiked to Paris where the MPS corraled him several weeks later.

That's when Stanley R. Bean became Charles R. Thomas, Bean says. He changed his name and said all his records were lost. In addition, Bean reversed his serial number. So the Army issued new papers in the name of Charles R. Thomas.

Some seven months later, at Ft. Devens, Bean was discharged under the name of Thomas.

Back home in North Waterford, Bean decided in 1948 to get things straightened out with the Army and told his strange tale to "some adjutant general."

He was advised to go home and wait. Then came a letter instructing him to write to a certain discharge center. "Never got an answer," Bean says.

Four years later—in 1952—Bean got a letter addressed to Stanley R. Bean telling him he hadn't drawn his discharge pay. So Bean says he applied for, and got, the money.

Things went along smoothly until 1955 when two MPs hustled him off to Augusta, Maine's state capital. There he was fingerprinted, told his story, and was allowed to return home.

The latest chapter in the tangled saga came yesterday when the Army sent two MPs after him again.

In the intervening years, Bean (under his right name) has married and become the father of a little girl.

Tight controls are what the bill's backers want to avoid. The measure would free independent producers from direct federal control of the price of gas sold for interstate movement, so long as it is sold at the "fair market price" in the field.

Wiley's junior colleague, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) inserted a statement in the Senate record Friday which said he is supporting the bill because it is in the public interest. McCarthy said continued federal control would result in "less and less" gas and be "a step toward socializing our entire economy."

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the measure would offer no protection to consumers. In the fifth day of what promised to be a marathon speech against the bill, he told the Senate Friday that the fair market price could be set only by sales of gas for use within the producing state. Such sales are not subject to federal regulation.

Douglas charged the measure would add $600 million a year to bills of the nation's gas users. His "facts" were disputed by the bill's co-author, Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-

Segregation

5 Southern Governors Set Confab

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 21 (AP) — The governors of Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina will join Virginia's host Gov. Thomas B. Stanley here Tuesday in a new discussion of the thorny school segregation topic.

It is possible the state chief executive will try to form a basis for united action in dealing with the school problem.

But previous efforts to obtain joint action among Southern states have failed.

Stanley has declined to divulge what proposals he may have in mind to place before his fellow governors. His aides said today no formal agenda has been drawn up as yet.

The governors who'll be on hand —J. P. Coleman of Mississippi, George B. Timerman of South Carolina and Marvin Griffin of Georgia—will represent states whose Legislatures are in session.

It will be the second conference called by Stanley since the Supreme Court outlawed segregation in public schools in May, 1954. Nine Southern governors met in Richmond at Stanley's suggestion three weeks after the ruling.

At that time the governors decided the segregation subject was so complex as to require individual consideration by each state. Joint action was ruled out.

In November of 1954, Gov. Charley Johns of Florida attempted to obtain support from other Southern governors for a move aimed at seeking a constitutional amendment to permit retention of segregated schools. Johns broached his plan at the annual Southern Governors Conference.

The conference brushed aside Johns' proposal and adjourned without taking up the segregation issue.

However, seven governors got together and issued a joint statement protesting the Supreme Court ruling. They pledged themselves to try by constitutional means "to preserve the right of the states to administer the public school systems to the best interest of all our people."

Stanley was one of the signers of this statement. It also was signed by one governor-elect—Timmerman. Coleman and Griffin were not in office at the time. Five other governors and one governor-elect declined to sign.

Virginia voters recently gave the go-ahead to a plan to amend the state constitution to permit public funds to be used to send children to private schools as an alternative to attendance at integrated public schools.

And in the state Legislature, which opened last week, a move

Governor-Elect Plans Program

Long To Fight Orleans Property Tax, Ask Stiff Drug Law, Vote Changes

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 —UP— Gov-elect Earl K. Long said today that he favors elimination of Orleans parish's "personal property" tax on automobiles, stiffer state narcotics law and permitting some precincts to vote without voting machines.

In outlining some of his plans and program here before leaving for Baton Rouge and later going to his farm home near Winnfield, Long said he definitely favored removal of the personal property tax on cars in Orleans parish. But he promised 'to replace every bit" of the revenue lost to the city by such action.

"I'm going to fix the city of New Orleans so it can't tax automobiles," Long said. "But, now don't get me wrong. It's not going to cost New Orleans anything. The city will be reimbursed for whatever revenue is lost by it. I'm not going to hurt New Orleans."

Some of the gubernatorial candidates Long beat, particularly Mayor deLesseps Morrison, charged Long in the past had directed punitive legislature against the city which had cost it badly needed revenue.

Long also made known several legislative plans. Among them were:

1. Permit some precincts to vote without voting machines.

2. Remove some voting restrictions.

3. Reduce the cost of hunting licenses by half—to $1.

4. Offer a constitutional amendment to do away with the independent boards created under the administration of Gov. Robert Kennon.

The governor-elect was relaxed and friendly—and talkative.

Wearing his pajama top and in stocking feet, he brewed a pot of coffe and outlined the start of his program.

He said he would accept Gov. Kennon's offer to let him use the capitol facilities to plan for his

Former Employe Of State Disputes Federal Report

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 21 (AP) — A former employe, who resigned during the probe, today disputed a federal report of an investigation of the Louisiana Division of Employment Security.

The report criticized slow collection of payroll taxes from delinquent employers because it hindered unemployment benefits.

But it also was concerned with "what appeared to be a conflict of interests with the official responsibilities of Jules Lamothe, Robert E. Lee Jr., and J. Hadley Heard."

Today, Lamothe, who resigned last fall at the same time Lee was fired, said "several statements" in the federal report were "inaccurate and in need of further explanation."

Lee appealed his dismissal to the State Civil Service Commission and won reinstatement Thursday. In a statement released along with the report, Administrator Richard E. Walker said he would make no further attempts to fire Lee.

Walker replaced Heard last summer when Heard resigned to enter private business.

The report said, "The investigation revealed that a partnership had been formed late in 1954 by J. Hadley Heard, administrator of the Division of Employment Security and Jules Lamothe, director of the unemployment insurance service.

"The partnership operated under the firm name of 'Louisiana Employers Consultant Service.' An employment contract was drawn up between the partnership and Mr. Robert E. Lee Jr., who was to manage and operate the consultant service," the report continued.

"On Dec. 15, 1954, a bulletin was issued by the consultant service and mailed to a group of employers in Louisiana," the report concluded. "Mr. Lamothe prepared the bulletin as well as a subsequent one which was issued on Feb. 15, 1955."

Lamothe said he "at no time entered into a partnership with Mr. Heard, nor did I receive any financial benefit or assist in any of

Cold, Rain Is Sunday Forecast

Louisiana's Sunday weather today promises goodwill for heavy sleepers. The weatherman said last night the state will be cloudy with occasional rain, and colder in the northwest portion today.

He forecast that Arkansas will be a little colder today, with clouds and occasional rain; and snow in the north and west.

Fifty-nine was the northeast Louisiana area maximum temperature Saturday, dropping to a minimum of 33.

Communists Want 'No War' Pledge To Exclude Formosa

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—UP— The State Department accused Red China Saturday of holding "the threat of war" over the Far East in an effort to force the United States to abandon the defense of Formosa.

It also demanded that Red China make good on its "overdue" promise to release 13 American civilians still held in Communist prisons.

The department issued a caustic, 1,200-word statement blaming the Communists for lack of progress in the Far East peace talks which U.S. and Chinese ambassadors have been conducting at Geneva, Switzerland, since last fall.

The American blast was prompted by what the State Department called a "misleading statement" about the Geneva talks issued last Wednesday by the Red Chinese ambassador, Wang Pin-Nan. Wang accused the United States of stalling in the negotiations. He said his country had offered to renounce use of force in international disputes, but would not include Formosa in such a declaration because it considers Formosa an internal Chinese problem.

Asserting "it is necessary that the record be set straight," the U.S. statement gave this account of the Geneva negotiations:

1. The United States has sought to remove "the threat of war" by proposing a formal agreement in which both countries would renounce use of force in the Far East, and "particularly" in the Formosa area. This country insisted the agreement make clear that each side retained "the right of self-defense" against attack.

2. Red China countered by offering to renounce force in general terms, but refused to apply the no-war pledge to Formosa. This stand, the department said, made Red China's offer of "no value" since Formosa is "the very place

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 21 (AP) — Gov. Robert Kennon, the Eisenhower Democrat who lost a state election Tuesday, said today the President will carry Louisiana in 1956 if he chooses to run again.

More Louisianians than ever will vote for Eisenhower because of his "excellent record and proven friendship to Louisiana," Kennon contended.

Thus Kennon, whose administration bowed in defeat, re-emphasized his firm belief in Eisenhower's popularity in this Dixie Democratic state, despite Gov.-designate Earl Long's views.

Long, brother of the late Huey P. Long, said after his landslide victory for governor he hopes Eisenhower doesn't run again because "he might accidentally win."

Long added he doesn't "want no more Republicans" and made clear his efforts would be toward keeping Louisiana in the Democratic fold.

Long and Huey's son, Sen. Russell Long (D-La) supported Adlai

Army Mixup Continues To Plague Ex-GI

FT. DEVENS, Mass., Jan. 21 (AP) —A 30-year-old Maine woodsman, inducted in 1944 as Stanley R. Bean and discharged as Charles R. Thomas four years later, has the Army puzzled.

Bean was brought to Ft. Devens today by military police who picked him up yesterday in North Waterford, Maine, on a charge he has been absent without leave since 1946.

Army officials at Ft. Devens said Bean is not in confinement, adding, "There's nothing we can do here until his records arrive from Washington, probably Monday."

Bean's story goes back to a January morning in 1946 in Tachou, Czechoslovakia, where he was stationed with his outfit. A big party the night before caused Bean to oversleep, he says.

When he woke up he hitchhiked to Paris where the MPS corraled him several weeks later.

That's when Stanley R. Bean became Charles R. Thomas, Bean says. He changed his name and said all his records were lost. In addition, Bean reversed his serial number. So the Army issued new papers in the name of Charles R. Thomas.

Some seven months later, at Ft. Devens, Bean was discharged under the name of Thomas.

Back home in North Waterford, Bean decided in 1948 to get things straightened out with the Army and told his strange tale to "some adjutant general."

He was advised to go home and wait. Then came a letter instructing him to write to a certain discharge center. "Never got an answer," Bean says.

Four years later—in 1952—Bean got a letter addressed to Stanley R. Bean telling him he hadn't drawn his discharge pay. So Bean says he applied for, and got, the money.

Things went along smoothly until 1955 when two MPs hustled him off to Augusta, Maine's state capital. There he was fingerprinted, told his story, and was allowed to return home.

The latest chapter in the tangled saga came yesterday when the Army sent two MPs after him again.

In the intervening years, Bean (under his right name) has married and become the father of a little girl.

HELPS POLIO FUND APPEAL — Charles Parry, Monroyan who has been confined to a Shreveport hospital for a long period of time as a result of polio, smiles from a stretcher Saturday morning after his arrival by plane at Selman Field enroute to a television polio auction here. March Of Dimes Receives Boosts In Street Drive

Street collections and contributions from the day's proceeds of a local shoe shine specialist, Saturday boosted the March of Dimes drive in Ouachita Parish to a total of $5,083.67, still a long climb from the goal of $33,000 sought by the tenative deadline set for Jan. 31.

Reports released on the Saturday street collections revealed that a total of $689 had been garnered by workers from the Monroe Building Trades Council and the Monroe Central Trades Council, whose efforts were coordinated by O. L. Cloyd and J. P. Brady.

In addition to this, it was disclosed by John Luffey, general chairman of the March of Dimes campaign in the parish, that Alfred, the shoe shine specialist at the Northside barber shop gave the proceeds of his day's work, totaling $35. The largest amount collected for one shine, he said was five-dollars.

On Friday, local firemen collected $279.95 on Twin Cities streets. The grand total of Friday and Saturday contributions outside of a special television polio auction, was $1,003.95, Luffey said.

Adding a special human interest element to the video auction last night was the appearance on the program of Charles Parry, well known in Monroe, who has spent a long period of time in a Shreveport hospital suffering from the effects of polio.

He was flown to Monroe from Shreveport in a special plane provided by the United Gas Corporation. In constant attendance with him was a nurse from the hospital at Shreveport.

In addition to this means of adding to the fund for the fight against pollo, coin collectors have been placed in business firms throughout the parish area for the convenience of persons wishing to make contributions.

An "ugliest man" contest is being conducted at Northeast State College to raise funds for the polio group, and starting at 7 p.m., Jan. 31, some 2,000 mothers will conduct a March on Polio house to house to gather funds.

During the past year Ouachita Parish has had 34 polio patients to take care of with funds from local and national sources, according to Luffey. The total expense for this care and treatment, he added amounted to $33,000, the amount set for the goal of the current drive.

In recent months, the local chapter of the polio foundation has had fund advances from the national foundation to help carry on treatment of patients of the dread disease. In September, 1955, the chapter received $7,775 from the national headquarters and already this year has received $6,200.

Kennon

Stevenson in 1952 when the Democratic presidential nominee won Louisiana although, with Kennon's campaigning, Eisenhower came within 38,000 ballots of winning the state.

Stevenson drew 345,000 votes, Eisenhower 307,000, largest turnout for a Republican in state history.

Kennon, unable to succeed himself as governor because of state law, backed hia friend, Fred Preaus, in the five-way Democratic primary. Preaus ran third, behind Long and New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison.

With no GOP rival, Long takes office May 15 after formality of the April 17 general election.

Kennon said in a post election interview Louisianians particularly would support Eisenhower next time if the race again is between Eisenhower and Stevenson.

"Eisenhower's friendship to Louisiana in signing the tidelands bill brought the state more than 100 million dollars in extra revenue.

"I glory in the thought that more than 300,000 Louisiana citizens joined with me in 1952 in voting against the candidate of President Truman, who twice vetoed the bill."

Kennon spoke of Louisiana's political independence and added:

"I might say Mr. Long himself has shown considerable independence by permitting the state to go against the national Democratic party in 1948 when Truman was the Democratic nominee. I have no criticism of Mr. Long in that regard."

While Louisiana was one of five southern states supporting a States Rights presidential slate in 1948, Long had called a special session of the Legislature to get Truman's name back on the ballot after Louisiana Democratic leaders knocked it off.

Long was governor before Kennon, during 1948-52.

Kennon, who became one of Long's top political foes when he headed an anti-Long coalition to whip the Long gubernatorial candidate in 1952, declined comment on Long's proposals for the next administration.

But Kennon was willing to talk about one factor he believed responsible for Long's amazing victory without the expected runoff between two high men.

'All four of former Gov. Long's opponents and the press as a whole conceded in advance Long would occupy one of the two lead positions in the first primary," Kennon said.

"There are 100,000 to 250,000 votes in this state which usually swing to the obvious winner, but they usually wait until the second primary showdown.

"This time, however, Louisiana had a premature bandwagon rush.

Long Tc

administration, but that his work "won't take long."

"We'll just have a few bills. And, they'll be ready right from the beginning."

Orleans parish is the only place in Louisiana where automobiles are taxed as personal property, he said.

And he promised to see to it that the city gets an equal amount of revenue "from another source" when that is gone.

Long said he is "not sure right now" what the other source will be.

Long said he thought some precincts could "get along without voting machines"—especially the very small ones.

"Voting machines are all right," he said. "But, I don't think they need voting machines in a precinct where there's just 50 or 75 votes.

"I'm for voting machines.

"But they're short of them in some places. We could take machines from the little precincts and place them where they are needed more."

His program probably will include legislation to permit the small precincts—those with less than 100 votes, for example—to use paper ballots.

"We'll want to make the restrictions for voting less drastic in some cases—say, maybe, let a man take his wife in the voting booth."

Present law does not permit illiterate voters to have assistance in registering their ballot.

And, the independent boards—"they'll be the first thing."

The 60-year-old Long has said he wants department heads to "answer to me."

He said a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the boards would be ready for introduction when the legislature goes into session.

Long wants a stiff narcotics law.

"We're going to raise those penalties," he said.

The governor - elect said he wanted the penalty for narcotics violations raised "at least" back to the 10-year level it once was.

In some cases he wants the penalty set as high as 20 years, in some others it should carry "a life penalty."

"And in extreme cases it ought to be just like murder," he said.

a colony of rival Gujarati-speaking people. Hand-to-hand fighting started after the Marathas threatened to loot and burn the Gujarati homes. Four truckloads of rifle-bearing police rushed to the scene and quelled the disorder.

Marathi-speaking demonstrators were reported to have assaulted Gujarati women in the suburb of Vile Parle. Officials said 12 arrests were made.

The riots were touched off when Nehru announced plans to split Bombay State into two separate Marathi and Gujarati states, with Bombay City bilingual under the control of the federal government at New Delhi.

Marathi-speaking workers have been in the forefront of the riots. They demand Bombay City as the capital of their proposed new state of Maharashtra.

Hundreds of Gujarati families, fearful of attacks on their lives and property, are fleeing the city for their ancient homeland around the Kutch Peninsula to the north. Special charter planes were ferrying them out.

In the face of evidence that the riot dead numbered in the hundreds, officials said late Saturday their figures showed 51 dead for Bombay City and State since Monday.

Privately, Indian officials said damage amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars, that thousands were injured and hundreds homeless.

Police announced 2,000 have been arrested.

Officials were still hopeful that the worst was over in Bombay.

The wife of a physician informed us by letter about a grateful message she received from some of her relatives in Europe. They had just received a package from the United States and they were so pleased that they made acknowledgement in glowing terms. At the close of the letter, this is what was written:

"If you can, please send us more pills. We were at a loss to determine just what use to put them until a cousin who had studied English arrived. She read the name easily for us. Then we gave them all to Uncle Paul, who was afflicted with rheumatism. Now he feels so much better. He says he never took any medicine that affected him so quickly and completely. The pills bore the name on the box "Life Savers".

From Washington we learn that President Eisenhower has just had engraved on the new black marble fireplace in the White House State Dining room the blessing on the White House written by President John Adams back in 1800:" I pray Heaven to bestow the best of blessings on this house and on all who shall hereafter inhabit it. May none but honest and wise men ever rule under this roof."

This blessing was originally placed on the old stone fireplace in the same room by orders of President Franklin Roosevelt, but when the White House was overhauled it disappeared until President Eisenhower asked that it be returned to its original place.

Oak, Hall and Wood streets in Monroe, immediately in the vicinity of our expanded St. Francis hospital, are now quite in demand by physicians who seek to erect on these sites clinics for their practice and in this way they also avoid bad automobile parking congestion.

We know of one man, now all alone in a sizeable house not far distant, who purchased his home ten years ago for $5,000. Now he is almost completely surrounded by newly erected or to be erected physicians' clinics. Other physicians eager to secure sites of their own nearby have endeavored to buy this piece of property. They have offered $10,000 (twice the cost of it) but have been rejected. Then they went to $12,500 and even $13,000 but the owner was obdurate,

"Why wont you sell to me?" he was asked by a physician.

"Because I like it just as it is." was the reply.

"But I cant see where you are at any advantage living there" was said.

"Yes there is" was the reply," I like it because it is so conveniently located.

"Conveniently located, how is that?"

"It is convenient to the JAIL" was the reply.

If one would find some local seers, he should wade into the lobby of Hotel Earl. There he will find plenty of men of uncertain age who can answer any question as to what will happen now the administration in Louisiana is to have a change. And they say they know what they are saying at that.

We observe in the West Monroe paper that there is quite a lot of agitation about a possible change of name of their town. They say they are tired of being West Monroe, and some of the bolder ones would have their town take the name of Monroe and let the city on the east bank of the river become as EAST Monroe.

The name that is being suggested is Olin, which might please the city's biggest industry but after all "what's in a name.

HELPS POLIO FUND APPEAL — Charles Parry, Monroyan who has been confined to a Shreveport hospital for a long period of time as a result of polio, smiles from a stretcher Saturday morning after his arrival by plane at Selman Field enroute to a television polio auction here. March Of Dimes Receives Boosts In Street Drive

Street collections and contributions from the day's proceeds of a local shoe shine specialist, Saturday boosted the March of Dimes drive in Ouachita Parish to a total of $5,083.67, still a long climb from the goal of $33,000 sought by the tenative deadline set for Jan. 31.

Reports released on the Saturday street collections revealed that a total of $689 had been garnered by workers from the Monroe Building Trades Council and the Monroe Central Trades Council, whose efforts were coordinated by O. L. Cloyd and J. P. Brady.

In addition to this, it was disclosed by John Luffey, general chairman of the March of Dimes campaign in the parish, that Alfred, the shoe shine specialist at the Northside barber shop gave the proceeds of his day's work, totaling $35. The largest amount collected for one shine, he said was five-dollars.

On Friday, local firemen collected $279.95 on Twin Cities streets. The grand total of Friday and Saturday contributions outside of a special television polio auction, was $1,003.95, Luffey said.

Adding a special human interest element to the video auction last night was the appearance on the program of Charles Parry, well known in Monroe, who has spent a long period of time in a Shreveport hospital suffering from the effects of polio.

He was flown to Monroe from Shreveport in a special plane provided by the United Gas Corporation. In constant attendance with him was a nurse from the hospital at Shreveport.

In addition to this means of adding to the fund for the fight against polio, coin collectors have been placed in business firms throughout the parish area for the convenience of persons wishing to make contributions.

An "ugliest man" contest is being conducted at Northeast State College to raise funds for the polio group, and starting at 7 p.m., Jan. 31, some 2,000 mothers will conduct a March on Polio house to house to gather funds.

During the past year Ouachita Parish has had 34 polio patients to take care of with funds from local and national sources, according to Luffey. The total expense for this care and treatment, he added amounted to $33,000, the amount set for the goal of the current drive.

In recent months, the local chapter of the polio foundation has had fund advances from the national foundation to help carry on treatment of patients of the dread disease. In September, 1955, the chapter received $7,775 from the national headquarters and already this year has received $6,200.

Kennon

Stevenson in 1952 when the Democratic presidential nominee won Louisiana although with Kennon's campaigning, Eisenhower came within 38,000 ballots of winning the state.

Stevenson drew 345,000 votes, Eisenhower 307,000, largest turnout for a Republican in state history.

Kennon, unable to succeed himself as governor because of state law, backed hia friend, Fred Preaus, in the five-way Democratic primary. Preaus ran third, behind Long and New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison.

With no GOP rival, Long takes office May 15 after formality of the April 17 general election.

Kennon said in a post election interview Louisianians particularly would support Eisenhower next time if the race again is between Eisenhower and Stevenson.

"Eisenhower's friendship to Louisiana in signing the tidelands bill brought the state more than 100 million dollars in extra revenue.

"I glory in the thought that more than 300,000 Louisiana citizens joined with me in 1952 in voting against the candidate of President Truman, who twice vetoed the bill."

Kennon spoke of Louisiana's political independence and added:

"I might say Mr. Long himself has shown considerable independence by permitting the state to go against the national Democratic party in 1948 when Truman was the Democratic nominee. I have no criticism of Mr. Long in that regard."

While Louisiana was one of five southern states supporting a States Rights presidential slate in 1948, Long had called a special session of the Legislature to get Truman's name back on the ballot after Louisiana Democratic leaders knocked it off.

Long was governor before Kennon, during 1948-52.

Kennon, who became one of Long's top political foes when he headed an anti-Long coalition to whip the Long gubernatorial candidate in 1952, declined comment on Long's proposals for the next administration.

But Kennon was willing to talk about one factor he believed responsible for Long's amazing victory without the expected runoff between two high men.

'All four of former Gov. Long's opponents and the press as a whole conceded in advance Long would occupy one of the two lead positions in the first primary," Kennon said.

"There are 100,000 to 250,000 votes in this state which usually swing to the obvious winner, but they usually wait until the second primary showdown.

"This time, however, Louisiana had a premature bandwagon rush.

administration, but that his work "won't take long."

"We'll just have a few bills. And, they'll be ready right from the beginning."

Orleans parish is the only place in Louisiana where automobiles are taxed as personal property, he said.

And he promised to see to it that the city gets an equal amount of revenue "from another source" when that is gone.

Long said he is "not sure right now" what the other source will be.

Long said he thought some precincts could "get along without voting machines"—especially the very small ones.

"Voting machines are all right," he said. "But, I don't think they need voting machines in a precinct where there's just 50 or 75 votes.

"I'm for voting machines.

"But they're short of them in some places. We could take machines from the little precincts and place them where they are needed more."

His program probably will include legislation to permit the small precincts—those with less than 100 votes, for example—to use paper ballots.

"We'll want to make the restrictions for voting less drastic in some cases—say, maybe, let a man take his wife in the voting booth."

Present law does not permit illiterate voters to have assistance in registering their ballot.

And, the independent boards—"they'll be the first thing."

The 60-year-old Long has said he wants department heads to "answer to me."

He said a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the boards would be ready for introduction when the legislature goes into session.

Long wants a stiff narcotics law.

"We're going to raise those penalties," he said.

The governor - elect said he wanted the penalty for narcotics violations raised "at least" back to the 10-year level it once was.

In some cases he wants the penalty set as high as 20 years, in some others it should carry "a life penalty."

"And in extreme cases it ought to be just like murder," he said.

a colony of rival Gujarati-speaking people. Hand-to-hand fighting started after the Marathas threatened to loot and burn the Gujarati homes. Four truckloads of rifle-bearing police rushed to the scene and quelled the disorder.

Marathi-speaking demonstrators were reported to have assaulted Gujarati women in the suburb of Vile Parle. Officials said 12 arrests were made.

The riots were touched off when Nehru announced plans to split Bombay State into two separate Marathi and Gujarati states, with Bombay City bilingual under the control of the federal government at New Delhi.

Marathi-speaking workers have been in the forefront of the riots. They demand Bombay City as the capital of their proposed new state of Maharashtra.

Hundreds of Gujarati families, fearful of attacks on their lives and property, are fleeing the city for their ancient homeland around the Kutch Peninsula to the north. Special charter planes were ferrying them out.

In the face of evidence that the riot dead numbered in the hundreds, officials said late Saturday their figures showed 51 dead for Bombay City and State since Monday.

Privately, Indian officials said damage amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars, that thousands were injured and hundreds homeless.

Police announced 2,000 have been arrested.

Officials were still hopeful that the worst was over in Bombay.

"The missus and I are enjoying our cruise immensely. Calm seas and warm sunshine wonderful. Next stop is Guatemala where we are to make a four-day inland tour. Greeting to all our friends."

The wife of a physician informed us by letter about a grateful message she received from some of her relatives in Europe. They had just received a package from the United States and they were so pleased that they made acknowledgement in glowing terms. At the close of the letter, this is what was written:

"If you can, please send us more pills. We were at a loss to determine just what use to put them until a cousin who had studied English arrived. She read the name easily for us. Then we gave them all to Uncle Paul, who was afflicted with rheumatism. Now he feels so much better. He says he never took any medicine that affected him so quickly and completely. The pills bore the name on the box "Life Savers".

From Washington we learn that President Eisenhower has just had engraved on the new black marble fireplace in the White House State Dining room the blessing on the White House written by President John Adams back in 1800:" I pray Heaven to bestow the best of blessings on this house and on all who shall hereafter inhabit it. May none but honest and wise men ever rule under this roof."

This blessing was originally placed on the old stone fireplace in the same room by orders of President Franklin Roosevelt, but when the White House was overhauled it disappeared until President Eisenhower asked that it be returned to its original place.

Oak, Hall and Wood streets in Monroe, immediately in the vicinity of our expanded St. Francis hospital, are now quite in demand by physicians who seek to erect on these sites clinics for their practice and in this way they also avoid bad automobile parking congestion.

We know of one man, now all alone in a sizeable house not far distant, who purchased his home ten years ago for $5,000. Now he is almost completely surrounded by newly erected or to be erected physicians' clinics. Other physicians eager to secure sites of their own nearby have endeavored to buy this piece of property. They have offered $10,000 (twice the cost of it) but have been rejected. Then they went to $12,500 and even $13,000 but the owner was obdurate,

"Why wont you sell to me?" he was asked by a physician.

"Because I like it just as it is." was the reply.

"But I cant see where you are at any advantage living there" was said.

"Yes there is" was the reply,"

I like it because it is so conveniently located.

"Conveniently located, how is that?"

"It is convenient to the JAIL" was the reply.

If one would find some local seers, he should wade into the lobby of Hotel Earl. There he will find plenty of men of uncertain age who can answer any question as to what will happen now the administration in Louisiana is to have a change. And they say they know what they are saying at that.

We observe in the West Monroe paper that there is quite a lot of agitation about a possible change of name of their town. They say they are tired of being West Monroe, and some of the bolder ones would have their town take the name of Monroe and let the city on the east bank of the river become as EAST Monroe.

The name that is being suggested is Olin, which might please the city's biggest industry but after all "what's in a name.

Vernon Parish Deputy Sheriff S. L. McInnis said a fisherman was standing on top the huge earthen dam when he saw water boiling up on the lake side.

"He called for help and we set out to warn the people below the dam," he said. "But I don't think there was much danger. Most of the houses below the spillway are built on high ground."

The dam forming the Anacoco Lake is six miles west of Leesville.

The small communities of Evans, Almadane, Knight and Burr Ferry are in the area, but there was no danger of flooding to them.

State police said the water level in the lake was actually low and that "not near all the water drained from the lake" after the spillway broke.

Parish Bookmobile Ends Long, Faithful Service

By BOB RUSSELL
Of The News-Star Staff

After nearly eight years of use in which it has travelled 76,226 miles throughout the rural areas of Ouachita Parish, the parish library bookmobile, a 1947 Chevrolet with a superimposed body, broke down on Louisville avenue this week, worn out, and like the "Wonderful One-Hoss Shay" of literary fame, collapsed of old age.

"The motor lost all its compression", said a mechanic, as he looked at the vehicle that was unable to generate any further power, and "It was beyond repair."

Mrs. Vera Cruse, driver, and Mrs. J. B. Landreaux and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, bookmobile librarians, were enroute to Fairbanks when the breakdown occurred.

This vehicle, the first bookmobile ever used by the parish library, was bought in the fall of 1947, equipped with a specially-constructed body and put into use in March 1948.

A new bookmobile has been ordered since September and it is expected to be delivered here March 15.

A substitute service for the rural schools, during the next two months when the bookmobile is out of operations, has been promptly announced by Miss Frances Flanders, Ouachita Parish librarian.

"Children who have books checked out," Miss Flanders said, "Will be served by library staff members, who will come in their cars."

She also noted that the residents of St. Joseph's Home, staunch patrons of the bookmobile circulation, will not be forgotten during this time.

Value of the bookmobile may be realized when it is known that in its years of travel, the bookmobile, has circulated 785,793 books to the rural areas. On its itinerary it has 10 different routes and 100 scheduled stops, that vary from a few minutes to several hours.

Its popularity may be further attested to in the fact that nearly 5,000 persons outside the Twin Cities are registered borrowers of the bookmobile.

Since the Christmas holidays, the bookmobile has made one complete circuit on its itinerary and a total of 6,487 books are checked out at this time from the bookmobile collection of 9,149 books. The total library collection is 43,832 books.

chassis is delivered, Miss Flanders said, adding that normally, the new bookmobile would have been delivered here about the first of the year. A strike in a plant that makes a dual rear axle for the Ford chas-

"Adult readers who have books checked out from the bookmobile are urged to finish reading them and then return them to the library in Monroe or West Monroe," said Miss Flanders.

The new bookmobile will have a Gerstenslager body, built over a Ford motor and chassis and will cost about $7,500.

It takes three months for the Gerstenslager Company of Wooster, Ohio, to build the body, after the sis has held up delivery of the chassis to the Gerstenslager company until December 9, said Miss Flanders, causing the delay.

After the breakdown of the old vehicle, she called the president of the Gerstenslager company, who promised to speed up delivery, if possible.

The discarded bookmobile has been turned over to McCain-Richards Ford dealer, as part payment on the chassis of the new one, Miss Flanders said.

The following stops will be made at the rural schools by librarians on the bookmobile circuit, who will travel by automobile, during the period that normal bookmobile service has been suspended. The first ice has been suspended. The first date of each stop will be the time school children may check out books from the bookmobile collection, and the return date will be the day they are due:

Logtown, Jan. 30 and Feb. 27; Watson and Cypress, Jan. 31 and Feb. 28; Swartz, Feb. 1 and Feb 29; Claiborne and Drew, Feb. 2 and Mar. 1; Calhound, Feb. 3 and Mar. 2; Sterlington, Feb. 20 and Mar. 12; Shady Grove, Feb. 21 and Mar. 13; Fairbanks, Feb. 23 and Mar. 14; Lenwil, Feb. 23 and Mar. 15; and Woodlawn and Okaloosa, Feb. 24 and Mar. 16.

NOW ON ORDER.— A new bookmobile, similar to the type shown above, which is in use by the LaSalle parish public library, is on order by the Ouachita parish public library and is expected to be delivered here in March. The new vehicle has a Gerstenslager body fitted over a Ford motor and chassis.

Phoenix Case

'Kidnaping With Assault Intent' Charges Planned

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 21—UP—Plans to file a charge of "kidnaping for assault," which carries a possible death sentence, for the brutal assault of seven-year-old Carla Hixon were outlined Saturday by Maricopa County Attorney William P. Mahoney, Jr.

Mahoney said he originally had planned to file the charge Saturday against Robert Vance Taylor, 33. But he said plans now call for the filing of the charge in Mesa justice court "early next week."

Taylor first was charged with kidnaping, which carries a possible penalty of one to 10 years in prison. He also was charged with aggravated assault and grand theft of a stolen car.

The new charge requires the death penalty or life imprisonment, with no possibility of parole.

The pretty, blue-eyed girl, still fighting for her life in the Mesa, Ariz., Southside hospital, continued to show improvement.

The child was abducted on her way home from school near Mesa on Tuesday. The next day, after one of the most intensive searches in Arizona history, she was found unconscious in a desert wash. Both of her eyes were blackened and she suffered an apparent fractured skull from having been beaten.

Police Continue Hunt For Slayer In Five States

PRINCETON, Ind., Jan. 21—UP—Police and FBI agents in at least five midwestern states searched Saturday for convicted "Chinese execution" killer Irvin.

Nervous citizens from such widely-separated points as Chicago, Lima, Ohio, and Springhill, Mo., "identified" Irvin, who escaped from jail here Thursday.

Irvin, waiting electrocution in June for murder, had been accused of slaying six persons in all. His favorite method was to shoot his victims while their hands were tied behind them.

Life here began to return to normal but witnesses and officials who helped convict Irvin remained under guard.

There appeared to be several theories as to Irvin's path after he escaped from the Gibson county jail here.

One would indicate that he traveled almost due west. That would account for his being "seen" by a gas station attendant at Marion, Ill., by a waitress at St. Louis, Mo., and by a motorist at Springfield, Mo. Those three cities are roughly due west from here.

Pope To Bless Monaco Wedding Of Prince, Kelly

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Jan. 21—UP—Pope Pius XII has promised to bless the marriage of Prince Rainier of Monaco and American screen star Grace Kelly, it was announced here Saturday.

A palace announcement said the Pope had sent a telegram to the prince in reply to a message from Rainier informing him of the engagement.

Teen-Aged Wife Stabs Husband

HAMMOND, Ind., Jan. 21—UP—A blonde teen-age wife stabbed her estranged airman husband with a pocketknife early Saturday, their first wedding anniversary.

Police said Mrs. Shirley Wescott, 17, admitted stabbing her husband, Raymond, 18, after he slapped her several times when he found her in a parked auto with another man.

Wescott was rushed to St. Margaret's Hospital where attendants said later he was in "good" condition.

The young wife, who said she and her husband were married a year ago, told police she had obtained a court order several weeks ago to prevent her husband from bothering her.

Johnson Backs Improvements For Federal Workers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 —UP— Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) of the Senate Civil Service committee, said Saturday night that he will press for passage of a six-point program to better the lot of federal workers.

He addressed the American Federation of Government Employes (AFL-CIO) at a dinner observing National Civil Service Week. President Eisenhower sent a message of greetings in which he said "we can all be proud of the progress that has been made to improve and strengthen our Civil Service over the past two years."

Johnston, in reference to his recent investigation of the Federal Worker Security Program, said the inquiry "had resulted in clearing the air by sweeping away the smoke screen of political intrigue and confusion deliberately created by the Eisenhower administration."

His committee looked into charges the administration had played a "numbers" game in misrepresenting the number of security risk firings since the Republicans took office.

Johnston also said he was "unalterably opposed to any type of job clearance from either political party for positions below the policy level." The administration is currently removing certain jobs from Civil Service protection.

Johnston's legislative program calls for a new retirement bill, low cost health insurance, safeguards against unjustified salary cuts and downgrading, longevity increases for wage board employes, better labor-management relationships, and reorganization of the Civil Service commission.

Waiter Charged With Evasion Of Federal Taxes

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—UP— The federal government charged a former headwaiter at the famed Waldorf Astoria hotel with failure to pay income taxes on $67,070 in tips he received over a four-year period.

Hans Paul, 63, now retired, paid taxes on his $3,000-a-year salary, the government said, and even reported part of his tips. But the government charged that Paul only reported about half his income, which ran as high as $39,000 a year.

After nearly eight years of use in which it has travelled 76,226 miles throughout the rural areas of Ouachita Parish, the parish library bookmobile, a 1947 Chevrolet with a superimposed body, broke down on Louisville avenue this week, worn out, and like the "Wonderful One-Hoss Shay" of literary fame, collapsed of old age.

"The motor lost all its compression", said a mechanic, as he looked at the vehicle that was unable to generate any further power, and "It was beyond repair."

Mrs. Vera Cruse, driver, and Mrs. J. B. Landreaux and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, bookmobile librarians, were enroute to Fairbanks when the breakdown occurred.

This vehicle, the first bookmobile ever used by the parish library, was bought in the fall of 1947, equipped with a specially-constructed body and put into use in March 1948.

A new bookmobile has been ordered since September and it is expected to be delivered here March 15.

A substitute service for the rural schools, during the next two months when the bookmobile is out of operations, has been promptly announced by Miss Frances Flanders, Ouachita Parish librarian.

"Children who have books checked out," Miss Flanders said, "Will be served by library staff members, who will come in their cars."

She also noted that the residents of St. Joseph's Home, staunch patrons of the bookmobile circulation, will not be forgotten during this time.

Value of the bookmobile may be realized when it is known that in its years of travel, the bookmobile, has circulated 785,793 books to the rural areas. On its itinerary it has 10 different routes and 100 scheduled stops, that vary from a few minutes to several hours.

Its popularity may be further attested to in the fact that nearly 5,000 persons outside the Twin Cities are registered borrowers of the bookmobile.

Since the Christmas holidays, the bookmobile has made one complete circuit on its itinerary and a total of 6,487 books are checked out at this time from the bookmobile collection of 9,149 books. The total library collection is 43,832 books.

chassis is delivered, Miss Flanders said, adding that normally, the new bookmobile would have been delivered here about the first of the year. A strike in a plant that makes a dual rear axle for the Ford chas-

"Adult readers who have books checked out from the bookmobile are urged to finish reading them and then return them to the library in Monroe or West Monroe," said Miss Flanders.

The new bookmobile will have a Gerstenslager body, built over a Ford motor and chassis and will cost about $7,500.

It takes three months for the Gerstenslager Company of Wooster, Ohio, to build the body, after the sis has held up delivery of the chassis to the Gerstenslager company until December 9, said Miss Flanders, causing the delay.

After the breakdown of the old vehicle, she called the president of the Gerstenslager company, who promised to speed up delivery, if possible.

The discarded bookmobile has been turned over to McCain-Richards Ford dealer, as part payment on the chassis of the new one, Miss Flanders said.

The following stops will be made at the rural schools by librarians on the bookmobile circuit, who will travel by automobile, during the periol that normal bookmobile service has been suspended. The first ice has been suspended. The first date of each stop will be the time school children may check out books from the bookmobile collection, and the return date will be the day they are due:

Logtown, Jan. 30 and Feb. 27; Watson and Cypress, Jan. 31 and Feb. 28; Swartz, Feb. 1 and Feb 29; Claiborne and Drew, Feb. 2 and Mar. 1; Calhound, Feb. 3 and Mar. 2; Sterlington, Feb. 20 and Mar. 12; Shady Grove, Feb. 21 and Mar. 13; Fairbanks, Feb. 23 and Mar. 14; Lenwil, Feb. 23 and Mar. 15; and Woodlawn and Okaloosa, Feb. 24 and Mar. 16.

NOW ON ORDER — A new bookmobile, similar to the type shown above, which is in use by the LaSalle parish public library, is on order by the Ouachita parish public library and is expected to be delivered here in March. The new vehicle has a Gerstenslager body fitted over a Ford motor and chassis.

Phoenix Case

'Kidnaping With Assault Intent' Charges Planned

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 21—UP—Plans to file a charge of "kidnaping for assault," which carries a possible death sentence, for the brutal assault of seven-year-old Carla Hixon were outlined Saturday by Maricopa County Attorney William P. Mahoney, Jr.

Mahoney said he originally had planned to file the charge Saturday against Robert Vance Taylor, 33. But he said plans now call for the filing of the charge in Mesa justice court "early next week."

Taylor first was charged with kidnaping, which carries a possible penalty of one to 10 years in prison. He also was charged with aggravated assault and grand theft of a stolen car.

The new charge requires the death penalty or life imprisonment, with no possibility of parole.

The pretty, blue-eyed girl, still fighting for her life in the Mesa, Ariz., Southside hospital, continued to show improvement.

The child was abducted on her way home from school near Mesa on Tuesday. The next day, after one of the most intensive searches in Arizona history, she was found unconscious in a desert wash. Both of her eyes were blackened and she suffered an apparent fractured skull from having been beaten.

Police Continue Hunt For Slayer In Five States

PRINCETON, Ind., Jan. 21—UP—Police and FBI agents in at least five midwestern states searched Saturday for convicted "Chinese execution" killer Irvin.

Nervous citizens from such widely-separated points as Chicago, Lima, Ohio, and Springhill, Mo., "identified" Irvin, who escaped from jail here Thursday.

Irvin, waiting electrocution in June for murder, had been accused of slaying six persons in all. His favorite method was to shoot his victims while their hands were tied behind them.

Life here began to return to normal but witnesses and officials who helped convict Irvin remained under guard.

There appeared to be several theories as to Irvin's path after he escaped from the Gibson county jail here.

One would indicate that he traveled almost due west. That would account for his being "seen" by a gas station attendant at Marion, Ill., by a waitress at St. Louis, Mo., and by a motorist at Springfield, Mo. Those three cities are roughly due west from here.

Pope To Bless Monaco Wedding Of Prince, Kelly

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Jan. 21—UP—Pope Pius XII has promised to bless the marriage of Prince Rainier of Monaco and American screen star Grace Kelly, it was announced here Saturday.

A palace announcement said the Pope had sent a telegram to the prince in reply to a message from Rainier informing him of the engagement.

Teen-Aged Wife Stabs Husband

HAMMOND, Ind., Jan. 21—UP—A blonde teen-age wife stabbed her estranged airman husband with a pocketknife early Saturday, their first wedding anniversary.

Police said Mrs. Shirley Wescott, 17, admitted stabbing her husband, Raymond, 18, after he slapped her several times when he found her in a parked auto with another man.

Wescott was rushed to St. Margaret's Hospital where attendants said later he was in "good" condition.

The young wife, who said she and her husband were married a year ago, told police she had obtained a court order several weeks ago to prevent her husband from bothering her.

Johnson Backs Improvements For Federal Workers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 —UP— Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) of the Senate Civil Service committee, said Saturday night that he will press for passage of a six-point program to better the lot of federal workers.

He addressed the American Federation of Government Employes (AFL-CIO) at a dinner observing National Civil Service Week. President Eisenhower sent a message of greetings in which he said "we can all be proud of the progress that has been made to improve and strengthen our Civil Service over the past two years."

Johnston, in reference to his recent investigation of the Federal Worker Security Program, said the inquiry "had resulted in clearing the air by sweeping away the smoke screen of political intrigue and confusion deliberately created by the Eisenhower administration."

His committee looked into charges the administration had played a "numbers" game in misrepresenting the number of security risk firings since the Republicans took office.

Johnston also said he was "unalterably opposed to any type of job clearance from either political party for positions below the policy level." The administration is currently removing certain jobs from Civil Service protection.

Johnston's legislative program calls for a new retirement bill, low cost health insurance, safeguards against unjustified salary cuts and downgrading, longevity increases for wage board employes, better labor-management relationships, and reorganization of the Civil Service commission.

Waiter Charged With Evasion Of Federal Taxes

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—UP— The federal government charged a former headwaiter at the famed Waldorf Astoria hotel with failure to pay income taxes on $67,070 in tips he received over a four-year period.

Hans Paul, 63, now retired, paid taxes on his $3,000-a-year salary, the government said, and even reported part of his tips. But the government charged that Paul only reported about half his income, which ran as high as $39,000 a year.

Governor Long's Clean Sweep

Former Governor Earl K. Long, who in advance of Tuesday's statewide Democratic primary was conceded to be a strong candidate, made a clean sweep against his four opponents, polling a little more than half of the total vote.

Most of his ticket went into the victory column along with him.

The Morning World supported the Morrison-Barham ticket, editorially speaking. In its news columns it gave fair and impartial coverage of all candidates and their activities.

The incoming governor, Mr. Long, has been given a vote of confidence by the people of Louisiana. The Morning World extends congratulations to him and those associated with him in his new tenure, his third term as governor of the State.

This newspaper expects to back the incoming governor in all policies and measures that to us seem forward-looking and in the public interest; and to oppose him in any policies and measures that would appear to us as detrimental or contrary to public interest.

In this, the Morning World merely runs true to form. We as a newspaper, to cite an instance, have been friendly in general toward the administration of Governor Robert Kennon, under which Louisiana has made great progress; yet we have not hesitated to take sharp issue with Governor Kennon when, in our belief, he espoused programs that were ill-advised and unsound.

Governor Long has a brilliant opportunity to round out a distinguished career by making a notable record as the State's chief executive during the next four years. He is a political realist, and therefore understands thoroughly that in order to make a success of his new administration he must have the support not only of his backers at the polls but also of citizens who opposed him in the election—the support of the people generally.

Conversely, all who voted for other candidates owe a duty to support the incoming administration in all things that are good. Ours is a Democratic form of Government, and the people are sovereigns at the ballot box; and when the election is over and the smoke clears away, there is no proper place for hatred or animosity or ill will.

J. Edgar Hoover And The Negro Issue

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has accused a Mound Bayou leader of Mississippi Negros on the score that he voiced "false and irresponsible" charges against the FBI's handling of several Mississippi killings that apparently might have had a racial angle.

He addressed a letter to Dr. T. R. M. Howard of Mound Bayou, Miss., the only all-Negro community in the South, president of the Negro Regional Council of Negro Leadership, which said:

"I do not propose to permit false charges made against this bureau to go unchallenged."

Howard had said: "We must find out why Southern investigators of the FBI can't seem to solve a crime where a Negro is involved."

Mr. Hoover pointed out that the jurisdiction of the FBI is confined in all such cases to a violation of civil rights; and that a full and impartial investigation revealed that these were not involved, as directed by the Department of Justice.

Howard and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People claim that there have been three or four killings in the South on a basis of racial discrimination.

There have been many killings and rapes in the South, in recent months, perpetrated by Negroes, against the White race, quite a few in Louisiana; and in no instance has a racial question been injected or involved.

We in Louisiana, merely by quoting the factual records and inflaming the people, could incite bitterness and bloodshed and perhaps mob violence—if we wanted to dramatize antidotes to such examples as the so-called Till case.

The scoundrelly reporting of Southern events by the Northern press, depraved and sensational, dirty and unfair, filled with the old Abolitionist spirit that never dies, is inspired from such horrible ghettos as Harlem in New York City, where Negroes live like dogs and are denied all rights of friendship and amity with the white race, in horrible squalor and pitiful servitude, that never comes to the attention of these Northern agitators.

The beastly conditions of Harlem are repeated in Detroit and Milwaukee and Chicago, the latter a disgrace to civilization insofar as Negro living is concerned.

Nowhere in the North or Middle West is the Negro accepted as a human being—nowhere is he integrated, in actual fact.

Here we have a vast fraud, perpetrated by a sanctimonious North and Middle West—that professes equality with the Negro yet has hired fewer Negro school teachers, in toto, than the state of Alabama, and would let a Negro starve in the ditch without lending a helping hand.

Yet with vindictive courage born of guilt, these same commonwealths that sparked the War Between the States are agitating against the South; and their motive apparently is the vast Negro bloc vote which provides a balance of power in close elections; and they are willing to crucify the South and push on a new Civil War, or a new Reconstruction and Carpetbag regime; and they want to tell us again at bayonet point and perhaps under martial law how we of the South should conduct our ancient culture—that is, to integrate the Negroes—which they, in fact have never done.

Death Of A Community Leader

Death has taken a heavy toll recently among civic and business pioneers of the Twin Cities area.

A few days ago, a heart attack claimed the life of Julius B. Kugler, 63, a native of Baton Rouge, and a resident of Monroe since his boyhood; a man who by reason of unselfish devotion to his community, a warm heart, and a rare capacity to make and hold friends, had won the affection and esteem of people far and wide.

Mr. Kugler was an executive and half-owner of the Monroe Steam Laundry. He was a nephew of Mrs. G. B. Cooley, member of a highly prominent pioneer family, who died a few months ago.

He was a member of the American Legion, having served in the original Company D of the Louisiana National Guard, inducted into federal combat service in World War I; and of Grace Episcopal Church; the Lotus Club, the Kiwanis, and other organizations devoted to community welfare.

A lover of music, Mr. Kugler was a board member and enthusiastic backer of the Community Concert of the Twin Cities, a great organization spreading cultural values among the people.

He was the sort of man who, passing down the street, met few strangers but many acquaintances and close friends; and out of the boundless charity of his heart gave to his beloved community energy and kindness in full measure heaped over.

His death is a distinct loss to the community; but the rich example of his life should provide an inspiration to the younger generation.

Long's Predictions

Seymour, Ind.

Editor, Morning World:

I'm sending this message to Governor - elect Hon. Earl Long: "Dear Governor: I heard your last broadcast, when you were so hoarse you could hardly talk. I heard what you said about your opponents. Your predictions came true. I was for you then; I am for you now.

"I am now making a prediction of my own: You will have a most successful administration and the people of Louisiana will never regret their choice."

Longs Off To The Races Again

Pioneer, La.

Editor, Morning World:

On Tuesday, January 17, 1956, I read an article in your paper written by Mr. H. A. Mulligan and in this article he aired Louisiana election frauds. He stated one in particular, Kennon's race against Russel Long for senator in 1948 was of the foulest odor. He went on to state that with voting machines, things would be different from now on in Louisiana. As I interpreted his article, the "Longs and power grabs" were things of the past.

I would like to say to all of us "literates registering as illiterates" found out a way to out-smart them infernal machines and the Longs are off to the races again.

The Anti-Longs

Tallulah, La.

Editor, Morning World:

We, the anti - Longs, are a smart group if you call cutting our own throats smart.

Mayor Morrison is to be commended on a clean and aggressive campaign but I am sorry to say "Not so" with his running mate and the other candidates. It was terrible to sit before TV and see and hear them tear each other apart. For example, one candidate several years ago was part owner of a hotel that had a slot machine in it. Another candidate did not vote his aggregation right and on and on. But the Longites sat back and thoroughly enjoyed seeing us do just what they would not let Earl do—rant over TV. Consequently, we find ourselves right where we were 4 years ago. Gamblers and whisky men are in again and from the caliber of governor Mississippi has just inaugurated, their gamblers and whisky men are going to run to our side of the river. The slot machines, operating under the name of the American Legion, will come out of hiding and the ineligible oldsters will be on the taxpayers again.

Through our own fault, this condition has returned. Now, if we will just promise the Good Lord if he will help us again through the next four years, we will do our best to stick and pull together and get a leader who will stand strictly on his own merits.

LOUISIANA CITIZEN

Candidates Unqualified

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Being only 17 years old, this is the first time that I have really taken an interest in the election of governor, and may I say that I am strictly disgusted with my discovery of politics. I am not old enough to vote, but if I were, I do not believe that I could go to the polls and vote for a man who has not matured enough to respect his fellow opponent. I have listened to some political speeches on the radio and on television and I have read political articles in the paper, and I can truthfully say that I have never heard or read anything so childish in all my 17 years. These five men, instead of trying to win the election by showing how qualified they are for the office, are trying to win by showing the public how terrible their opponents are. This alone shows how unqualified our candidates for governor are.

I, myself, would like to hear a few good points about one of these men instead of so many bad points about all of them. Also, I do not think that a man who will in his political speech, call someone a liar, and then turn right around and end his speech with "May God bless you," belongs in a public office. This is strictly hypocrisy in my eyes.

Again I say that if I were old enough to vote, I would not have enough respect for any one of these "so - called men" running for Louisiana governor, to cast my vote for him.

DISGUSTED WITH POLITICS

TV Profanity

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Saturday night I listened to the Ford Jubilee program, which was supposed to be one of our better television programs. During the program I heard the word "a—" used by the leading actor. When I heard this word used the first time I told myself my ears were playing tricks on me, but as the play went on it was repeated and I also heard the word "h—" used.

I don't know what to say, but after many of my neighbors and friends mentioned this program to me, I decided if in any way I could help stop this type program I would certainly try.

I can understand how a person could lose his temper and utter a curse word, even though I hate to see this happen in front of children. But I am at a loss to see why any writer could put such words into any program to be shown before children.

I hope by the time you receive this letter, you will have received many other letters concerning this matter.

What's going on in the United States that a person can't express an opinion without being called ugly names? If I state that "The Negro race never achieved on their own a culture as highly advanced as other non - white races," I'm immediately branded as a racist, bigoted, prejudiced, etc. If I attack the activities of the NAACP or any other organization representing a minority group, I'm accused of being anti-Negro, anti-minorities, etc. If I criticize the despotic or racketeering activities of a certain labor union, I'm tagged as a reactionary, an enemy of the "little man," etc. The fact that I may be a member of a minority group or a "little man" who does not like the way those organizations operate is completely ignored. Where's the so - called freedom of speech? Can't a person express his opinions any more without being castigated, insulted, vilified, etc?

The Woman From Oregon

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I read every Public Forum letter that interests me and for sometime now I have been very much interested in letters you print written by two gentlemen whom I believe to be highly educated. One in particular from our sister city of Bastrop, La., and the other in Ruston.

Mr. B. N. Morgan states he was raised in "Good Old" Mississippi and so were we, my husband and I. Also, other members of my family. I deeply agree with Mr. Morgan in regard to the Mississippians and strongly resent the remarks that are thrown at us for the way they live and about their ignorance. I wish I had time to repeat a talk by a young lady about our sister state so far as blue laws and the treatment of our colored people. Also the way they lived. I can say right here and now, the colored people are all loved and respected unless they get out of line and they were not tied up by the thumbs and whipped.

This woman, who came south from Oregon and questioned these people as to how they were treated in Jackson, Mississippi, I surely would like to know if our big hotels there rolled out the red carpet for her entrance. I have known two Mississippi governors personally and since I can remember, my father was a staunch Democrat, and a brother lived, worked and died in the Library of the Navy Department.

If the NAACP participants could be made to understand that they are not welcome in this part of our country, would stay home and attend to their own affairs, I believe they would learn it pays dividends.

Government Control Over Natural Gas Production

Cleveland, Ohio

Editor, Morning World:

A solid body blow has been dealt to America's system of free competition as a result of the federal government's effort to regulate 8,000 independent producers of natural gas. For the first time in our country's peacetime history, the government has stepped in and attempted to establish price controls over a basic commodity at its point of production.

If a government bureau can decide what price the producer is to receive for gas coming out of a well in the southwest, then how long before other government agencies try to set prices for the coal mined in West Virginia, for the wheat grown in Nebraska, or iron ore in Minnesota mines?

Most Americans, we are convinced, don't favor regimentation and they would be astonished if they realized how far they have been led down the road by those who believe that the average citizen is better off under a government - regulated economy.

The exponents of controls have made a special target of the gas production industry during its recent period of rapid expansion. Today natural gas supplies 25 per cent of the country's fuel requirements and is used as a raw material in many industrial processes. Because the transmission and distribution branches of the industry are regulated — in exchange for exclusive franchises — control advocates also urge that the production of gas be regulated.

The excuse given for this invasion of our traditional economic system is that otherwise the consumer is going to be "gouged" by the producer. Exponents of regulation claim that without controls, the consumer's gas bill would increase by 800 million dollars. The facts are that the total the consumers ever paid the producer for gas in any one year was less than one quarter of this amount. It seems rather silly to believe that removal of controls would result in gas prices being five times as great — particularly in view of the long - term contracts which are in effect between producers and the pipeline companies.

It is also noteworthy that in the 16 years before controls were placed over the producer, the average price of gas to the householder went up only seven per cent, while during the same period the cost of living increased 90 per cent.

This latest experiment in spreading government controls has had the natural gas industry in a state of turmoil for 18 months. Some producers have already quit this risky business (rather than take a chance on what rewards they might receive from a government bureau even if they were lucky enough to beat the odds, which are notoriously long). Others are experiencing difficulty in obtaining financial assistance for drilling purposes now that the government is attempting to set up artificial price ceilings on gas as it comes from the ground. Still others have curtailed their activities while awaiting the results of involved legal action. One consequence of these developments was that new gas well discoveries and completions declined by 15 per cent in 1955 from the previous year.

What does all this mean from the consumer's standpoint? First, it points up the fact that there is no longer an assurance that the industry will find sufficient new reserves to provide an adequate future supply of gas. If a shortage does develop, gas prices will doubtless increase, despite controls over the producers.

Of even greater importance, government - established price control over natural gas production means that no segment of our economic system is safe from federal price regulation.

The Moonshiner

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the editorial, "Growing Moonshine Industry," appearing in the Jan. 20th edition of the Monroe Morning World. It is seldom that this deplorable situation is spoken of editorially, and therefore few people outside the legal liquor industry (and the Treasury department) realize the dangerous situation that the exorbitant tax on liquor is creating.

Besides the $10.50 per gallon federal tax there is also $1.58 state tax, state sales tax (even on the tax) license fees and other smaller hidden taxes. All this excessive tax might be easier to understand to look at it as it concerns, for instance a half pint of gin which retails for about $1.25. The cost of this gin from the wholesale house is $1.02, the federal and state excise tax is 72 cents; this leaves only 30 cents from which the wholesaler must have a profit and then the balance goes to the distiller for manufacturing cost and profit.

From this it is easy to see that the unsanitary moonshiner could sell his "hooch" at less than the tax in legal liquor and still make a good profit. Also the moonshiner does not pay a license fee and is not restricted in other ways; he would sell a teen-ager just as he would a grown person.

The growing menace, and the accompanying evils, of moonshining is illustrated by some figures I have available. These figures show that in November of 1955, the ATTD agents seized 1024 stills, and in November 1939 they seized 885 stills. This is an increase of approximately 15.7 per cent. Also there were about twice as many ATTD agents in 1939 as it is today, however, the tax on liquor was much less in 1939.

This unhealthy situation should be considered seriously and conscientiously by every senator and congressman in the country. Congress could help relieve this dangerous condition by either reducing the tax or at least let expire "temporary taxes" as was promised at the time they were voted, or they could help by appropriating more funds to hire more ATTD agents to catch more moonshiners.

It is through good fair minded papers like yours that this bad situation can be brought before the public, who will eventually demand Congress to act on this matter.

Again I wish to express my thanks to you and your fine paper.

The Right To Work Law Expressed In Dialogue

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The following is the attitude of the NAM and some members of the Chamber of Commerce as expressed by one of the enlightened members of both groups: Nov. 7, 1946, the president of Leve Brothers, Mr. Charles Luckman described the attitude of employers in general, but what he said is perhaps the best summary of the NAM.

"We got the reputation we have because by and large, we earned it. How? Well, we declared war on collective bargaining. We actually opposed increased taxes for education. We fought health and safety ordinances. The record proves that we battled child labor legislation. We yipped and yowled against minimum wage laws. We struggled against unemployment insurance. We decried social security, and currently we are kicking the 'stuffing' out of legislative proposals to provide universal sickness and accident insurance."

Where on the record is there a single example to show that big business ever initiated a legislative program of benefits for the workers? Is it not clear that they have always waited until they were asked or forced to do something.

The above mentioned group that Mr. Luckman spoke to is the same group that go over the country sponsoring the open shop or "right to work laws. These laws are the same laws that farmers and city workers combined to outlaw forty or fifty years ago. It is no credit to the farmers that since the farmers organization has been taken over by other than farmers that they were used to sponsor this kind of wrong or sinful legislation.

This "right to work" law or open shop law is best expressed by the following dialogue written by Finley Peter Dunne, of the famous Mr. Dooley:

"What's all this in the papers about the open shop?" asked Mr. Hennessey.

"Why don't ye know? said Mr. Dooley. "Really I'm surprised at yer ignorance, Hinnissiy. What is the open shop? Sure 'tis whear they kape the doors open to accommodate th' constant stream of min comin' t' take jobs cheaper than the min that has th' jobs. 'Tis like this Hinnissiy: Suppose wan of these freeborn citizens is working in an open shop f'r the princely wage of wan large iron dollar a day of tin hours. Along comes anither son-ov-a-gun and he sez t' th' boss, oi think oi could handle th job nicely for 90 cents."

"Sure, sez th' boss an' th' wan dollar man gets out into th 'crool worould t' exercise his inalienable roights as a freeborn American citizen an' scabs on some other poorstrive to destroy every principle devil. An' so it goes on, Hinnissiy. An' who gits th' benefit? True, it saves the boss money, but he don't care no more f'r money thin he does f'r his right eye.

"It's all principle wid him. He hates t' see min robbed of their indipindence, regardless of anything else."

"But," said Mr. Hennessy, "these open shop min ye menshun say they are f'r unions if properly conducted."

'Sure," said Mr. Dooley, if properly conducted. An' there we are; an' how would they have thim conducted? No strikes, no rules, no contracts, no pay scales, hardly iny wages an' darn few membees."

Socialism Is A Product Of Anarchy

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It is really interesting to study the origin, formation, and foundation of various political doctrines. All political theories are based on some form and ritual of religion deemed to be sanctions of Divine privileges not prohibited by the "Ten Commandments"; except Anarchy, which is the foundation of socialism and communism; the rituals of which, are in strict violation of the commandments, "Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt do no murder. What is thy neighbor's, do not covet."

I will omit discussion of autocratic and aristocratic despotism under the guise of Divine sanction, and begin with the birth of our beloved "Democracy". At Runnymede England, on the fifteenth day of June 1215, Democracy was born; when King John was forced to observe the rights and privileges of his subjects, and acknowledge that government was not for the Ruler alone, but for the people. Also in the thirteenth century, Parliamentary powers came into existence as a representative of the people.

From 1215 to 1803, the management of governmental affairs remained in the hands of aristocrats, for the reason that during that period, they were the only educated men who were capable of managing governmental affairs; but with the advent of Jeffersonian Democracy in 1803, equal rights were given to all citizens alike, both rich and poor. Everybody has the right to work and own all that they can honestly earn, and have the protection of the law against molestation. Educational facilities have been improved until the children of the most humble families, have the opportunity to build themselves up and perhaps, some day, become president of the United States. Remember Abe Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, and Andrew Jackson. Now lets take a look at socialism and communism.

Socialism and communism are the product of Anarchy founded by Mikhail Bakunin, centuries ago. They are opposed to every form of politically organized government. They are opposed to men owning anything without the consent of the government. They propose to seize by force, the property of others and confiscate it, and distribute it among thieves, cut-throats, robbers, and murderers; who are too artless to manage, and lazy to work and earn an honest living. To prove this is so, I will quote a paragraph from a book, written by the leader of the Communist Party, titled, "Negro people in America History". i,e, "Although the national liberation movement does not, as such, fight for socialism, it is pretty safe to conclude that when it comes to the breaking up of the big southern plantations, to the free distribution of the land to the Negroes and poor whites, and to the establishment of a Negroe' 'people's right to self-determination, these basic demands can be won only by a Negro-white coalition movement which has either established a people's front government, or a people's Democracy, or at least, is developing a definite orientation toward socialism".

In the foregoing quotation, the "author" let the cat out of the wallet, and exposed what their objective and goal is, and how they expect to reach it. It is definite proof that socialists and Communists are organized bands of outlaws who prey upon civilization and and virtue in religion and law. Socialism and communism appeals favorably to the under-world, because it promises so much for nothing. They have been actively operating in our midst for a long time, robbing banks, business places, and people throughout the country.

Billions For Blackmail

The Arabs, the Indians, the Brazilians and the Yugoslavs are telling us to pay up or else.

Or else they'll make a deal with the reds.

So President Eisenhower asks not only vastly increased foreign aid; but that the international handout be continued for the next ten years! He says we dare not lose our allies.

And this fear is supposed to justify the fact that 64 per cent of his entire budget is lumped under the heading of "National Security." This includes foreign aid.

The U. S. Delegation to the UN has sold President Eisenhower the idea that "We are in a contest (with the Soviets) in the field of economic development of underdeveloped countries which is bitterly competitive."

What is Russia doing that justifies our foreign aid extravagance at the cost of a tax cut for our own people?

Well, Russia has supplied arms to Egypt and offered to help them finance a dam on the Nile at Aswan. Russia has offered to loan some money to India for industrial facilities. Russia has made some gestures in the direction of Burma and Afghanistan. And that is it.

That is all.

Russia offered "technical assistance" to South American countries which ask for it.

Russia is prepared to "lead" these neighbors . . . not to support them.

So because of this modest—and yet unrealized—effort from Moscow, we are asked to increase both the appropriations and the actual spending for foreign aid this next fiscal year.

4.3 billion dollars! An increase of 100 million over this year!

That'll be fifty billion dollars we've sent to other countries just since Big War II.

We pretend that we are not bidding against the Russians. That we are only doing our charitable duty toward the underprivileged of other lands.

Our hypocrisy would be farcical if it were not so frightening.

The other day the United States had decided to withhold ten million dollars earmarked for India. But as soon as Moscow's bosses dropped a few promises around New Delhi, we restored the ten million.

When the Soviets showed an interest in the Egyptian dam, we proffered the principal.

Moscow can keep us bailing ourselves out all over the world without coughing up one ruble from the Kremlin's coffers.

Now the administration asks for a ten year commitment . . . in advance . . . to governments which might go Communist within the next ten months.

And even more inimical to our own interests, we are helping such "underprivileged" countries as Communist Yugoslavia to develop their atom industry.

Even though Tito is frankly back in the Kremlin fold.

We have spent fifty billion dollars trying to buy friends these past ten years and we have been losing them, a hundred million a year.

And while we figure out more ways to spend ourselves weak, Russia announces a new five year plan for making herself strong.

You figure out who's going to pick up the marbles when this race is over.

Facts Worth Knowing

Iceland's capital, Reykjavik, is 1,700 miles closer to the North Pole than is New York City, says the National Geographic Society. Yet Reykjavik has an average January temperature only one degree lower than that of the United States metropolis, thanks to the warming influence of the Gulf Stream. If Rockefeller Plaza were moved to Reykjavik, its skating rink would still require artificial freezing.

Fishermen along the coast of Brazil go to sea on peeled-log rafts called jangadas. Centerboard, sail and steering oar complete the craft's primitive design.

Governor Long's Clean Sweep

Former Governor Earl K. Long, who in advance of Tuesday's statewide Democratic primary was conceded to be a strong candidate, made a clean sweep against his four opponents, polling a little more than half of the total vote.

Most of his ticket went into the victory column along with him.

The Morning World supported the Morrison-Barham ticket, editorially speaking. In its news columns it gave fair and impartial coverage of all candidates and their activities.

The incoming governor, Mr. Long, has been given a vote of confidence by the people of Louisiana. The Morning World extends congratulations to him and those associated with him in his new tenure, his third term as governor of the State.

This newspaper expects to back the incoming governor in all policies and measures that to us seem forward-looking and in the public interest; and to oppose him in any policies and measures that would appear to us as detrimental or contrary to public interest.

In this, the Morning World merely runs true to form. We as a newspaper, to cite an instance, have been friendly in general toward the administration of Governor Robert Kennon, under which Louisiana has made great progress; yet we have not hesitated to take sharp issue with Governor Kennon when, in our belief, he espoused programs that were ill-advised and unsound.

Governor Long has a brilliant opportunity to round out a distinguished career by making a notable record as the State's chief executive during the next four years. He is a political realist, and therefore understands thoroughly that in order to make a success of his new administration he must have the support not only of his backers at the polls but also of citizens who opposed him in the election—the support of the people generally.

Conversely, all who voted for other candidates owe a duty to support the incoming administration in all things that are good. Ours is a Democratic form of Government, and the people are sovereigns at the ballot box; and when the election is over and the smoke clears away, there is no proper place for hatred or animosity or ill will.

J. Edgar Hoover And The Negro Issue

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has accused a Mound Bayou leader of Mississippi Negros on the score that he voiced "false and irresponsible" charges against the FBI's handling of several Mississippi killings that apparently might have had a racial angle.

He addressed a letter to Dr. T. R. M. Howard of Mound Bayou, Miss., the only all-Negro community in the South, president of the Negro Regional Council of Negro Leadership, which said:

"I do not propose to permit false charges made against this bureau to go unchallenged."

Howard had said: "We must find out why Southern investigators of the FBI can't seem to solve a crime where a Negro is involved."

Mr. Hoover pointed out that the jurisdiction of the FBI is confined in all such cases to a violation of civil rights; and that a full and impartial investigation revealed that these were not involved, as directed by the Department of Justice.

Howard and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People claim that there have been three or four killings in the South on a basis of racial discrimination.

There have been many killings and rapes in the South, in recent months, perpetrated by Negroes, against the White race, quite a few in Louisiana; and in no instance has a racial question been injected or involved.

We in Louisiana, merely by quoting the factual records and inflaming the people, could incite bitterness and bloodshed and perhaps mob violence—if we wanted to dramatize antidotes to such examples as the so-called Till case.

The scoundrelly reporting of Southern events by the Northern press, depraved and sensational, dirty and unfair, filled with the old Abolitionist spirit that never dies, is inspired from such horrible ghettos as Harlem in New York City, where Negroes live like dogs and are denied all rights of friendship and amity with the white race, in horrible squalor and pitiful servitude, that never comes to the attention of these Northern agitators.

The beastly conditions of Harlem are repeated in Detroit and Milwaukee and Chicago, the latter a disgrace to civilization insofar as Negro living is concerned.

Nowhere in the North or Middle West is the Negro accepted as a human being—nowhere is he integrated, in actual fact.

Here we have a vast fraud, perpetrated by a sanctimonious North and Middle West—that professes equality with the Negro yet has hired fewer Negro school teachers, in toto, than the state of Alabama, and would let a Negro starve in the ditch without lending a helping hand.

Yet with vindictive courage born of guilt, these same commonwealths that sparked the War Between the States are agitating against the South; and their motive apparently is the vast Negro bloc vote which provides a balance of power in close elections; and they are willing to crucify the South and push on a new Civil War, or a new Reconstruction and Carpetbag regime; and they want to tell us again at bayonet point and perhaps under martial law how we of the South should conduct our ancient culture—that is, to integrate the Negroes—which they, in fact have never done.

Death Of A Community Leader

Death has taken a heavy toll recently among civic and business pioneers of the Twin Cities area.

A few days ago, a heart attack claimed the life of Julius B. Kugler, 63, a native of Baton Rouge, and a resident of Monroe since his boyhood; a man who by reason of unselfish devotion to his community, a warm heart, and a rare capacity to make and hold friends, had won the affection and esteem of people far and wide.

Mr. Kugler was an executive and half-owner of the Monroe Steam Laundry. He was a nephew of Mrs. G. B. Cooley, member of a highly prominent pioneer family, who died a few months ago.

He was a member of the American Legion, having served in the original Company D of the Louisiana National Guard, inducted into federal combat service in World War I; and of Grace Episcopal Church; the Lotus Club, the Kiwanis, and other organizations devoted to community welfare.

A lover of music, Mr. Kugler was a board member and enthusiastic backer of the Community Concert of the Twin Cities, a great organization spreading cultural values among the people.

He was the sort of man who, passing down the street, met few strangers but many acquaintances and close friends; and out of the boundless charity of his heart gave to his beloved community energy and kindness in full measure heaped over.

His death is a distinct loss to the community; but the rich example of his life should provide an inspiration to the younger generation.

I'm sending this message to Governor - elect Hon. Earl Long: "Dear Governor: I heard your last broadcast, when you were so hoarse you could hardly talk. I heard what you said about your opponents. Your predictions came true. I was for you then; I am for you now.

"I am now making a prediction of my own: You will have a most successful administration and the people of Louisiana will never regret their choice."

Longs Off To The Races Again

Pioneer, La.

Editor, Morning World:

On Tuesday, January 17, 1956, I read an article in your paper written by Mr. H. A. Mulligan and in this article he aired Louisiana election frauds. He stated one in particular, Kennon's race against Russel Long for senator in 1948 was of the foulest odor. He went on to state that with voting machines, things would be different from now on in Louisiana. As I interpreted his article, the "Longs and power grabs" were things of the past.

I would like to say to all of us "literates registering as illiterates" found out a way to out-smart them infernal machines and the Longs are off to the races again.

The Anti-Longs

Tallulah, La.

Editor, Morning World:

We, the anti - Longs, are a smart group if you call cutting our own throats smart.

Mayor Morrison is to be commended on a clean and aggressive campaign but I am sorry to say "Not so" with his running mate and the other candidates. It was terrible to sit before TV and see and hear them tear each other apart. For example, one candidate several years ago was part owner of a hotel that had a slot machine in it. Another candidate did not vote his aggregation right and on and on. But the Longites sat back and thoroughly enjoyed seeing us do just what they would not let Earl do—rant over TV. Consequently, we find ourselves right where we were 4 years ago. Gamblers and whisky men are in again and from the caliber of governor Mississippi has just inaugurated, their gamblers and whisky men are going to run to our side of the river. The slot machines, operating under the name of the American Legion, will come out of hiding and the ineligible oldsters will be on the taxpayers again.

Through our own fault, this condition has returned. Now, if we will just promise the Good Lord if he will help us again through the next four years, we will do our best to stick and pull together and get a leader who will stand strictly on his own merits.

Candidates Unqualified

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Being only 17 years old, this is the first time that I have really taken an interest in the election of governor, and may I say that I am strictly disgusted with my discovery of politics. I am not old enough to vote, but if I were, I do not believe that I could go to the polls and vote for a man who has not matured enough to respect his fellow opponent. I have listened to some political speeches on the radio and on television and I have read political articles in the paper, and I can truthfully say that I have never heard or read anything so childish in all my 17 years. These five men, instead of trying to win the election by showing how qualified they are for the office, are trying to win by showing the public how terrible their opponents are. This alone shows how unqualified our candidates for governor are.

I, myself, would like to hear a few good points about one of these men instead of so many bad points about all of them. Also, I do not think that a man who will in his political speech, call someone a liar, and then turn right around and end his speech with "May God bless you," belongs in a public office. This is strictly hypocrisy in my eyes.

Again I say that if I were old enough to vote, I would not have enough respect for any one of these "so - called men" running for Louisiana governor, to cast my vote for him.

DISGUSTED WITH POLITICS

TV Profanity

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Saturday night I listened to the Ford Jubilee program, which was supposed to be one of our better television programs. During the program I heard the word "a—" used by the leading actor. When I heard this word used the first time I told myself my ears were playing tricks on me, but as the play went on it was repeated and I also heard the word "h—" used.

I don't know what to say, but after many of my neighbors and friends mentioned this program to me, I decided if in any way I could help stop this type program I would certainly try.

I can understand how a person could lose his temper and utter a curse word, even though I hate to see this happen in front of children. But I am at a loss to see why any writer could put such words into any program to be shown before children.

I hope by the time you receive this letter, you will have received many other letters concerning this matter.

What's going on in the United States that a person can't express an opinion without being called ugly names? If I state that "The Negro race never achieved on their own a culture as highly advanced as other non - white races," I'm immediately branded as a racist, bigoted, prejudiced, etc. If I attack the activities of the NAACP or any other organization representing a minority group, I'm accused of being anti-Negro, anti-minorities, etc. If I criticize the despotic or racketeering activities of a certain labor union, I'm tagged as a reactionary, an enemy of the "little man," etc. The fact that I may be a member of a minority group or a "little man" who does not like the way those organizations operate is completely ignored. Where's the so - called freedom of speech? Can't a person express his opinions any more without being castigated, insulted, vilified, etc?

Editor, Morning World:

I read every Public Forum letter that interests me and for sometime now I have been very much interested in letters you print written by two gentlemen whom I believe to be highly educated. One in particular from our sister city of Bastrop, La.. and the other in Ruston.

Mr. B. N. Morgan states he was raised in "Good Old" Mississippi and so were we, my husband and I. Also, other members of my family. I deeply agree with Mr. Morgan in regard to the Mississippians and strongly resent the remarks that are thrown at us for the way they live and about their ignorance. I wish I had time to repeat a talk by a young lady about our sister state so far as blue laws and the treatment of our colored people. Also the way they lived. I can say right here and now, the colored people are all loved and respected unless they get out of line and they were not tied up by the thumbs and whipped.

This woman, who came south from Oregon and questioned these people as to how they were treated in Jackson, Mississippi, I surely would like to know if our big hotels there rolled out the red carpet for her entrance. I have known two Mississippi governors personally and since I can remember, my father was a staunch Democrat, and a brother lived, worked and died in the Library of the Navy Department.

If the NAACP participants could be made to understand that they are not welcome in this part of our country, would stay home and attend to their own affairs, I believe they would learn it pays dividends.

Government Control Over Natural Gas Production

Cleveland, Ohio

Editor, Morning World:

A solid body blow has been dealt to America's system of free competition as a result of the federal government's effort to regulate 8,000 independent producers of natural gas. For the first time in our country's peacetime history, the government has stepped in and attempted to establish price controls over a basic commodity at its point of production.

If a government bureau can decide what price the producer is to receive for gas coming out of a well in the southwest, then how long before other government agencies try to set prices for the coal mined in West Virginia, for the wheat grown in Nebraska, or iron ore in Minnesota mines?

Most Americans, we are convinced, don't favor regimentation and they would be astonished if they realized how far they have been led down the road by those who believe that the average citizen is better off under a government - regulated economy.

The exponents of controls have made a special target of the gas production industry during its recent period of rapid expansion. Today natural gas supplies 25 per cent of the country's fuel requirements and is used as a raw material in many industrial processes. Because the transmission and distribution branches of the industry are regulated — in exchange for exclusive franchises — control advocates also urge that the production of gas be regulated.

The excuse given for this invasion of our traditional economic system is that otherwise the consumer is going to be "gouged" by the producer. Exponents of regulation claim that without controls, the consumer's gas bill would increase by 800 million dollars. The facts are that the total the consumers ever paid the producer for gas in any one year was less than one quarter of this amount. It seems rather silly to believe that removal of controls would result in gas prices being five times as great — particularly in view of the long - term contracts which are in effect between producers and the pipeline companies.

It is also noteworthy that in the 16 years before controls were placed over the producer, the average price of gas to the householder went up only seven per cent, while during the same period the cost of living increased 90 per cent.

This latest experiment in spreading government controls has had the natural gas industry in a state of turmoil for 18 months. Some producers have already quit this risky business (rather than take a chance on what rewards they might receive from a government bureau even if they were lucky enough to beat the odds, which are notoriously long). Others are experiencing difficulty in obtaining financial assistance for drilling purposes now that the government is attempting to set up artificial price ceilings on gas as it comes from the ground. Still others have curtailed their activities while awaiting the results of involved legal action. One consequence of these developments was that new gas well discoveries and completions declined by 15 per cent in 1955 from the previous year.

What does all this mean from the consumer's standpoint? First, it points up the fact that there is no longer an assurance that the industry will find sufficient new reserves to provide an adequate future supply of gas. If a shortage does develop, gas prices will doubtless increase, despite controls over the producers.

Of even greater importance, government - established price control over natural gas production means that no segment of our economic system is safe from federal price regulation.

The Moonshiner

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the editorial, "Growing Moonshine Industry," appearing in the Jan. 20th edition of the Monroe Morning World. It is seldom that this deplorable situation is spoken of editorially, and therefore few people outside the legal liquor industry (and the Treasury department) realize the dangerous situation that the exorbitant tax on liquor is creating.

Besides the $10.50 per gallon federal tax there is also $1.58 state tax, state sales tax (even on the tax) license fees and other smaller hidden taxes. All this excessive tax might be easier to understand to look at it as it concerns, for instance a half pint of gin which retails for about $1.25. The cost of this gin from the wholesale house is $1.02, the federal and state excise tax is 72 cents; this leaves only 30 cents from which the wholesaler must have a profit and then the balance goes to the distiller for manufacturing cost and profit.

From this it is easy to see that the unsanitary moonshiner could sell his "hooch" at less than the tax in legal liquor and still make a good profit. Also the moonshiner does not pay a license fee and is not restricted in other ways; he would sell a teen-ager just as he would a grown person.

The growing menace, and the accompanying evils, of moonshining is illustrated by some figures I have available. These figures show that in November of 1955, the ATTD agents seized 1024 stills, and in November 1939 they seized 885 stills. This is an increase of approximately 15.7 per cent. Also there were about twice as many ATTD agents in 1939 as it is today, however, the tax on liquor was much less in 1939.

This unhealthy situation should be considered seriously and conscientiously by every senator and congressman in the country. Congress could help relieve this dangerous condition by either reducing the tax or at least let expire "temporary taxes" as was promised at the time they were voted, or they could help by appropriating more funds to hire more ATTD agents to catch more moonshiners.

It is through good fair minded papers like yours that this bad situation can be brought before the public, who will eventually demand Congress to act on this matter.

Again I wish to express my thanks to you and your fine paper.

The Right To Work Law Expressed In Dialogue

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The following is the attitude of the NAM and some members of the Chamber of Commerce as expressed by one of the enlightened members of both groups: Nov. 7, 1946, the president of Leve Brothers, Mr. Charles Luckman described the attitude of employers in general, but what he said is perhaps the best summary of the NAM.

"We got the reputation we have because by and large, we earned it. How? Well, we declared war on collective bargaining. We actually opposed increased taxes for education. We fought health and safety ordinances. The record proves that we battled child labor legislation. We yipped and yowled against minimum wage laws. We struggled against unemployment insurance. We decried social security, and currently we are kicking the 'stuffing' out of legislative proposals to provide universal sickness and accident insurance."

Where on the record is there a single example to show that big business ever initiated a legislative program of benefits for the workers? Is it not clear that they have always waited until they were asked or forced to do something.

The above mentioned group that Mr. Luckman spoke to is the same group that go over the country sponsoring the open shop or "right to work laws. These laws are the same laws that farmers and city workers combined to outlaw forty or fifty years ago. It is no credit to the farmers that since the farmers organization has been taken over by other than farmers that they were used to sponsor this kind of wrong or sinful legislation.

This "right to work" law or open shop law is best expressed by the following dialogue written by Finley Peter Dunne, of the famous Mr. Dooley:

"What's all this in the papers about the open shop?" asked Mr. Hennessey.

"Why don't ye know? said Mr. Dooley. "Really I'm surprised at yer ignorance, Hinnissiy. What is the open shop? Sure 'tis whear they kape the doors open to accommodate th' constant stream of min comin' t' take jobs cheaper than the min that has th' jobs. 'Tis like this Hinnissiy: Suppose wan of these freeborn citizens is working in an open shop f'r the princely wage of wan large iron dollar a day of tin hours. Along comes anither son-ov-a-gun and he sez t' th' boss, oi think oi could handle th job nicely for 90 cents."

"Sure, sez th' boss an' th' wan dollar man gets out into th 'crool worould t' exercise his inalienable roights as a freeborn American citizen an' scabs on some other poorstrive to destroy every principle devil. An' so it goes on, Hinnissiy. An' who gits th' benefit? True, it saves the boss money, but he don't care no more f'r money thin he does f'r his right eye.

"It's all principle wid him. He hates t' see min robbed of their indipindence, regardless of anything else."

"But," said Mr. Hennessy, "these open shop min ye menshun say they are f'r unions if properly conducted."

'Sure," said Mr. Dooley, If properly conducted. An' there we are; an' how would they have thim conducted? No strikes, no rules, no contracts, no pay scales, hardly iny wages an' darn few membees."

Socialism Is A Product Of Anarchy

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It is really interesting to study the origin, formation, and foundation of various political doctrines. All political theories are based on some form and ritual of religion deemed to be sanctions of Divine privileges not prohibited by the "Ten Commandments"; except Anarchy, which is the foundation of socialism and communism; the rituals of which, are in strict violation of the commandments, "Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt do no murder. What is thy neighbor's, do not covet."

I will omit discussion of autocratic and aristocratic despotism under the guise of Divine sanction, and begin with the birth of our beloved "Democracy". At Runnymede England, on the fifteenth day of June 1215, Democracy was born; when King John was forced to observe the rights and privileges of his subjects, and acknowledge that government was not for the Ruler alone, but for the people. Also in the thirteenth century, Parliamentary powers came into existence as a representative of the people.

From 1215 to 1803, the management of governmental affairs remained in the hands of aristocrats, for the reason that during that period, they were the only educated men who were capable of managing governmental affairs; but with the advent of Jeffersonian Democracy in 1803, equal rights were given to all citizens alike, both rich and poor. Everybody has the right to work and own all that they can honestly earn, and have the protection of the law against molestation. Educational facilities have been improved until the children of the most humble families, have the opportunity to build themselves up and perhaps some day, become president of the United States. Remember Abe Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, and Andrew Jackson. Now lets take a look at socialism and communism.

Socialism and communism are the product of Anarchy founded by Mikhail Bakunin, centuries ago. They are opposed to every form of politically organized government. They are opposed to men owning anything without the consent of the government. They propose to seize by force, the property of others and confiscate it, and distribute it among thieves, cut-throats, robbers, and murderers; who are too artless to manage, and lazy to work and earn an honest living. To prove this is so, I will quote a paragraph from a book, written by the leader of the Communist Party, titled, "Negro people in America History", i.e. "Although the national liberation movement does not, as such, fight for socialism, it is pretty safe to conclude that when it comes to the breaking up of the big southern plantations, to the free distribution of the land to the Negroes and poor whites, and to the establishment of a Negroe' 'people's right to self-determination, these basic demands can be won only by a Negro-white coalition movement which has either established a people's front government, or a people's Democracy, or at least, is developing a definite orientation toward socialism".

In the foregoing quotation, the "author" let the cat out of the wallet, and exposed what their objective and goal is, and how they expect to reach it. It is definite proof that socialists and Communists are organized bands of outlaws who prey upon civilization and and virtue in religion and law. Socialism and communism appeals favorably to the under-world, because it promises so much for nothing. They have been actively operating in our midst for a long time, robbing banks, business places, and people throughout the country.

Billions For Blackmail

The Arabs, the Indians, the Brazilians and the Yugoslavs are telling us to pay up or else.

Or else they'll make a deal with the reds.

So President Eisenhower asks not only vastly increased foreign aid, but that the international handout be continued for the next ten years! He says we dare not lose our allies.

And this fear is supposed to justify the fact that 64 per cent of his entire budget is lumped under the heading of "National Security." This includes foreign aid.

The U. S. Delegation to the UN has sold President Eisenhower the idea that "We are in a contest (with the Soviets) in the field of economic development of underdeveloped countries which is bitterly competitive."

What is Russia doing that justifies our foreign aid extravagance at the cost of a tax cut for our own people?

Well, Russia has supplied arms to Egypt and offered to help them finance a dam on the Nile at Aswan. Russia has offered to loan some money to India for industrial facilities. Russia has made some gestures in the direction of Burma and Afghanistan. And that is it.

That is all.

Russia offered "technical assistance" to South American countries which ask for it.

Russia is prepared to "lead" these neighbors . . . not to support them.

So because of this modest—and yet unrealized—effort from Moscow, we are asked to increase both the appropriations and the actual spending for foreign aid this next fiscal year.

4.3 billion dollars! An increase of 100 million over this year!

That'll be fifty billion dollars we've sent to other countries just since Big War II.

We pretend that we are not bidding against the Russians. That we are only doing our charitable duty toward the underprivileged of other lands.

Our hypocrisy would be farcical if it were not so frightening.

The other day the United States had decided to withhold ten million dollars earmarked for India. But as soon as Moscow's bosses dropped a few promises around New Delhi, we restored the ten million.

When the Soviets showed an interest in the Egyptian dam, we proffered the principal.

Moscow can keep us bailing ourselves out all over the world without coughing up one ruble from the Kremlin's coffers.

Now the administration asks for a ten year commitment . . . in advance . . . to governments which might go Communist within the next ten months.

And even more inimical to our own interests, we are helping such "underprivileged" countries as Communist Yugoslavia to develop their atom industry.

Even though Tito is frankly back in the Kremlin fold.

We have spent fifty billion dollars trying to buy friends these past ten years and we have been losing them, a hundred million a year.

And while we figure out more ways to spend ourselves weak, Russia announces a new five year plan for making herself strong.

You figure out who's going to pick up the marbles when this race is over.

Facts Worth Knowing

Iceland's capital, Reykjavik, is 1,700 miles closer to the North Pole than is New York City, says the National Geographic Society. Yet Reykjavik has an average January temperature only one degree lower than that of the United States metropolis, thanks to the warming influence of the Gulf Stream. If Rockefeller Plaza were moved to Reykjavik, its skating rink would still require artificial freezing.

Fishermen along the coast of Brazil go to sea on peeled-log rafts called jangadas. Centerboard, sail and steering oar complete the craft's primitive design.

Price Sag Causes Alarm

Iowa Solon To Request U. S. Purchase Of Beef

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — UP —Rep. Ben E. Jensen (R-Ia.) said Saturday he will ask the administration at a White House conference Monday to start a beef buying program big enough to raise sagging cattle prices.

He said he also will ask the government to step up its current pork purchases sufficiently to give the hog market a big financial lift.

Rep. H. Carl Andersen (R-Minn.) said, meantime, that at a big GOP congressional conference with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson on Wednesday he will call for an entirely new hog buying program to increase prices about 25 per cent.

Jensen is one of the 10 members of Iowa's congressional delegation, all Republican, who will talk with White House staff members Monday on the farm price problem. Andersen is one of more than 20 Republican house members from nine states who will confer with Benson on the same subject Wednesday.

The congressmen planned their strategy coincident with these developments:

Congress Warned

1. Cattlemen and dairy farmers warned that congress must provide iron-clad safeguards to make sure grain acreage diverted under President Eisenhower's proposed soil bank is not used to feed unneeded beef and dairy cattle.

2. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) accused the administration of asking congress to get rid of surpluses and reduce acreage "without the slightest guidance from the administration as to what they mean by surplus". He said the president's national security council should determine what supply levels of farm commodities should be maintained "for immediate needs and potential emergency needs."

3. Sen. George D. Aiken (Vt.), ranking Republican on the Senate Agriculture Committee, said the administration's soil bank program to increase farm income and cut surpluses would be largely cash transactions for the first year on two and "it's not going to be cheap."

The congressmen who will attend the two White House conferences fear depressed livestock prices are hurting GOP election prospects in the midwest farm belt. They want stronger government action to bolster prices and ease the unrest.

Anti-Trust Suit Against Theatre Firm Near End

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 —UP — Settlement of the government's antitrust suit against the Shubert theatrical empire is "imminent," informed sources said Saturday.

Both parties are reported substantially satisfied with a compromise offered by attorneys for the late Lee Shubert and his brother, Jacob J., after almost six years of legal wrangling.

The compromise, these sources said, calls for the Shubert interests to surrender a portion of their vast legitimate theater holdings and withdraw partially from the booking business in exchange for dropping of the suit.

Originally the government demanded that the Shuberts either drop their theaters or pull out entirely from the booking business.

The New York law firm of Cravath, Swain and Moore, which represents the defendants, declined to comment on the reported settlement.

The government contended that Lee and Jacob controlled the legitimate theaters of the nation through a booking agency, the United Booking Corp.

When the suit was filed, the government also charged that through control by ownership or lease of about 40 important theaters, mainly in the east, the Shuberts had choked off competition by refusing to book independent productions into their houses.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 21—UP—Col. John Dilley is leaving Germany but his successor will carry on his battle against sloppily-dressed U.S. Army wives appearing in public, an army spokesman said Saturday.

The Army announced Dilley's reassignment in March to Third Army headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

Dilley got his reputation as "Col. Dior" in 1954 when he banished American wives from the local post exchange and shopping center if they showed up in sloppy slacks, blue jeans or pin curls.

ACCEPTING AWARD FOR WINNER — Aubry Mophett, assistant Ouachita parish county agent for work with 4-H boys, accepts a gold watch award for state champion junior corn producer in the bluff land division, Benny Berry, now with the Air Force, from Joe A. Marsalis, of the Chilean Nitrate Institute, sponsor of the competition. Below is a sketch showing Benny Berry as he stood in his field of corn in the Ouachita River bluff section last May. (Staff Drawing—Extension Service Photo)

Benny Berry Now In Air Force

Former Ouachita 4-H'er Champion Corn Grower

The U. S. Air Force can now boast of having in its ranks the 1955 Louisiana champion 4-H bluff land corn producer, 18-year-old Benny Berry, a former resident of Fondale community in Ouachita Parish. His record was 133.4 bushels on one acre.

The new honor for Benny, who attended Ouachita Parish High School and garnered many ribbons on swine, cattle, corn and cotton during his eight years in 4-H Club work, was announced through Agricultural Extension Service office in West Monroe last week.

However, it became apparent that there would be some delay in informing the winner in the corn growing competition, since contest officials were unable to immediately locate his Air Force mailing address.

A gold watch award was accepted in Benny's behalf by Aubry Mophett, assistant county agent in charge of 4-H Club work for boys in Ouachita Parish. Mophett planned to forward the watch to the winner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Berry, who moved from Fondale to Gilliam, La. recently.

The parish agents in charge of 4-H work when Benny entered the corn growing competition last spring were Mrs. Audrey Dawson, associate home demonstration agent, who still serves in that capacity, and W. B. Aycock, Jr., associate county agent now in charge of local farm and home development program.

The state-wide competition sponsored by Chilean Nitrate Institute was in three divisions, for corn grown on bluff land, on alluvial land, and on hill land.

Although the former 4-H'er was not present at the West Monroe Agriculture Building when the award was announced, so he could explain in person to bystanders just how he accomplished the high production feat, a short report written by him several months ago on the steps involved provided a graphic account.

The information which is on file in the office of Assistant County Agent Mophett, revealed that fertilizer treatments included an initial application of 500 pounds per acre of basic slag, diced into the soil on the five and one half-acre plot on which the highly productive acre was located.

Then 200 pounds per acre of 20 per cent phosphate (equivalent to 40 pounds of pure phosphate) was applied. Other applications included 200 pounds per acre of 60 per cent potash (equal to 120 pounds of pure potash); 110 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre (equal to 92 and two-tenths pounds of pure nitrogen). This was treatment before planting which took place on March 17.

The variety of corn planted was Dixie 18 hybrid. It was cultivated four times, April 5, April 19, April 27, and early in May. When fourth clutivation was made a side dressing of 130 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre was applied.

Preparation of land for planting included flat breaking to a depth of 14 inches with a pan plow, then subsoiling and discing. This took place in January of 1955, and land was left fallow until planting time to soak up winter rains.

Benny's records also included such details as date and time of day planting was done, and temperature reading.

This was his first entrance in a corn growing competition, but he had won a number of honors with corn, cotton, hogs, sweet potatoes, and cattle at parish, district and state shows, and was considered as one of the parishes outstanding 4-H'ers during his eight years in club work.

Other area winner in the corn growing contest were, in Alluvial division—Second, Earl Trice, Madison Parish (award, 22 calibre repeating rifle); third, Daniel Purvis, Madison Parish (award, fly rod). Hill division—Third, Jimmy Walker, Jackson Parish (fly rod award); eighth, Tommy Smith, Jackson Parish (casting rod). Bluff Division—Eighth, H. C. Peck, Catahoula Parish (casting rod).

Besides Benny Berry, there were six other contestants from Ouachita Parish. They were Jerry Jones, Tommy Jones, Gaye Beard, Wallace Freeman, Robert Freeman, and Jimmy Jordan.

Stock Market Declines Sharply During Week

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market this week suffered its heaviest fall since the major decline that came with news of President Eisenhower's heart attack late in September.

Seven billion dollars was erased from the quoted value of all listed securities by the decline. In the final week of September, the loss amounted to more than nine billion dollars.

The Associated Press average this week fell $6.10 and closed at $172.20. For the week ended Sept. 30 the drop was $8.20 with the average at $173.30.

The market this week declined in four out of five sessions. Causes for the persistent drop were manifold.

The main depressing factor, brokers seemed to agree, is the gradually spreading realization that the economy of the nation probably won't match last year's boom totals. This is especially true in motors.

Motor stocks have been selling off from their peaks for some time in the fact of declining production. Many other stocks are adjusting their sights to probably future values.

The stock in the news this week was Ford. The largest underwriting syndicate ever formed offered 10,200,000 shares of Ford common stock for sale Tuesday at 64½. Trading in the vast over the counter market started that evening, and heavy demand pushed the price up to between 70 and 71. That was the high point for Ford, and the stock declined steadily thereafter. It closed Friday at 65¾ bid and 66 asked, low for the week. Ford won't be traded on the New York Stock Exchange until March 1.

The five most active issues this week were General Motors off ⅝, Avco Mfg. up ⅛, U.S. Steel off 3⅜, Loew's off 1⅜ and Panhandle Oil off ⅛.

The corporate Bond Market advanced this week with industrials and utilities leading the way.

U.S. Treasury obligations climbed in the over-the-counter market.

Northeast State Students In Tour Of State Colony

Northeast State students in an adolescent psychology class had a close view of life last week at the State Colony and Training School and the State Industrial School for Girls, both of which are near Pineville. The group was accompanied by Robert Canedo, instructor of the course and coordinator and clinical psychologist of the college's Special Education Clinic.

The tour offered opportunity for the class to observe academic and vocational training which both schools provide. They were invited to watch a demonstration given to Louisiana State University medical students during their visit to the State Colony.

There the group saw the nursery for mentally deficient infants, cottages for younger boys, and the academic school where pupils are taught weaving, woodwork, ceramics, sewing, cosmetology, and other forms of work.

The gymnasium, new and well equipped, according to Canedo, is used for movies, dances, games, religious services and other activities.

Students visited the hospital, now under construction, where the administration hopes to have a larger staff for research and an increased number of resident physicians.

Vocational training at the Industrial School for Girls offers study to equip them to earn a livelihood. Here they may receive knowledge to help them become beauticians, nurses, waitresses, or to become trained in another field.

The plant includes cottages, a dining hall, recreation center and laundry.

Housing is based on the merit system. Girls advance from the first to the highest stage, depending upon behavior. Each forward step in the grading system means more privileges, including amusement.

Texline Blaze Proves Costly

CLAYTON, N. M., Jan. 21 —UP—The Clayton Fire Department was called out early Saturday to help fight a three-alarm blaze at Texline, Tex., just over the Texas-New Mexico line 10 miles east of here.

The fire destroyed the Pool drug store and its contents, causing damages estimated at $50,000, despite the efforts of Texline volunteers and the fire department from Dalhart, Tex., as well as Clayton.

A hardware and a grocery on each side of the drug store were damaged slightly by smoke but no flames reached them.

Oil Producers, Refiners Begin '56 With Record

HOUSTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Oil producers and refiners, with an assist from the weather, began 1956 with record operations.

The first week of the year saw the nation producing more oil than ever before and refineries processing more crude than ever before.

There were minor declines last week but industry sources say operations the first quarter will be from 3 to 4 per cent above 1955.

Refineries operated at 95 per cent capacity, highest since February, 1953, in the first week of 1956 as prolonged cold in many areas increased demand for heating fuels.

In the 10 weeks ending Jan. 13, light fuel oils in storage declined 56 million barrels, compared to 31 million barrels a year earlier.

Despite a minor cutback in overall refinery operations, light fuel production last week totaled 13,541,000 barrels, up 40,000.

Domestic crude output dropped to 7,013,850 barrels daily last week after reaching a record 7,026,450 a week earlier.

Last year's crude output averaged a record 6,766,000 barrels daily, compared to 5,407,000 in 1950 and 3,697,000 in 1940.

Damage Estimated At Beyond $400 In 2 Car Crash

A two-car collision at the intersection of North Third and Pine streets about noon yesterday not only involved the moving vehicles, but two parked cars on North Third with resulting total damages exceeding $400.

Both the drivers of the two moving vehicles told officers they had the green light at the intersection. Drivers of the autos were identified by police as Forrest R. Farrar, 45, Sterlington and Franklin Williams 18, of Monroe. Williams was driving a delivery truck belonging to Hayes Gentry Grocery, West Monroe.

Surveying damage done to their parked cars on North Third street after Farrar's car collided with them following the original collision were A. P. Wood, also of Sterlington and O. P. Bazer, 109 Gulpha Drive, West Monroe.

Time of the accident was set at 11:40 a.m. by investigating officers Ocie D. Howard and Jim Standard.

Involved in one of two minor accidents shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday was a former Union parish coroner, Dr. Jesse F. Tanner, 64, of Bernice, and Charles E. Nugent, 19, Route 1, West Monroe.

Tanner, according to police, was backing from a driveway on North Third street and collided with Nugent's vehicle.

A third accident occuring about 12:30 p.m. near the intersection of Louisville Avenue and North 10th streets involved Mary L. Flacy, 46, 217 Texas Avenue and John W. Harold, 25, Route 3, West Monroe.

Police said both vehicles were heading west on Louisville when the Flacy auto struck the Harold car from behind. No extensive damage was done.

Long Announces Plan To Appoint Three Officials

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 (AP) — Gov.-Nominee Earl K. Long today announced three appointments he plans to make when he takes office along with five legislative proposals.

Long, winding up a postelection stay here, also said the newspapers "need have no fear that I will tamper with civil service."

The state's new chief executive reiterated that he planned to abolish independent boards created by Gov. Robert Kennon. Long called on the board members to resign.

He accused Gov. Kennon of attempting to shift responsibility for institutional defects to the institutions board and not assuming responsibility for actions of other boards.

Long's proposed appointments include:

Ernest Clements to his former position as commissioner of wildlife and fisheries replacing L. D. Young.

Robert B. Richardson to his former position as director of highways replacing George S. Covert.

Dr. Robert Bernard to his former position as director of Charity Hospital "if he accepts."

Regarding Covert, Long said he "can stay around if he wants to in some other job — not no $19,000 job, though."

He said it would be "a loss to the state" if Covert were to leave.

Long said he would offer a job to Dr. Edward Grant, director of the department of institutions and one of those criticized by the former governor during the campaign.

The other proposals Long said he would present to the May session of the Legislature include:

1. A bill to eliminate New Orleans personal property taxes on automobiles and a companion measure providing a state reimbursement to the city for revenues lost.

2. Changes in the present voting law making it possible for persons to receive assistance in polling booths and further directing some cutbacks in the use of voting machines.

3. A new narcotics law providing 20-year minimum sentences for dope pedders and capital punishment for peddlers who sell to juveniles.

4. Legislation reducing the state hunting license from $2 to $1.

Referring to the voting machines, Long said he didn't think they were necessary in precincts with less than 100 voters.

Verne E. Davison, chief biologist with the Soil Conservation Service, author and noted fish culturist, will take part in discussions at a technical meeting of conservation service workers of area parishes to be held here Tuesday.

Sometime during the day, Davison will examine the fish in several ponds in the Ouachita parish area and offer suggestions on raising fish in farm ponds.

Copies of Davison's latest booklet, "Managing Farm Fish Ponds for Bass and Bluegills," are available through the West Monroe Agriculture Building office of the Soil Conservation Service, according to work unit conservationist, S. R. Aycock.

Winnipeg, capital of Manitoba, claims Canada's largest bonspiel, or curling meet. In the sport of curling, players slide heavy stones across an ice-floored arena, somewhat after the manner of bowling. Team members with brooms frantically sweep ice in the stone's pathway, thus affecting its speed and direction.

Pork, though low in cost, furnish "a remarkably high quantity of the nutrients required" by women during pregnancy and lactation, The American Meat Institute reports.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN REACHES 108—Confederate veteran William Allen (Uncle Bill) Lundy celebrates his 108th birthday anniversary at a party in honor of him at Crestview, Fla. He's demonstrating how he used to call wild turkeys in hunting. W. D. Douglass (right) holds the microphone. Uncle Bill admits reluctantly that he has cut down on his hunting in recent years. He is one of four surviving veterans of the War Between the States. Three of them are Confederates. (AP Wirephoto.)

Winnipeg, capital of Manitoba, claims Canada's largest bonspiel, or curling meet. In the sport of curling, players slide heavy stones across an ice-floored arena, somewhat after the manner of bowling. Team members with brooms frantically sweep ice in the stone's pathway, thus affecting its speed and direction.

Stock Market Declines Sharply During Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market this week suffered its heaviest fall since the major decline that came with news of President Eisenhower's heart attack late in September.

Seven billion dollars was erased from the quoted value of all listed securities by the decline. In the final week of September, the loss amounted to more than nine billion dollars.

The Associated Press average this week fell $6.10 and closed at $172.20. For the week ended Sept. 30 the drop was $8.20 with the average at $173.30.

The market this week declined in four out of five sessions. Causes for the persistent drop were manifold.

The main depressing factor, brokers seemed to agree, is the gradually spreading realization that the economy of the nation probably won't match last year's boom totals. This is especially true in motors.

Motor stocks have been selling off from their peaks for some time in the fact of declining production. Many other stocks are adjusting their sights to probably future values.

The stock in the news this week was Ford. The largest underwriting syndicate ever formed offered 10,200,000 shares of Ford common stock for sale Tuesday at 64½. Trading in the vast over the counter market started that evening, and heavy demand pushed the price up to between 70 and 71. That was the high point for Ford, and the stock declined steadily thereafter. It closed Friday at 65¾ bid and 66 asked, low for the week. Ford won't be traded on the New York Stock Exchange until March 1.

The five most active issues this week were General Motors off ⅝, Avco Mfg. up ⅛, U.S. Steel off 3¾, Loew's off 1⅝ and Panhandle Oil off ⅛.

The corporate Bond Market advanced this week with industrials and utilities leading the way.

U.S. Treasury obligations climbed in the over-the-counter market.

Northeast State Students In Tour Of State Colony

Northeast State students in an adolescent psychology class had a close view of life last week at the State Colony and Training School and the State Industrial School for Girls, both of which are near Pineville. The group was accompanied by Robert Canedo, instructor of the course and coordinator and clinical psychologist of the college's Special Education Clinic.

The tour offered opportunity for the class to observe academic and vocational training which both schools provide. They were invited to watch a demonstration given to Louisiana State University medical students during their visit to the State Colony.

There the group saw the nursery for mentally deficient infants, cottages for younger boys, and the academic school where pupils are taught weaving, woodwork, ceramics, sewing, cosmetology, and other forms of work.

The gymnasium, new and well equipped, according to Canedo, is used for movies, dances, games, religious services and other activities.

Students visited the hospital, now under construction, where the administration hopes to have a larger staff for research and an increased number of resident physicians.

Vocational training at the Industrial School for Girls offers study to equip them to earn a livelihood. Here they may receive knowledge to help them become beauticians, nurses, waitresses, or to become trained in another field.

The plant includes cottages, a dining hall, recreation center and laundry.

Housing is based on the merit system. Girls advance from the first to the highest stage, depending upon behavior. Each forward step in the grading system means more privileges, including amusement.

Students Killed In Auto Accident

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 21 (AP)—A University of Arkansas student who worked as a state policeman by night was killed along with his roommate when their automobile crashed into a utility pole here early today.

Trooper Hugh Westbrook, 27, of Haskell, Ark., was killed instantly. Robert W. Moffat, 22, of Benton, Ark., died in a hospital two hours after the accident.

Police said last night was a night off his trooper job for Westbrook, who by day was a pre-law sophomore at the university here. Moffatt was an arts and sciences freshman.

HELP FOR THE NATIONAL BIRD — Mack Franse, director of a zoo at Knoxville, Tenn., holds and ailing bald eagle, the national bird, which was grounded for six days without food near Spring City, Tenn. Because of laws protecting bald eagles, Franse had to get special permission from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to capture the bird so that it can be nursed back to health. Now, the federal government says that if Franse can restore the eagle to health, the Knoxville zoo can keep it. (AP Wirephoto)

Texline Blaze Proves Costly

CLAYTON, N. M., Jan. 21 —UP—The Clayton Fire Department was called out early Saturday to help fight a three-alarm blaze at Texline, Tex., just over the Texas-New Mexico line 10 miles east of here.

The fire destroyed the Pool drug store and its contents, causing damages estimated at $50,000, despite the efforts of Texline volunteers and the fire department from Dalhart, Tex., as well as Clayton.

A hardware and a grocery on each side of the drug store were damaged slightly by smoke but no flames reached them.

Oil Producers, Refiners Begin '56 With Record

HOUSTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Oil producers and refiners, with an assist from the weather, began 1956 with record operations.

The first week of the year saw the nation producing more oil than ever before and refineries processing more crude than ever before.

There were minor declines last week but industry sources say operations the first quarter will be from 3 to 4 per cent above 1955.

Refineries operated at 95 per cent capacity, highest since February, 1953, in the first week of 1956 as prolonged cold in many areas increased demand for heating fuels.

In the 10 weeks ending Jan. 13, light fuel oils in storage declined 56 million barrels, compared to 31 million barrels a year earlier.

Despite a minor cutback in overall refinery operations, light fuel production last week totaled 13,541,000 barrels, up 40,000.

Domestic crude output dropped to 7,013,850 barrels daily last week after reaching a record 7,026,450 a week earlier.

Last year's crude output averaged a record 6,766,000 barrels daily, compared to 5,407,000 in 1950 and 3,697,000 in 1940.

Damage Estimated At Beyond $400 In 2 Car Crash

A two-car collision at the intersection of North Third and Pine streets about noon yesterday not only involved the moving vehicles, but two parked cars on North Third with resulting total damages exceeding $400.

Both the drivers of the two moving vehicles told officers they had the green light at the intersection. Drivers of the autos were identified by police as Forrest R. Farrar, 45, Sterlington and Franklin Williams 18, of Monroe. Williams was driving a delivery truck belonging to Hayes Gentry Grocery, West Monroe.

Surveying damage done to their parked cars on North Third street after Farrar's car collided with them following the original collision were A. P. Wood, also of Sterlington and O. P. Bazer, 109 Gulpha Drive, West Monroe.

Time of the accident was set at 11:40 a.m. by investigating officers Ocie D. Howard and Jim Standard.

Involved in one of two minor accidents shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday was a former Union parish coroner, Dr. Jesse F. Tanner, 64, of Bernice, and Charles E. Nugent, 13, Route 1, West Monroe.

Tanner, according to police, was backing from a driveway on North Third street and collided with Nugent's vehicle.

A third accident occuring about 12:30 p.m. near the intersection of Louisville Avenue and North 10th streets involved Mary L. Flacy, 46, 217 Texas Avenue and John W. Harold, 25, Route 3, West Monroe.

Police said both vehicles were heading west on Louisville when the Flacy auto struck the Harold car from behind. No extensive damage was done.

Safety Director Fined In Virginia

KNOXVILLE, Ill., Jan. 21—UP—John Henry McDonald, traffic safety director for the state of Virginia, was arrested Saturday for reckless driving and fined $10.

Long Announces Plan To Appoint Three Officials

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Gov.-Nominee Earl K. Long today announced three appointments he plans to make when he takes office along with five legislative proposals.

Long, winding up a postelection stay here, also said the newspapers "need have no fear that I will tamper with civil service."

The state's new chief executive reiterated that he planned to abolish independent boards created by Gov. Robert Kennon. Long called on the board members to resign.

He accused Gov. Kennon of attempting to shift responsibility for institutional defects to the institutions board and not assuming responsibility for actions of other boards.

Long's proposed appointments include:

Ernest Clements to his former position as commissioner of wildlife and fisheries replacing L. D. Young.

Robert B. Richardson to his former position as director of highways replacing George S. Covert.

Dr. Robert Bernard to his former position as director of Charity Hospital "if he accepts."

Regarding Covert, Long said he "can stay around if he wants to in some other job — not no $19,000 job, though."

He said it would be "a loss to the state" if Covert were to leave.

Long said he would offer a job to Dr. Edward Grant, director of the department of institutions and one of those criticized by the former governor during the campaign.

The other proposals Long said he would present to the May session of the Legislature include:

1. A bill to eliminate New Orleans personal property taxes on automobiles and a companion measure providing a state reimbursement to the city for revenues lost.

2. Changes in the present voting law making it possible for persons to receive assistance in polling booths and further directing some cutbacks in the use of voting machines.

3. A new narcotics law providing 20-year minimum sentences for dope pedders and capital punishment for peddlers who sell to juveniles.

4. Legislation reducing the state hunting license from $2 to $1.

Referring to the voting machines, Long said he didn't think they were necessary in precincts with less than 100 voters.

Congressional Hilites

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON Jan. 21, (AP)—President Eisenhower wrapped up good news and bad in one big package this week and shipped it off to Capitol Hill.

In his annual budget message, Eisenhower told Congress Monday he looks for balanced federal budgets two years running. Everyone agreed this news was indeed good.

Eisenhower added, however, that budget surpluses will be "slim" and any move to cut taxes should be deferred until a more prudent time. On this score, his message provoked some long faces.

Most Congress members seemed to feel, however, that the prudent time for cutting taxes still may come before the fall election campaign—and they got some encouragement from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

The secretary conceded to newsmen that budget estimates of future federal revenue might be "unduly conservative." If so, there likely would be ample time in the coming months to find this out and do something about taxes.

Elsewhere on the legislative scene, the Senate was approaching midsession form. It began debating a controversial natural gas bill while its agriculture committee went to work on a new farm program and its members engaged in partisan infighting over magazine statements by Secretary of State Dulles and retired Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

BUDGET—Eisenhower's budget for fiscal 1957, the bookkeeping year that begins July 1, called for a spending increase over this year of 1½ billion dollars to $65,865,000,000, with revenues to hit $66,300,000,000, compared with $64,500,000,000 this year.

House Republican Leader Martin termed Eisenhower's fiscal blueprint "a major achievement" but Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee said he was "astonished" at plans to boost spending in most categories. Cannon said Cingress had hoped for a "retrenchment" that would lead to tax cuts.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas commented that "Only time will tell whether this is realistic and reflects all the facs."

DULLES—Congressional Democrats jumped at Dulles after Life magazine quoted him as saying the United States went to the "brink of war" three times during his tenure but stayed at peace because of strong action.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) called in a Senate speech for a full congressional review of what he termed Dulles' "diplomacy of the brink." Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee endorsed this proposal saying some phases of foreign policy "need a more complete review than they ever have been given by Congress."

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) accused Democrats of raising a "political dust storm" which he said couldn't "cloud the incontestable fact that we are at peace under the leadership of President Eisenhower and Dulles."

RIDGWAY—Gen. Ridgway, former Army chief of staff, contended in a Saturday Evening Post article that politics prompted the administration to make dangerous cuts in the Army. He wrote that he rejected pressure, "sometimes crudely applied," to go along with such moves.

Several congressional committees voiced immediate interest in hearing more from Ridgway and he made known his willingness to testify.

GAS—The Senate took up a bill to free producer prices of natural gas from direct federal regulation—a proposal that edged through the House, 209-203, last year.

Opponents argued this would bring a big boost in the price of gas to consumers. The bill's supporters disagreed. The debate, cutting across party lines, is expected to continue for several weeks.

FARM—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) introduced the administration's "soil bank" farm program as the Senate Agriculture Committee began public hearings on farm legislation. All factions urged quick action, and hearings are to end Monday.

PRESIDENTIAL DUTIES—Former President Hoover, looking reasonably fit at 81, told a Senate subcommittee the presidential work load must be lightened "if we're going to keep them alive."

Hoover's proposal that an administrative vice president be named to take on some lesser White House chores drew a dissent, however, from former President Truman. In a letter to the subcommittee, Truman contended such action would be unconstitutional.

Cotton Futures Move Downward

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—After a somewhat erratic series of ups and downs, the cotton futures market moved into lower ground this week. Net losses for the period on the New York Cotton Exchange ranged from 45 cents to $2.55 a bale.

A sharp decline at the start of the week was triggered by approval in the House of Representatives of a bill which would allow the Secretary of Agriculture to substitute privately - owned cotton for government surplus staple in sales to brokers under the government's new surplus export program.

Uncovering of stop-loss orders accelerated the decline. The market subsequently recovered as various bullish forces came into play.

The government's latest report on loan entries provided a strong prop for the future market this week. It showed a total of 445,000 bales pledged to the government during the week ended Jan. 13, against 263,000 bales the week before.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the exchange at 66,000 bales. That compares with 65,000 bales the previous week and 102,000 in the like week last year. It would raise the total for the season to 851,000 bales, against exports of 1,822,000 bales at approximately the same time last season.

Eastern Germany Adopts Prussian Army Uniforms

BERLIN, Jan. 21 —UP— German soldiers will tramp the streets of Berlin again soon in the same black hob-nailed boots and grey tunics Adolf Hitler's Wehrmacht troopers wore for their fuehrer.

Communist East Germany is going to clothe its new army in the traditional uniform of the Prussian troops but there the similarity will end.

Western political observers say the spirit of the new "National Peoples Army" will be strictly Soviet.

The East German private will address his superiors as "Comrade Capitan," instead of "Herr Capitan."

The nucleus of the army will be the 120,000-man Soviet-built Peoples Police Army already patrolling the eastern half of divided Germany. Their name and uniform will be changed.

The equipment, organization, training and tactics of the new Red Wehrmacht will remain Russian. And the equipment compares favorably with Western weapons.

When the East German Communists proclaimed the formation of their National Peoples Army this week they said the tradition of the great Prussian generals of history would form its spirit.

The privates will swap their olive drab, Soviet-style police uniforms for field grey battle dress almost identical to that of Hitler's troops. Generals will wear red stripes down their trousers just like the fuehrer's field marshals did.

25,000 Workers Now Idled By Auto Companies

DETROIT, Jan. 21 —UP— The auto industry, anticipating a seasonal buyer slump, has idled some 25,000 production workers in the past month in an effort to right the lop-sided level of supply and demand.

Plymouth division of Chrysler Corp., laid off 10,350 workers Friday, the biggest individual layoff notice announced since the industry started gradually trimming production in mid-December.

Plymouth said 8,350 workers would be laid off in Detroit and 2,000 at two plants at Evansville, Ind.

William J. Bird, Chrysler vice president in charge of the Plymouth division, said production schedules were reduced in order "to bring dealer stocks into line with market demand."

Earlier, other Chrysler divisions and Ford and General Motors announced layoffs of approximately 15,000 workers.

The three firms known as the industry's "big three," turn out 95 per cent of the nation's automobiles.

The layoffs came with dealer stocks at near-record level and despite brisk selling by dealers the early part of this month.

All Grain Prices Suffer Declines

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP) —All grains declined on the Board of Trade this week with new crop wheat futures suffering heaviest losses.

The market was a disappointment to the bulls, and may have been to the backers of the new administration farm plan, too. There were uncertainties and worries about the proposed plan.

Wheat closed the week 2⅛-5⅜ lower, corn ¼-⅝ lower, oats ¼ to 1 cent lower, rye 2¾-3½ lower, soybeans ¼-2¼ lower and lard 15 to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Two-Week Course In Real Estate Appraising Set

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 21 (AP) — A two-week course in real estate appraising opens April 1 at Louisiana State University.

The course, jointly sponsored by the LSU College of Commerce and the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, will teach and demonstrate theories and principles of real estate appraising applicable to the valuation of all types of real property.

The course will be open to brokers, appraisers, bankers and other business people over the South.

Censorship, Probes

Press Official Warns Of Threat By Senate Group

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 —UP— Richard W. Slocum, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said Saturday that the Senate Internal Security subcommittee bears close watching as a possible threat to press freedom.

Speaking at the annual international Benjamin Franklin Society luncheon which this year marked the 250th anniversary of Franklin's birth, Socum noted that some of the same problems of censorship and news suppression which Franklin faced as a newspaper publisher exist today. He said a recent manifestation of this "has been the investigation of newspapermen by congressional committees charged with hunting Communist subversives."

Slocum, who is executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, accepted the society's gold medal "in recognition of his outstanding leadership in upholding and defending the freedom of the press." Due to a recent illness, the Philadelphia publisher delegated the reading of his speech to William Dwight, vice president of the ANPA.

Slocum said he believed the press is "subject to proper inquiry," but he said he questioned the motives of the Senate Security subcommittee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) in investigating employes of several New York newspapers "with heavy emphasis on the New York Times."

"Is the subcommittee sincerely and solely interested in finding out whether subversion exists in the press?" he asked. "Or is it aiming at certain newspapers with the thought of reprisal and intimidation? Because it seems so apparent the subcommittee has sent its dogs to bark up a tree where there is nothing but a mighty lean coon, if any at all, there is reason to watch this committee closely."

British Jet Hits House; 4th Crash In 24-Hour Period

LONDON, Jan. 21—UP—A Royal Air Force jet smashed into a house in Oxford Saturday, the fourth military plane crash in Britain in 24 hours.

The pilot was injured seriously but the four occupants of the house, including an 18-month-old boy and a four-year-old girl, escaped with minor injuries.

In three crashes Friday a total of six persons were killed and 25 injured.

Former Convict Will Demonstrate 'Last Mile' Walk

Bill Mills, ex-outlaw and ex-convict from Texas, will demonstrate "the last mile" to the electric chair at 2:30 p.m. today on the fairgrounds in West Monroe, under auspices of church groups in this area.

According to reports, Mills spent 25 years behind prison bars, being convicted on 32 different crime charges in Texas and Oklahoma. He has written a book, "Twenty-five Years Behind Prison Bars," which will be available at this afternoon's event.

In his program, Mills shows a real electric chair and tells of how he saw 16 men electrocuted. He wears a striped suit and tells of seeing the notorious Clyde Barrow kill his first man.

The ex-convict also will tell of his conversion behind prison bars.

He is billed as being recommended by the sheriff of Dallas County, Tex.; the Texas attorney general; and the Texas U. S. Senator and Congressman. He is said to deglamorize crime.

Billy Graham Greeted By Huge Crowd In India

MADRAS, India, Jan. 21 (AP) — American evangelist Billy Graham was greeted by a large crowd at the airport today on his arrival to conduct a series of meetings.

Indian Christian women in colorful saris were present as a reception committee presented him a gold lace garland.

"I have come to India with humility and to learn wisdom from your people and never to ask you to do this or that," Graham said.

He told reporters:

"Mine is no political mission. Nor have I accepted any invitation from any European authorities to visit India. I come solely on the Indian churches' invitation to deliver the message of Christ to my Indian brethern and never for my proselytization."

Graham came here from Bombay, where rioting over the Nehru government's decision to make Bombay a federal city caused authorities to cancel the American's scheduled mass meeting last night.

Soviets To Ship Wheat To India

MOSCOW, Jan. 21—UP—Soviet authorities have agreed to ship 20,000 tons of wheat to India immediately to alleviate the emergency caused by floods, Indian sources here disclosed Saturday.

The sources said the Russians responded promptly to an Indian request, leaving terms and prices for the shipment to be discussed late.

Hollywood Has Mock Nomination For Presidency

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 —UP— Motion picture czar Eric Johnston was "nominated" for president Saturday night and promptly announced that if elected his commissioner of internal revenue will be blonde Marilyn Monroe, aided by Jane Russell.

The mock nomination featured the venerable Alfalfa Club's annual soiree at which Vice President Richard M. Nixon and seven other notables were inducted as new members.

Club member Dwight D. Eisenhower could not be present to see the fun which ran the gamut from friendly jibes at his secretary of state to "candidate" Johnston's crack that his own humble beginning was in "a mere $2-million log cabin" on a movie lot in Culver City, Calif.

The hundreds of members and guests included cabinet members, senators, congressmen, industrialists, supreme court judges and others from all walks of life. Retiring President Thomas W. Brahany surrendered the gavel to his successor, Samuel H. Kauffmann, president of the Evening Star Publishing Company.

No political novice, Johnston grabbed the presidential nomination and started running.

"I have searched my soul," said Johnston, "and I say you could not have found a better man, better fitted for the mighty task at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue (the White House).

"What other candidate hates the game of golf, abhors life upon the farm, and doesn't like babies or dogs, either?"

President Pays Surprise Visit To Gettysburg Farm

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 21—UP—President Eisenhower took advantage of bright winter weather Saturday to drive here from Washington for lunch and a quick look around his farm.

He made the 85-mile drive through snow - covered Maryland and Pennsylvania countryside in about two hours.

The President left the White House before noon with the temperature in the middle 30s.

George E. Allen, Gettysburg neighbor and bridge-playing pal, accompanied Mr. Eisenhower in the presidential limousine.

It was Mr. Eisenhower's first visit to his farm since before Christmas.

There are eight kinds of rabbits and five kinds of hares in the United States.

A MODERN METHOD OF FERTILIZATION FOR HIGHER CROP YIELDS
We are happy to announce that beginning February 1, we will manufacture a completely liquid fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash and make it available to farmers in Louisiana. We will manufacture three grades of fertilizer for this area—3-11-11, 8-8-8, 10-10-10, and will have for sale inexpensive and efficient applicators which are simple to operate.
For more information on this important development and its agrinomic aspects, we suggest you contact your County Agent.

Winnipeg, capital of Manitoba, claims Canada's largest bonspiel, or curling meet. In the sport of curling, players slide heavy stones across an ice-floored arena, somewhat after the manner of bowling. Team members with brooms frantically sweep ice in the stone's pathway, thus affecting its speed and direction.

Techmen Halter Reigel; But Drop McNeese Contest

RUSTON, Jan. 21 (Special) — McNeese State came back strong in the second half to overpower Louisiana Tech Buddogs, 70 to 58, in a Gulf States Conference battle here tonight.

The McNeese Cowboys pulled away from a half-time 27 to 27 tie and led almost the entire last period to bring their G.S.C. standing 2-1.

Tonight's setback put Tech's conference standing at 2-2.

Coach Cecil Crowley's Techmen threw up a zone defense that stopped McNeese's high scoring forward Bill Reigel with only three field goals and 12 points. He went into the tilt with a 32-point average.

While the Canine's were stopping Reigel, however, four other McNeese cagers went to work to score in the double figures. Forward Frank Glenn topped the Cowboys scoring with 17 points. Center Dudley Carver put in 16. Center Charles Decker made 14 and guard Dick McGowan with 11.

Tech's guard Billy Wiggins sank 19 points for Tech's scoring honors of the game. Bulldog guard Jim Knotts was next with 12.

Stage Set For Tributes To Neville Grid Champs

The Neville High School football Tigers, still "living" the 1955 campaign in which they marched through all contending opposition to the Louisiana double-A championship, turn out tomorrow evening as the honored guests of Twin Cities football followers to receive recognition of their title achievement at an "appreciation banquet" scheduled for Hotel Virginia.

The Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the two-dollar-a-plate recognition night program, and Jim Williams, executive secretary of the C. of C., yesterday said a large turnout of football followers of this area is already assured after a tabulation of early reservations.

Additional reservations will be accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office at Hotel Virginia until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

"We're so elated over the Tigers' march to the state championship that we feel anything we do for them will be too little. However, we're going to do our best to show them just how we feel bringing this athletic honor to our cities," Williams declared.

Merchants of the Twin Cities, most of them sports-minded businessmen who take an interest in all school athletic endeavors of Monroe and West Monroe, have pooled their efforts in securing trophies to presented to each member of coach Bill Ruple's championship outfit.

The partial program will have Harry Arthur, the TV sportscaster, serving as toastmaster. Van Odom, superintendent of the Monroe city school system, will introduce Neville's coaching staff. Coach Ruple will conduct the introduction of his champs. "Slim" Scogin, chairman of the C. of C.'s sports committee, will pass out the trophies, and a pair of annual awards contributed by Dr. W. L. Bendel and Ed W. Lockhart will also be presented.

Dr. Bendel's award goes to an outstanding member of the team, and Lockhart again gives his tenth annual sportsmanship award.

Squaw Valley Due To Present Plans For Olympic Show

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 21 (AP)—A delegation from Squaw Valley, Calif.—1960 Winter Olympic games site—said tonight it would disclose full details here Tuesday on how funds can be raised for the next games.

Alexander Cushing of Squaw Valley, representative of the organizing committee in charge of the delegation, said a progress report also would be made before the International Olympic Committee.

"We also are here to study the organization and set up for these Winter Olympic games," Cushing said.

"We will tell the I.P.C. that the state of California has appropriated $1,000,000 for the games. The California olympic commission also has recommended to governor Goodwin Knight that California appropriate an additional $4,000,000.

"Governor Knight is in favor of the proposal. Newspapers in the state have canvassed members of the legislature and found overwhelming support for the proposal.

"There is no doubt in our minds that the money will be made available in March."

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the I.O.C., said here last night that he thought $5,000,000 would be necessary.

Cushing was accompanied to Cortina by Sandy McIlwane of New York, architect for the organizing committee; Richard Benson of Philadelphia, committee attorney, and Marshall Hazeltine of New York, special representative of the committee.

Others en route to Cortina include California state Senator Harold T. Johnson of Roseville; John Pierce of Sacramento, director of finance for the state of California who is special representative from Gov. Knight; Prentice Hall of San Francisco, president of the committee, and John Garland of Los Angeles, both a member of the organizing committee and the I.O.C.

'Bama Threatens Vandy, Kentucky In Cage Chase

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 21 (AP) —Southeastern Conference statistics show why Alabama is making a definite and determined run with Kentucky and Vanderbilt for the league championship.

Individual statistics were released today by SEC commissioner Bernie Moore, and show that three Alabama aces, all seniors, are pacing the conference in as many statistical departments.

Big Jerry Harper (6-8) is the league's leading rebounder. Smooth George Linn (6-4) is the best shot from the foul line. The most accurate field goal shooter is Dennis O'Shea 6-3).

Figures released by Moore, including games through Jan. 17 show Harper far out in fron of Kentucky center Bob Burrow in the rebounding work. Harper has averaged pulling in 21.1 per game, while Burrow's average is 16.1.

Linn, who ranks third in scoring behind Louisiana State's Roger Sigler and Mississippi's Joe Gibbon, has dropped 65 of 79 tries from the foul line. He has an average of 82.3 per cent.

Bobby Kimmel, Georgia Tech, is next at 71 of 87 foul attempts, for an average of 81.6 per cent.

O'Shea moved past Gibbon in field accuracy last week, and now has put 49 of 102 attempts from the floor for a 48 per cent average. Gibbon is 106 for 224, a 47.3 per cent accuracy mark.

Veteran White, Rookie Hopeful Rejoin Red Sox

BOSTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today received the signed baseball contracts of veteran catcher Sammy White and young southpaw pitcher Frank Bauman who is figured to play an important part in the club's 1956 campaign.

White signed readily after returning from a European trip. Last year he was one of the last to sign.

White last season set a club record for catchers by appearing in 143 games. His performance included a .261 batting average, 11 home runs and 64 runs batted in.

While this will be White's fifth year as the Red Sox' regular receiver, Bauman will be embarking on his first full major league season.

The 22-year-old lefty was discharged from the army last July 6 and rejoined the Louisville team. He was brought up to Boston July 22. He finished the year with a 2-1 record but Manager Mike Higgins says he didn't believe Bauman had a fair chance. He returned to baseball 25 pounds overweight and never did hit full stride.

Princeton Aide, Stiegman, Takes Post At Rutgers

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 21 (AP)—John R. Stiegman, 33-year-old Princeton University line coach, was named today head football coach at Rutgers University.

Stiegman was selected from nearly 100 applicants to replace Harvey Harman, ousted last November after a 3-5 season.

University president Lewis Webster Jones said Stiegman will be given a three-year contract at $10,000 a year. His assistants will also be given three-year contracts.

The new head mentor, who played hockey, lacrosse and football at Williams is expected to switch Rutgers to the single wing. The Scarlet has been a T-formation team under Harman, chief mentor here for 14 years.

The selection was announced in Dr. Jones' office after a meeting of the university president with athletic director Harry J. Rockafeller and an 11-man alumni advisory committee, all former football letter winners.

Rockafeller said Rutgers, which opens its 1956 season against Ohio Wesleyan Sept. 22, will continue to do without spring practice. On Sept. 29 the Scarlet meets Princeton.

Stiegman, a naval officer in World War II, was born in Buffalo, N. Y. He now lives at Hightstown.

He joined the Princeton athletic staff in 1946 and has since then coached the Tiger freshman hockey team for seven seasons, the 150-pound crew for the last two seasons, and the varsity line.

Princeton coach Charley Caldwell has termed him "one of the coming leaders in the college coaching profession" and "A remarkable defensive strategist."

Two Germans Will Report To Orioles In Spring Training

BALTIMORE, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced today they have signed two brothers, Claus and Hanjorg Helming, of Mennheim, Germany, the first players from that country to be imported for organized baseball in the United States.

They will go to spring training Feb. 15 with the Orioles at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The Helmig brothers were signed by Rex Greaves, an Oriole scout of military teams in Europe. He gave the Orioles full assurance that they are capable of playing in Class D and probably higher at the start.

The 20-year-old Claus is a right-hand pitcher and outfielder. The 17-year-old Hanjorg pitches and plays first base left handed but bats right hand.

However, Greaves is recommending them both primarily as pitchers.

The brothers formed their own baseball team in 1950. They played on an All-Star German baseball team in the European baseball championship series in 1954 and 1955.

Adam's Off Ox Captures Feature At Fair Grounds

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 (AP)—W. Hal Bishop's oddly named Adam's Off Ox came from well back in the pack to score a neck victory in the $5,000 Marriage Handicap at their Fair Grounds.

The eight-year-old Bishop gelding, a son of Princequillo, was fourth at the head of the stretch but passed the pace-setting Happy Memories a few strides from home. Lebanon Lad, the 4-5 favorite from the Maggio-Gregory stable, took the show spot, five lengths behind Happy Memories.

Second choice in the wagering, Adam's Off Ox returned $10, $5 and $2.60. Happy Memories, the J. C. Farrell color bearer who went to the post at 19-1, paid $15 and $3.80. Lebanon Lad returned a $2.20 show price to his disappointed backers in the crowd of 12,878.

Happy Memories streaked to a five length lead as the six-horse field went past the grandstand for the first time in the mile and one-eighth feature.

Lebanon Lad took the runnerup spot, while jockey R. L. Baird was content to race Adam's Off Ox in fourth place.

Coming around the turn from the backstretch, Happy Memories still held a length lead, but Adam's Off Ox took up the challenge and moved into second place.

Baird went to the whip and the Bishop entry moved in front at the 16th pole and had a shade advantage as the field went under the wire.

Adam's Off Ox travelled the distance in 1:56, six and two-fifth seconds off the track record held by Marriage, the two-time winner of the New Orleans Handicap and namesake of today's race.

But the track wasn't given to any record breaking today, since it was classed slow from mid-week rains.

In the secondary feature, the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn. Purse, B. A. Thompson's Poco Reto slipped through on the rail in scoring a half-length victory over W. E. Scmidt's Slammin' Har. Poco Reto, who went to the post a heavy favorite, returned $5.80.

The H.B.P.A. opens its annual convention here Monday.

Members of the Parimutuel Employers Guild continued to picket the track for the second day, but Fair Grounds president John S. Letellier said attendance and operations were normal.

The wagering on the nine-race program $677,066.

Student Architect Has Dodgers' Ear On Stadium Plans

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 21 (AP)—A 26-year-old student of architecture from Tennessee has submitted a plan for a giant indoor baseball stadium for the Brooklyn Dodgers as a thesis for his master of fine arts degree.

Theodore W. Kleinsasser Jr., Alcoa, Tenn., a student for the past two and a half years at the Princeton University School of architecture, gave his report yesterday to a special examination jury.

Dodger president Walter O'Malley was on the 10-member panel which listened to details of the 55,000 capacity stadium to be enclosed under a plastic all-weather done.

The jury and some 80 other attending the session applauded the former Princeton football star when he had finished and his thesis was approved. O'Malley praised the plan which has been under consideration since last fall.

R. Buckminister Fuller, creator of the so-called geodesic dome proposed for the stadium, and Capt. Emil Praeger U.S.N. (ret.), consulting engineer to the Dodgers, also sat on the jury.

The entire stadium would cost six million dollars, Kleinsasser said, with some $1,500,000 going for the dome itself.

Kleinsasser proposed the site at Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, Brooklyn, for the new stadium. Ebbets Field is located at Bedford avenue and Sullivan place, in that New York City borough.

New York City Officials and O.-Malley have been seeking an appropriate spot to build a new Dodger field. Ebbets Field seats about 32,000.

Kleinsasser, first string wingback, played football with star Princeton tailback Dick Kazmaier. He served in the paratroops after graduation in 1951.

Donovan, Johnson Ink Contracts Of Chisox

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Pitchers Dick Donovan and Connie Johnson today became the latest Chicago White Sox players to sign for 1956, boosting to 20 the number now under contract.

Donovan, 28, hurled five shutouts in posting a 15-9 record last season and had a 3.32 earned run average. Late in the season he was sidelined three weeks ago after an appendectomy.

Johnson, 33, ran up a 12-2 mark at Toronto before being recalled by the Sox July 1. During the last half of the season he had 7-4 and a 3.05 ERA for the Sox.

Congressional Hilites

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON Jan. 21, (AP)—President Eisenhower wrapped up good news and bad in one big package this week and shipped it off to Capitol Hill.

In his annual budget message, Eisenhower told Congress Monday he looks for balanced federal budgets two years running. Everyone agreed this news was indeed good.

Eisenhower added, however, that budget surpluses will be "slim" and any move to cut taxes should be deferred until a more prudent time. On this score, his message provoked some long faces.

Most Congress members seemed to feel, however, that the prudent time for cutting taxes still may come before the fall election campaign—and they got some encouragement from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

The secretary conceded to newsmen that budget estimates of future federal revenue might be "unduly conservative." If so, there likely would be ample time in the coming months to find this out and do something about taxes.

Elsewhere on the legislative scene, the Senate was approaching midsession form. It began debating a controversial natural gas bill while its agriculture committee went to work on a new farm program and its members engaged in partisan infighting over magazine statements by Secretary of State Dulles and retired Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

BUDGET—Eisenhower's budget for fiscal 1957, the bookkeeping year that begins July 1, called for a spending increase over this year of 1¼ billion dollars to $65,865,000,000, with revenues to hit $66,300,000,000, compared with $64,500,000,000 this year.

House Republican Leader Martin termed Eisenhower's fiscal blueprint "a major achievement" but Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee said he was "astonished" at plans to boost spending in most categories. Cannon said Cingress had hoped for a "retrenchment" that would lead to tax cuts.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas commented that "Only time will tell whether this is realistic and reflects all the facs."

DULLES—Congressional Democrats jumped at Dulles after Life magazine quoted him as saying the United States went to the "brink of war" three times during his tenure but stayed at peace because of strong action.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) called in a Senate speech for a full congressional review of what he termed Dulles' "diplomacy of the brink." Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee endorsed this proposal saying some phases of foreign policy "need a more complete review than they ever have been given by Congress."

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) accused Democrats of raising a "political dust storm" which he said couldn't "cloud the incontestable fact that we are at peace under the leadership of President Eisenhower and Dulles."

RIDGWAY—Gen. Ridgway, former Army chief of staff, contended in a Saturday Evening Post article that politics prompted the administration to make dangerous cuts in the Army. He wrote that he rejected pressure, "sometimes crudely applied," to go along with such moves.

Several congressional committees voiced immediate interest in hearing more from Ridgway and he made known his willingness to testify.

GAS—The Senate took up a bill to free producer prices of natural gas from direct federal regulation—a proposal that edged through the House, 209-203, last year.

Opponents argued this would bring a big boost in the price of gas to consumers. The bill's supporters disagreed. The debate, cutting across party lines, is expected to continue for several weeks.

FARM—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) introduced the administration's "soil bank" farm program as the Senate Agriculture Committee began public hearings on farm legislation. All factions urged quick action, and hearings are to end Monday.

PRESIDENTIAL DUTIES—Former President Hoover, looking reasonably fit at 81, told a Senate subcommittee the presidential work load must be lightened "if we're going to keep them alive."

Hoover's proposal that an administrative vice president be named to take on some lesser White House chores drew a dissent, however, from former President Truman. In a letter to the subcommittee, Truman contended such action would be unconstitutional.

Cotton Futures Move Downward

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—After a somewhat erratic series of ups and downs, the cotton futures market moved into lower ground this week. Net losses for the period on the New York Cotton Exchange ranged from 45 cents to $2.55 a bale.

A sharp decline at the start of the week was triggered by approval in the House of Representatives of a bill which would allow the Secretary of Agriculture to substitute privately - owned cotton for government surplus staple in sales to brokers under the government's new surplus export program.

Uncovering of stop-loss orders accelerated the decline. The market subsequently recovered as various bullish forces came into play.

The government's latest report on loan entries provided a strong prop for the future market this week. It showed a total of 445,000 bales pledged to the government during the week ended Jan. 13, against 263,000 bales the week before.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the exchange at 66,000 bales. That compares with 65,000 bales the previous week and 102,000 in the like week last year. It would raise the total for the season to 851,000 bales, against exports of 1,822,000 bales at approximately the same time last season.

Eastern Germany Adopts Prussian Army Uniforms

BERLIN, Jan. 21 —UP— German soldiers will tramp the streets of Berlin again soon in the same black hob-nailed boots and grey tunics Adolf Hitler's Wehrmacht troopers wore for their fuehrer.

Communist East Germany is going to clothe its new army in the traditional uniform of the Prussian troops but there the similarity will end.

Western political observers say the spirit of the new "National Peoples Army" will be strictly Soviet.

The East German private will address his superiors as "Comrade Capitan," instead of "Herr Capitan."

The nucleus of the army will be the 120,000-man Soviet-built Peoples Police Army already patrolling the eastern half of divided Germany. Their name and uniform will be changed.

The equipment, organization, training and tactics of the new Red Wehrmacht will remain Russian. And the equipment compares favorably with Western weapons.

When the East German Communists proclaimed the formation of their National Peoples Army this week they said the tradition of the great Prussian generals of history would form its spirit.

The privates will swap their olive drab, Soviet-style police uniforms for field grey battle dress almost identical to that of Hitler's troops. Generals will wear red stripes down their trousers just like the fuehrer's field marshals did.

25,000 Workers Now Idled By Auto Companies

DETROIT, Jan. 21 —UP— The auto industry, anticipating a seasonal buyer slump, has idled some 25,000 production workers in the past month in an effort to right the lop-sided level of supply and demand.

Plymouth division of Chrysler Corp., laid off 10,350 workers Friday, the biggest individual layoff notice announced since the industry started gradually trimming production in mid-December.

Plymouth said 8,350 workers would be laid off in Detroit and 2,000 at two plants at Evansville, Ind.

William J. Bird, Chrysler vice president in charge of the Plymouth division, said production schedules were reduced in order "to bring dealer stocks into line with market demand."

Earlier, other Chrysler divisions and Ford and General Motors announced layoffs of approximately 15,000 workers.

The three firms known as the industry's "big three," turn out 95 per cent of the nation's automobiles.

The layoffs came with dealer stocks at near-record level and despite brisk selling by dealers the early part of this month.

All Grain Prices Suffer Declines

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP) —All grains declined on the Board of Trade this week with new crop wheat futures suffering heaviest losses.

The market was a disappointment to the bulls, and may have been to the backers of the new administration farm plan, too. There were uncertainties and worries about the proposed plan.

Wheat closed the week 2⅛-5⅜ lower, corn ¼-⅝ lower, oats ¼ to 1 cent lower, rye 2¾-3½ lower, soybeans ¼-2¼ lower and lard 15 to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Censorship, Probes

Press Official Warns Of Threat By Senate Group

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 —UP— Richard W. Slocum, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said Saturday that the Senate Internal Security subcommittee bears close watching as a possible threat to press freedom.

Speaking at the annual international Benjamin Franklin Society luncheon which this year marked the 250th anniversary of Franklin's birth, Socum noted that some of the same problems of censorship and news suppression which Franklin faced as a newspaper publisher exist today. He said a recent manifestation of this "has been the investigation of newspapermen by congressional committees charged with hunting Communist subversives."

Slocum, who is executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, accepted the society's gold medal "in recognition of his outstanding leadership in upholding and defending the freedom of the press." Due to a recent illness, the Philadelphia publisher delegated the reading of his speech to William Dwight, vice president of the ANPA.

Slocum said he believed the press is "subject to proper inquiry," but he said he questioned the motives of the Senate Security subcommittee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) in investigating employes of several New York newspapers "with heavy emphasis on the New York Times."

"Is the subcommittee sincerely and solely interested in finding out whether subversion exists in the press?" he asked. "Or is it aiming at certain newspapers with the thought of reprisal and intimidation? Because it seems so apparent the subcommittee has sent its dogs to bark up a tree where there is nothing but a mighty lean coon, if any at all, there is reason to watch this committee closely."

British Jet Hits House; 4th Crash In 24-Hour Period

LONDON, Jan. 21—UP—A Royal Air Force jet smashed into a house in Oxford Saturday, the fourth military plane crash in Britain in 24 hours.

The pilot was injured seriously but the four occupants of the house, including an 18-month-old boy and a four-year-old girl, escaped with minor injuries.

In three crashes Friday a total of six persons were killed and 25 injured.

Former Convict Will Demonstrate 'Last Mile' Walk

Bill Mills, ex-outlaw and ex-convict from Texas, will demonstrate "the last mile" to the electric chair at 2:30 p.m. today on the fairgrounds in West Monroe, under auspices of church groups in this area.

According to reports, Mills spent 25 years behind prison bars, being convicted on 32 different crime charges in Texas and Oklahoma. He has written a book, "Twenty-five Years Behind Prison Bars," which will be available at this afternoon's event.

In his program, Mills shows a real electric chair and tells of how he saw 16 men electrocuted. He wears a striped suit and tells of seeing the notorious Clyde Barrow kill his first man.

The ex-convict also will tell of his conversion behind prison bars.

He is billed as being recommended by the sheriff of Dallas County, Tex.; the Texas attorney general; and the Texas U. S. Senator and Congressman. He is said to deglamorize crime.

Billy Graham Greeted By Huge Crowd In India

MADRAS, India, Jan. 21 (AP) — American evangelist Billy Graham was greeted by a large crowd at the airport today on his arrival to conduct a series of meetings.

Indian Christian women in colorful saris were present as a reception committee presented him a gold lace garland.

"I have come to India with humility and to learn wisdom from your people and never to ask you to do this or that," Graham said.

He told reporters:

"Mine is no political mission. Nor have I accepted any invitation from any European authorities to visit India. I come solely on the Indian churches' invitation to deliver the message of Christ to my Indian brethern and never for my proselytization."

Graham came here from Bombay, where rioting over the Nehru government's decision to make Bombay a federal city caused authorities to cancel the American's scheduled mass meeting last night.

Soviets To Ship Wheat To India

MOSCOW, Jan. 21—UP—Soviet authorities have agreed to ship 20,000 tons of wheat to India immediately to alleviate the emergency caused by floods, Indian sources here disclosed Saturday.

The sources said the Russians responded promptly to an Indian request, leaving terms and prices for the shipment to be discussed late.

Hollywood Has Mock Nomination For Presidency

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 —UP— Motion picture czar Eric Johnston was "nominated" for president Saturday night and promptly announced that if elected his commissioner of internal revenue will be blonde Marilyn Monroe, aided by Jane Russell.

The mock nomination featured the venerable Alfalfa Club's annual soiree at which Vice President Richard M. Nixon and seven other notables were inducted as new members.

Club member Dwight D. Eisenhower could not be present to see the fun which ran the gamut from friendly jibes at his secretary of state to "candidate" Johnston's crack that his own humble beginning was in "a mere $2-million log cabin" on a movie lot in Culver City, Calif.

The hundreds of members and guests included cabinet members, senators, congressmen, industrialists, supreme court judges and others from all walks of life. Retiring President Thomas W. Brahany surrendered the gavel to his successor, Samuel H. Kauffmann, president of the Evening Star Publishing Company.

No political novice, Johnston grabbed the presidential nomination and started running.

"I have searched my soul," said Johnston, "and I say you could not have found a better man, better fitted for the mighty task at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue (the White House).

"What other candidate hates the game of golf, abhors life upon the farm, and doesn't like babies or dogs, either?"

President Pays Surprise Visit To Gettysburg Farm

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 21—UP—President Eisenhower took advantage of bright winter weather Saturday to drive here from Washington for lunch and a quick look around his farm.

He made the 85-mile drive through snow - covered Maryland and Pennsylvania countryside in about two hours.

The President left the White House before noon with the temperature in the middle 30s.

George E. Allen, Gettysburg neighbor and bridge-playing pal, accompanied Mr. Eisenhower in the presidential limousine.

It was Mr. Eisenhower's first visit to his farm since before Christmas.

There are eight kinds of rabbits and five kinds of hares in the United States.

One out of every 10 passenger cars and one out of every four trucks is used on the farm.

Evangeline Maps Season's Plans Today

Head, Farr, Adler Represent Sports At Loop Meeting

Ed Head, manager of the Twin Cities Sports, R. D. Farr, Jr. and Saul Adler, both members of the board of directors of the local baseball corperation leave this morning for the Evangeline League meeting in Lake Charles.

The purpose of the gathering of the league is to adopt the schedule and work out other details for the coming season. The various clubs will report on the progress of an all-important phase of operation, the sale of advanced season tickets.

There is a possibility that by the close of the meeting that all teams on the league will have announced some working agreement with a higher classification club. Thibodaux and Baton Rouge have recently affiliated themselves with two Southern Association teams, New Orleans and Atlanta, respectively.

The other working agreements between Evangeline members and other teams are as follows: Twin Cities with the New York Yankees. Alexandria with Shreveport, Crowley with Kansas City and Lafayette with the Chicago Cubs. Lake Charles and New Iberia are still independent. If these two get connections with higher classification organizations, these working agreements will strengthen the league considerably.

The New York Yankee hookup for the Twin Cities has meant a great deal to baseball of this area. Evidence of this is the Monroe - West Monroe team's finishing in first place and winning the playoff series last season under the Yankee affiliation. This was a tremendous improvement over the 1954 campaign when the local baseballers finished far below last year's mark. Attendance was also boosted a great deal and there was more interest in general, from all concerned.

Ticket sales are still in progress and the Sports have set a goal of 1,000 season books of tickets to be sold by March 1. The prices are $25 plus tax for grandstand seats, $17.50 for bleacher seats and $50 for box seats of four. They may be purchased from any member of the Sports board of directors or any authorized ticket salesmen, or at Adler Tire Company 201 South Grand street, or by phoning 3-8805, 3-9461. In West Monroe buy your tickets at Feeders Supply Company, 513 Trenton street.

LOUISIANA TECH'S FOOTBALL team for 1956 will have as tri-captains (left to right) tackle Pat Hinton, Ruston, halfback A. L. Williams, Shreveport, and center Charles Glover, Shreveport. All three will be seniors next year and played important roles in helping the Bulldogs capture the Gulf States Conference championship last season. The conference coaches honored the trio with All-GSC titles following the 1955 seasons. This is the first time in the memory of the Tech coaching staff for the Canine gridders to select three men as captains. The selections were announced Thursday evening at the annual Ruston Rotary Club banquet honoring the Tech team and coaches.

Willie Mays is the first player in major league history to hit 50 or more homers (he hit 51 last year) and steal 20 or more bases in the same season. He stole 24 bases in 1955.

Forty-Niners Obtain Talents Of Zaleski

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Jan. 21 (AP)—Jerry Zaleski, 191-pound Colorado A. and M. halfback, signed a contract today to play professional football next year with the San Francisco 49ers.

The signing was supervised by Mark Duncan, assistant coach for the 49ers and formerly an assistant coach at A. and M. Zaleski's home is in Chicago.

He played on the Northern team in the annual Blue-Gray game with his teammate, Gary Glick, wh yesterday was signed by the Pittsburgh Steelers of pro loop.

Duncan said Zaleski probably will be used chiefly on defense.

Berry, Wade Captain Tribe

Jimmy Berry and Aubry Wade have been elected captain and co-captain, respectively for the 1956 grid season by the Northeast football players, according to head Coach Devone Payne.

Berry is a native of West Monroe who played football at Ouachita Parish High. In 1952 he was chosen the Lions' best lineman. He is majoring in physical education and plans to make coaching his career. Last year Jimmy played outstanding football in the line and was one of the Indians' few returning standouts. Although Berry stands 5-11 and weighs 190 pounds he was one of the lightest men at the tackle position and the line in general last campaign.

Wade transferred from Jones County Junior College of Mississippi to Northeast last year. He played two years of junior college football and four seasons of high school ball before joining the Indians. Aubry compiles a comparatively good record last season with 445 yards gained rushing, 1237 yards punting and 351 yards gained from punt returns. He attempted 16 passes and completed four for 140 yards, and scored 33 points. Wade was one of the most outstanding transfer players that Northeast received in 1955. His home is now Monroe. He and Berry will be seniors the next school year.

For the past three years Northeast has been in the football rebuilding stage and will be in this catagory for at least a few more years. Although the past season was far from outstanding, it did denote a great deal of progress and advancement over the two previous seasons when the Indians copped but one game each campaign. The 1956 season is expected to improve over last year's mark and the following seasons, too, should be mu chbetter in general,

It must also be noted that Northeast is in one of the roughest small college grid leagues in the entire nation, the Gulf States Conference. For instance, the Indians defeated only one G.S.C. team in 1955, but the Tribe substantially defeated Delta State College in 1955 and the Statesmen were considered kingpins in their own rank in Mississippi.

Walpole Looking Great For Demon Basketball Team

NATCHITOCHES, La., Jan. 21 (Special)—It'll be "homecoming" for Northwestern State's Pete Walpole when the Demons invade Shreveport's Haynes gym for a joust with the high-riding Centenary Gents Wednesday night.

And if the 5'11" freshman sharpshooter from Bossier City gives his cross-river foes the type of reception he did at Natchitoches two weeks ago, Shreveport-Bossier City cage fans will probably be in for an interesting night.

Although only a yearling, Walpole has been the "fireman" of Northwestern's recent success with 44 points in his last four outings. Demon cage fans are suddenly beginning to realize that only veteran co-captains Dick Brown and George McConathy have tallied more over the same period.

After threading the nets with 10 against Centenary, Pistol Pete got 10 more in the Demons' 78-66 upset win over McNeese State, sacked up 12 as the Purple and White cagers edged past Southeastern at Hammond by 67-56, and added 12 more when N.S.C. got a revenge 80-66 decision over Stephen F. Austin.

Walpole alternates at guard with sophomore Ronnie Lebo and freshman "Red" Leach opposite the All-Conference Brown. All three play entirely different styles of ball, and the "change of pace" when a switch is made is enough to drive opposing guards to distraction.

Aside from his productive hardwood antics, Walpole is a fine pitching prospect for the Northwestern baseball nine this Spring. N.S.C. baseball mentor Alvin "Cracker" Brown believes that accuracy capable of splitting the nets from midcourt shouldn't have too much trouble finding the strike zone.

Argonauts Beat Rams To Cureton Signature

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21 (AP)—Harry Sonshine, manager of the Toronto Argonauts, said today U.C.L.A. guard Hardiman Cureton signed an Argo contract in Los Angeles last night for $10,000 plus a $1,000 bonus.

Sonshine, in Winnipeg at the joint meeting of the Big Four and Western Interprovincial Football Union, said assistant coach Bill Earley phoned him here to say he had signed Cureton.

Sonshine also said Earley was continuing contract talks in Los Angeles with U.C.L.A. halfback Sam Brown, drafted by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Cureton was a draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams.

Ouachita Grammar's Cagers Capture Two

Ouachita Parish Gram m ar School won a cage double header from Lenwil of West Monroe in elementary league play Friday as the O. P. G. S. girls won, 21-9, and the boys' team triumphed, 43-11. Earlier in the week the O. P. G. S. boys had beaten Selman Field, 40-15.

Wanda Sue Adcock led the girls' win with 10 points, and Joye Jones hooped six to lead Lenwil. In the boys' game, Bobby Massingill led the winners with 15.

Mullins Leaving K-State For Job With Marguette

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 21—UP—Larry (Moon) Mullins, a strong advocate of balance in sports, was named athletic director of Marquette University Saturday.

Mullins, athletic director at Kansas State College the past five years, agreed to terms estimated to be about $12,000 a year. He will replace Conrad Jennings, who is etiing July 1 afte completing 30 years as athletic director at Marquette.

The Rev. John G. Holbrook, S.J., chairman of the Marquette athletic board, said Mullins would have a free hand in running the school's sports program.

Basketball Coach Jack Nagle apparently had nothing to fear in the way of a change with a nationally ranked team. Football Coach Frosty Ferzacca, however, has had bad seasons in his two years at Marquette and is on the last year of a three year contract.

Mullins, 48, gained the reputation of fighting for a balanced sports program since becoming Kansas State athletic director in 1951. He started his athletic career in 1928 as a Notre Dame fullback under the late Knute Rockne.

He went into coaching as backfield coach at the University of Kansas in 1931. He later coached football, basketball and baseball at St. Benedict's College in Atchison, Kan., Loyola University of the South, St. Ambrose in Davenport, Iowa, and the University of Florida.

MAY WIN FIVE — Experts watching America's figure skating squad at practice in Cortina, Italy, predict it will win five Olympic medals— including one by injured Tenley Albright, above. They say U. S. will take first three places in mens' events and the first two in the ladies'. Predictions were made even though Miss Albright cut her right leg while working out Thursday and will be out of action for four or five days. (NEA Telephoto)

Techmen Halter Reigel; But Drop McNeese Contest

RUSTON, Jan. 21 (Special) — McNeese State came back strong in the second half to overpower Louisiana Tech Buddogs, 70 to 58, in a Gulf States Conference battle here tonight.

The McNeese Cowboys pulled away from a half-time 27 to 27 tie and led almost the entire last period to bring their G.S.C. standing 2-1.

Tonight's setback put Tech's conference standing at 2-2.

Coach Cecil Crowley's Techmen threw up a zone defense that stopped McNeese's high scoring forward Bill Reigel with only three field goals and 12 points. He went into the tilt with a 32-point average.

While the Canine's were stopping Reigel, however, four other McNeese cagers went to work to score in the double figures. Forward Frank Glenn topped the Cowboys scoring with 17 points. Center Dudley Carver put in 16. Center Charles Decker made 14 and guard Dick McGowan with 11.

Tech's guard Billy Wiggins sank 19 points for Tech's scoring honors of the game. Bulldog guard Jim Knotts was next with 12.

Box score:

Squaw Valley Due To Present Plans For Olympic Show

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 21 (AP)—A delegation from Squaw Valley, Calif.—1960 Winter Olympic games site—said tonight it would disclose full details here Tuesday on how funds can be raised for the next games.

Alexander Cushing of Squaw Valley, representative of the organizing committee in charge of the delegation, said a progress report also would be made before the International Olympic Committee.

"We also are here to study the organization and set up for these Winter Olympic games," Cushing said.

"We will tell the I.P.C. that the state of California has appropriated $1,000,000 for the games. The California olympic commission also has recommended to governor Goodwin Knight that California appropriate an additional $4,000,000.

"Governor Knight is in favor of the proposal. Newspapers in the state have canvassed members of the legislature and found overwhelming support for the proposal.

"There is no doubt in our minds that the money will be made available in March."

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the I.O.C., said here last night that he thought $5,000,000 would be necessary.

Cushing was accompanied to Cortina by Sandy McIlwane of New York, architect for the organizing committee; Richard Benson of Philadelphia, committee attorney, and Marshall Hazeltine of New York, special representative of the committee.

Others en route to Cortina include California state Senator Harold T. Johnson of Roseville; John Pierce of Sacramento, director of finance for the state of California who is special representative from Gov. Knight; Prentice Hall of San Francisco, president of the committee, and John Garland of Los Angeles, both a member of the organizing committee and the I.O.C.

Stage Set For Tributes To Neville Grid Champs

The Neville High School football Tigers, still "living" the 1955 campaign in which they marched through all contending opposition to the Louisiana double-A championship, turn out tomorrow evening as the honored guests of Twin Cities football followers to receive recognition of their title achievement at an "appreciation banquet" scheduled for Hotel Virginia.

The Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the two-dollar-a-plate recognition night program, and Jim Williams, executive secretary of the C. of C., yesterday said a large turnout of football followers of this area is already assured after a tabulation of early reservations.

Additional reservations will be accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office at Hotel Virginia until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

"We're so elated over the Tigers' march to the state championship that we feel anything we do for them will be too little. However, we're going to do our best to show them just how we feel bringing this athletic honor to our cities," Williams declared.

Merchants of the Twin Cities, most of them sports-minded businessmen who take an interest in all school athletic endeavors of Monroe and West Monroe, have pooled their efforts in securing trophies to presented to each member of coach Bill Ruple's championship outfit.

The partial program will have Harry Arthur, the TV sportscaster, serving as toastmaster. Van Odom, superintendent of the Monroe city school system, will introduce Neville's coaching staff. Coach Ruple will conduct the introduction of his champs. "Slim" Scogin, chairman of the C. of C.'s sports committee, will pass out the trophies, and a pair of annual awards contributed by Dr. W. L. Bendel and Ed W. Lockhart will also be presented.

Dr. Bendel's award goes to an outstanding member of the team, and Lockhart again gives his tenth annual sportsmanship award.

'Bama Threatens Vandy, Kentucky In Cage Chase

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 21 (AP) —Southeastern Conference statistics show why Alabama is making a definite and determined run with Kentucky and Vanderbilt for the league championship.

Individual statistics were released today by SEC commissioner Bernie Moore, and show that three Alabama aces, all seniors, are pacing the conference in as many statistical departments.

Big Jerry Harper (6-8) is the league's leading rebounder. Smooth George Linn (6-4) is the best shot from the foul line. The most accurate field goal shooter is Dennis O'Shea 6-3).

Figures released by Moore, including games through Jan. 17 show Harper far out in fron of Kentucky center Bob Burrow in the rebounding work. Harper has averaged pulling in 21.1 per game, while Burrow's average is 16.1.

Linn, who ranks third in scoring behind Louisiana State's Roger Sigler and Mississippi's Joe Gibbon, has dropped 65 of 79 tries from the foul line. He has an average of 82.3 per cent.

Bobby Kimmel, Georgia Tech, is next at 71 of 87 foul attempts, for an average of 81.6 per cent.

O'Shea moved past Gibbon in field accuracy last week, and now has put 49 of 102 attempts from the floor for a 48 per cent average. Gibbon is 106 for 224, a 47.3 per cent accuracy mark.

Sigler is leading scorer by virtue of his average of 24.9 per game point average in LSU's 14 games. Gibbon has averaged 22.3 and Linn 21.9 points per game.

Veteran White, Rookie Hopeful Rejoin Red Sox

BOSTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today received the signed baseball contracts of veteran catcher Sammy White and young southpaw pitcher Frank Bauman who is figured to play an important part in the club's 1956 campaign.

White signed readily after returning from a European trip. Last year he was one of the last to sign.

White last season set a club record for catchers by appearing in 143 games. His performance included a .261 batting average, 11 home runs and 64 runs batted in.

While this will be White's fifth year as the Red Sox' regular receiver, Bauman will be embarking on his first full major league season.

The 22-year-old lefty was discharged from the army last July 6 and rejoined the Louisville team. He was brought up to Boston July 22. He finished the year with a 2-1 record but Manager Mike Higgins says he didn't believe Bauman had a fair chance. He returned to baseball 25 pounds overweight and never did hit full stride.

Princeton Aide, Stiegman, Takes Post At Rutgers

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 21 (AP)—John R. Stiegman, 33-year-old Princeton University line coach, was named today head football coach at Rutgers University.

Stiegman was selected from nearly 100 applicants to replace Harvey Harman, ousted last November after a 3-5 season.

University president Lewis Webster Jones said Stiegman will be given a three-year contract at $10,000 a year. His assistants will also be given three-year contracts.

The new head mentor, who played hockey, lacrosse and football at Williams is expected to switch Rutgers to the single wing. The Scarlet has been a T-formation team under Harman, chief mentor here for 14 years.

The selection was announced in Dr. Jones' office after a meeting of the university president with athletic director Harry J. Rockafeller and an 11-man alumni advisory committee, all former football letter winners.

Rockafeller said Rutgers, which opens its 1956 season against Ohio Wesleyan Sept. 22, will continue to do without spring practice. On Sept. 29 the Scarlet meets Princeton.

Stiegman, a naval officer in World War II, was born in Buffalo, N. Y. He now lives at Hightstown.

He joined the Princeton athletic staff in 1946 and has since then coached the Tiger freshman hockey team for seven seasons, the 150-pound crew for the last two seasons, and the varsity line.

Princeton coach Charley Caldwell has termed him "one of the coming leaders in the college coaching profession" and "A remarkable defensive strategist."

Adam's Off Ox Captures Feature At Fair Grounds

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 (AP)—W. Hal Bishop's oddly named Adam's Off Ox came from well back in the pack to score a neck victory in the $5,000 Marriage Handicap at their Fair Grounds.

The eight-year-old Bishop gelding, a son of Princequillo, was fourth at the head of the stretch but passed the pace-setting Happy Memories a few strides from home. Lebanon Lad, the 4-5 favorite from the Maggio-Gregory stable, took the show spot, five lengths behind Happy Memories.

Second choice in the wagering, Adam's Off Ox returned $10, $5 and $2.60. Happy Memories, the J. C. Farrell color bearer who went to the post at 19-1, paid $15 and $3.80. Lebanon Lad returned a $2.20 show price to his disappointed backers in the crowd of 12,878.

Happy Memories streaked to a five length lead as the six-horse field went past the grandstand for the first time in the mile and one-eighth feature.

Lebanon Lad took the runnerup spot, while jockey R. L. Baird was content to race Adam's Off Ox in fourth place.

Coming around the turn from the backstretch, Happy Memories still held a length lead, but Adam's Off Ox took up the challenge and moved into second place.

Baird went to the whip and the Bishop entry moved in front at the 16th pole and had a shade advantage as the field went under the wire.

Adam's Off Ox travelled the distance in 1:56, six and two-fifth seconds off the track record held by Marriage, the two-time winner of the New Orleans Handicap and namesake of today's race.

But the track wasn't given to any record breaking today, since it was classed slow from mid-week rains.

In the secondary feature, the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn. Purse, B. A. Thompson's Poco Reto slipped through on the rail in scoring a half-length victory over W. E. Scmidt's Slammin' Har. Poco Reto, who went to the post a heavy favorite, returned $5.80.

The H.B.P.A. opens its annual convention here Monday.

Members of the Parimutuel Employers Guild continued to picket the track for the second day, but Fair Grounds president John S. Letellier said attendance and operations were normal.

The wagering on the nine-race program $677,066.

Student Architect Has Dodgers' Ear On Stadium Plans

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 21 (AP)—A 26-year-old student of architecture from Tennessee has submitted a plan for a giant indoor baseball stadium for the Brooklyn Dodgers as a thesis for his master of fine arts degree.

Theodore W. Kleinsasser Jr., Alcoa, Tenn., a student for the past two and a half years at the Princeton University School of architecture, gave his report yesterday to a special examination jury.

Dodger president Walter O'Malley was on the 10-member panel which listened to details of the 55,000 capacity stadium to be enclosed under a plastic all-weather done.

The jury and some 80 other attending the session applauded the former Princeton football star when he had finished and his thesis was approved. O'Malley praised the plan which has been under consideration since last fall.

R. Buckminister Fuller, creator of the so-called geodesic dome proposed for the stadium, and Capt. Emil Praeger U.S.N. (ret.), consulting engineer to the Dodgers, also sat on the jury.

The entire stadium would cost six million dollars, Kleinsasser said, with some $1,500,000 going for the dome itself.

Kleinsasser proposed the site at Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, Brooklyn, for the new stadium. Ebbets Field is located at Bedford avenue and Sullivan place, in that New York City borough.

New York City Officials and O.-Malley have been seeking an appropriate spot to build a new Dodger field. Ebbets Field seats about 32,000.

Kleinsasser, first string wingback, played football with star Princeton tailback Dick Kazmaier. He served in the paratroops after graduation in 1951.

Two Germans Will Report To Orioles In Spring Training

BALTIMORE, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced today they have signed two brothers, Claus and Hanjorg Helming, of Mennheim, Germany, the first players from that country to be imported for organized baseball in the United States.

They will go to spring training Feb. 15 with the Orioles at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The Helmig brothers were signed by Rex Greaves, an Oriole scout of military teams in Europe. He gave the Orioles full assurance that they are capable of playing in Class D and probably higher at the start.

The 20-year-old Claus is a right-hand pitcher and outfielder. The 17-year-old Hanjorg pitches and plays first base left handed but bats right hand.

However, Greaves is recommending them both primarily as pitchers.

The brothers formed their own baseball team in 1950. They played on an All-Star German baseball team in the European baseball championship series in 1954 and 1955.

Bolt Storms Ahead In Caliente As Souchak Falters

Tommy Chalks Up 3 Under 69 For Two-Stroke Lead

By BOB MYERS

TIJUANA, Mexico. Jan. 21 (AP)—Tall Tommy Bolt too command of the $12,500 Caliente Open Golf Tournament today, shooting a three under par 69 in the third round of the event as Mike Souchak, the leader through the first 36 holes, faltered and fell back.

Bolt's hot round gave him a 54-hole total of 208 and sends him into the final 18 holes tomorrow with a lead of two strokes over big Mike. Souchak registered a 74, for 210.

Playing before a sizable gallery over the 7,000-yard Tijuana Country Club, with its par 36-36—72, Bolt started out three shots behind the 28-year-old former college football player from Duke.

But as Souchak scrambled and lost decisions to par, Bolt caught him at the 13th hole of today's round and passed him on the 14th.

In third place at 211, was Marty Furgol, who shot a 71, and tied at 212 were Gene Littler, with a 70, and Bo Wininger, 71.

The leading amateur still was Rod Funseth, Spokane, Wash., with a 72 for 213, and tied with him were Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., 74, and Mike Fetchik, Mahopac, N. Y., 71.

Bolt and Souchak played in a threesome with Ted Rhodes, who bounced for a 76, so most of the day's action centered on this group.

Bolt played straight par on every hole on the first side, while Souchak was putting badly and his iron shots left much to be desired.

Then Bolt turned on the heat on the back side, knocking out three birdies with a beautiful display of shots with a four-wood. None of his birdie putts was any great length, so good were his approaches.

Bolt noted that in the three rounds he has scored 11 birdies, and the only long putt needed was a 30-footer in the first round. The rest were no longer than four feet.

Bolt's previous rounds were 69-70, while Souchak had carded a sizzling 65 and a 71.

Souchak's putter deserted him. On the 13th, for instance, he three putted from about 25 feet. The first putt was so strong it carried some eight feet past the cup.

Six strokes behind Bolt were three professionals, long John Barnum with a 68, Walter Burkemo a 70, and veteran Vic Ghezzi, 71.

Six players were tied at 215, including Frank Stranahan and Ed Oliver, while Doug Ford and Bob Rosburg were in the even par 216 bracket.

Todays weather was ideal and more was promised for the windup tomorrow of Tijuana's first Caliente Open since 1935.

'Red' Cambell Resigns As Rayville Grid Coach

RAYVILLE, La., Jan. 21 (Special)—M. R. "Red" Campbell, head coach of the Rayville High School football Hornets, has submitted his resignation to the Richland Parish School board, it has been reported here. Campbell's resignation came by letter from Starksville, Miss.

Coach Campbell submitted his resignation as coach and teacher Friday afternoon, but, according to J. B. Thompson Jr., superintendent of parish schools, the resignation will not be considered officially until it is acted upon by members of the school board at the next board meeting.

However, Coach Campbell requested that his resignation be considered effective immediately, and asked to be relieved of his duties from the date of his request.

Coach Campbell said his resignation was offered due to ill health, and added:

"I have enjoyed my six-year stay as an employee of the Richland Parish school board, and it is with deepest regret that circumstances force me to resign."

Thompson said no move has been made to fill the vacancy, pending the school board meeting, but that applications for the job are being accepted. He indicated the new coach will be named soon, however.

Coach Campbell has enjoyed considerable success with his Rayville teams, and produced his best machine in 1953 when the Hornets won the north Louisiana Class A championship, and several fine athletes were developed during his reign here, one notable being Levi "Chuck" Johns, ace back at Louisiana State University.

The departure of Campbell becomes the eighth in north Louisiana high school ranks in recent weeks. Other head grid coaches who have resigned include Jim Hodgins, Ouachita of Monroe; Bobby Taberlet, Jonesboro-Hodge; Jack Rowan, Byrd of Shreveport; George Doherty, Minden; Ralph Edwards, Pineville; Pat Riser, Leesville; and Guy Carroll, Bolton of Alexandria.

Tigers, Greenies Ready To Resume Basketball Wars

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21—UP—The traditional hard court rivalry between Tulane and LSU will be staged after a two-week mid-term examination layoff for both when the Wave cagers visit their state opponents Monday.

Tulane enters the fray with the better record, 6-8, but LSU, with a 4-10 season mark, was favored because of home-court familiarity.

On a comparison scale with Southeastern Conference foes, Tulane dropped verdicts to Florida, Kentucky and Tennessee after beating Georgia. LSU topped both Georgia and Florida before losing to Kentucky and Tennessee.

The wave will be out to extend its ten-year edge of 13-11 over the Tigers.

How does a wild duck steer his way from a marsh on the MacKenzie river to a slough in Louisiana, or from the Aleutians to Hawaii — and back again to the same sport?

Since Aristotle observed — erroneously, though it took 2,000 years to find him out — that a chosen leader headed the migrant flocks, wise men and ordinary clods alike have speculated on what guides the world's millions of migratory birds.

Guesses, educated and otherwise, on the answer have ranged from olympic guidance through plain magic to present-day theories of elaborate built-in biological radar. Or the whole mysterious business is dismissed in a word as instinct.

In other words, no one really knows.

But now a distinguished American waterfowl authority, summing up 15 years of observation by himself and other game management scientists, has come up with what may be an historical report.

The migratory process seems so uncanny, says H. Albert Hochbaum, that most of the theories to explain it may have been overcomplicated. The birds, he suggests, know their home the same way you know yours, and they travel in ancestral patterns using the same sort of system you would. This is the way that Hochbaum, director of research at the Delta Waterfowl Research Station in Manitoba phrases it:

"The beginning and ending of the annual migration is a learned place."

And the statement may become a milestone in wildlife management.

Hochbaum's report is contained in a book, "Travels and Traditions of Waterfowl," published this past week by the University of Minnesota press. It reviews the history of research on the subject and adds to it the findings of American and Canadian biologists cooperating in the Delta program.

In the title of the book, Hochbaum adds a word to the outdoorsman's vocabulary—traditions. It covers and explains much of the behavior previously obscured by the "Instinct" label.

Birds, of course, have a sense of direction but it's no sixth sense. So do some insects, like ants and bees, and most animals, as witness the cat that came back, to say nothing of the hunter. Modern man is no Polynesian navigator, by and large, but he can observe enough to tell east from west on a sunny day.

A duckling, Hochbaum says, learns its marsh, explores surrounding areas when it can fly, finally joins a mass migration to wintering grounds. Scattered landmarks can guide a flight for hundreds of miles, and from thousands of feet in the air such landmarks are visible day or night.

One immediate use of the Hochbaum theory is an explanation why regions that once bred multitudes of ducks are now barren, even though the habitat still may be favorable. If a population were wiped out by disaster or otherwise kept from breeding, traditional patterns might not be reestablished for years, if ever.

The monumental work is not exactly the kind of reading to while away 15 minutes between trains, but the sportsman and ornithologist may gain much from it.

On travel itself, Hochbaum observes that the distance of travel is relative to the traveler, and postulates, for fellow technicians, four coordinates to the dimension of travel.

What this amounts to, in understandable language, is time-in-space yardstick for comparing duck travel with human travel. Given the advances of his flying height, his lateral range of vision, his length of sight ahead and his speed, a canvasback has an overwhelming advantage. Three hundred miles to a duck is like 20 miles to a man.

For instance, by formula the 3,000 mile flight from the MacKenzie delta for the Gulf is to a duck as a 200-mile walk to a man, and that's possible to conceive, even today.

Evangeline Maps Season's Plans Today

Head, Farr, Adler Represent Sports At Loop Meeting

Ed Head, manager of the Twin Cities Sports, R. D. Farr, Jr. and Saul Adler, both members of the board of directors of the local baseball corperation leave this morning for the Evangeline League meeting in Lake Charles.

The purpose of the gathering of the league is to adopt the schedule and work out other details for the coming season. The various clubs will report on the progress of an all-important phase of operation, the sale of advanced season tickets.

There is a possibility that by the close of the meeting that all teams on the league will have announced some working agreement with a higher classification club. Thibodaux and Baton Rouge have recently affiliated themselves with two Southern Association teams, New Orleans and Atlanta, respectively.

The other working agreements between Evangeline members and other teams are as follows: Twin Cities with the New York Yankees. Alexandria with Shreveport, Crowley with Kansas City and Lafayette with the Chicago Cubs. Lake Charles and New Iberia are still independent. If these two get connections with higher classification organizations, these working agreements will strengthen the league considerably.

The New York Yankee hookup for the Twin Cities has meant a great deal to baseball of this area. Evidence of this is the Monroe - West Monroe team's finishing in first place and winning the playoff series last season under the Yankee affiliation. This was a tremendous improvement over the 1954 campaign when the local baseballers finished far below last year's mark. Attendance was also boosted a great deal and there was more interest in general, from all concerned.

Ticket sales are still in progress and the Sports have set a goal of 1,000 season books of tickets to be sold by March 1. The prices are $25 plus tax for grandstand seats, $17.50 for bleacher seats and $50 for box seats of four. They may be purchased from any member of the Sports board of directors or any authorized ticket salesmen, or at Adler Tire Company 201 South Grand street, or by phoning 3-8805, 3-9461. In West Monroe buy your tickets at Feeders Supply Company, 513 Trenton street.

LOUISIANA TECH'S FOOTBALL team for 1956 will have as tri-captains (left to right) tackle Pat Hinton, Ruston, halfback A. L. Williams, Shreveport, and center Charles Glover, Shreveport. All three will be seniors next year and played important roles in helping the Bulldogs capture the Gulf States Conference championship last season. The conference coaches honored the trio with All-GSC titles following the 1955 seasons. This is the first time in the memory of the Tech coaching staff for the Canine gridders to select three men as captains. The selections were announced Thursday evening at the annual Ruston Rotary Club banquet honoring the Tech team and coaches.

Willie Mays is the first player in major league history to hit 50 or more homers (he hit 51 last year) and steal 20 or more bases in the same season. He stole 24 bases in 1955.

Forty-Niners Obtain Talents Of Zaleski

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Jan. 21 (AP)—Jerry Zaleski, 191-pound Colorado A. and M. halfback, signed a contract today to play professional football next year with the San Francisco 49ers.

The signing was supervised by Mark Duncan, assistant coach for the 49ers and formerly an assistant coach at A. and M. Zaleski's home is in Chicago.

He played on the Northern team in the annual Blue-Gray game with his teammate, Gary Glick, wh yesterday was signed by the Pittsburgh Steelers of pro loop.

Duncan said Zaleski probably will be used chiefly on defense.

Berry, Wade Captain Tribe

Walpole Looking Great For Demon Basketball Team

NATCHITOCHES, La., Jan. 21 (Special)—It'll be "homecoming" for Northwestern State's Pete Walpole when the Demons invade Shreveport's Haynes gym for a joust with the high-riding Centenary Gents Wednesday night.

And if the 5'11" freshman sharpshooter from Bossier City gives his cross-river foes the type of reception he did at Natchitoches two weeks ago, Shreveport-Bossier City cage fans will probably be in for an interesting night.

Although only a yearling, Walpole has been the "fireman" of Northwestern's recent success with 44 points in his last four outings. Demon cage fans are suddenly beginning to realize that only veteran co-captains Dick Brown and George McConathy have tallied more over the same period.

After threading the nets with 10 against Centenary, Pistol Pete got 10 more in the Demons' 78-66 upset win over McNeese State, sacked up 12 as the Purple and White cagers edged past Southeastern at Hammond by 67-56, and added 12 more when N.S.C. got a revenge 80-66 decision over Stephen F. Austin.

Walpole alternates at guard with sophomore Ronnie Lebo and freshman "Red" Leach opposite the All-Conference Brown. All three play entirely different styles of ball, and the "change of pace" when a switch is made is enough to drive opposing guards to distraction.

Aside from his productive hardwood antics, Walpole is a fine pitching prospect for the Northwestern baseball nine this Spring. N.S.C. baseball mentor Alvin "Cracker" Brown believes that accuracy capable of splitting the nets from midcourt shouldn't have too much trouble finding the strike zone.

Argonauts Beat Rams To Cureton Signature

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21 (AP)—Harry Sonshine, manager of the Toronto Argonauts, said today U.C.L.A. guard Hardiman Cureton signed an Argo contract in Los Angeles last night for $10,000 plus a $1,000 bonus.

Sonshine, in Winnipeg at the joint meeting of the Big Four and Western Interprovincial Football Union, said assistant coach Bill Earley phoned him here to say he had signed Cureton.

Sonshine also said Earley was continuing contract talks in Los Angeles with U.C.L.A. halfback Sam Brown, drafted by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Cureton was a draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams.

Jimmy Berry and Aubry Wade have been elected captain and co-captain, respectively for the 1956 grid season by the Northeast football players, according to head Coach Devone Payne.

Berry is a native of West Monroe who played football at Ouachita Parish High. In 1952 he was chosen the Lions' best lineman. He is majoring in physical education and plans to make coaching his career. Last year Jimmy played outstanding football in the line and was one of the Indians' few returning standouts. Although Berry stands 5-11 and weighs 190 pounds he was one of the lightest men at the tackle position and the line in general last campaign.

Wade transferred from Jones County Junior College of Mississippi to Northeast last year. He played two years of junior college football and four seasons of high school ball before joining the Indians. Aubry compiles a comparatively good record last season with 445 yards gained rushing, 1237 yards punting and 351 yards gained from punt returns. He attempted 16 passes and completed four for 140 yards, and scored 33 points. Wade was one of the most outstanding transfer players that Northeast received in 1955. His home is now Monroe. He and Berry will be seniors the next school year.

For the past three years Northeast has been in the football rebuilding stage and will be in this catagory for at least a few more years. Although the past season was far from outstanding, it did denote a great deal of progress and advancement over the two previous seasons when the Indians copped but one game each campaign. The 1956 season is expected to improve over last year's mark and the following seasons, too, should be mu chbetter in general,

It must also be noted that Northeast is in one of the roughest small college grid leagues in the entire nation, the Gulf States Conference. For instance, the Indians defeated only one G.S.C. team in 1955, but the Tribe substantially defeated Delta State College in 1955 and the Statesmen were considered kingpins in their own rank in Mississippi.

Ouachita Grammar's Cagers Capture Two

Ouachita Parish Grammar School won a cage double header from Lenwil of West Monroe in elementary league play Friday as the O. P. G. S. girls won, 21-9, and the boys' team triumphed, 43-11. Earlier in the week the O. P. G. S. boys had beaten Selman Field, 40-15.

Wanda Sue Adcock led the girls' win with 10 points, and Joye Jones hooped six to lead Lenwil. In the boys' game, Bobby Massingill led the winners with 15.

Mullins Leaving K-State For Job With Marquette

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 21—UP—Larry (Moon) Mullins, a strong advocate of balance in sports, was named athletic director of Marquette University Saturday.

Mullins, athletic director at Kansas State College the past five years, agreed to terms estimated to be about $12,000 a year. He will replace Conrad Jennings, who is etiing July 1 afte completing 30 years as athletic director at Marquette.

The Rev. John G. Holbrook, S.J., chairman of the Marquette athletic board, said Mullins would have a free hand in running the school's sports program.

Basketball Coach Jack Nagle apparently had nothing to fear in the way of a change with a nationally ranked team. Football Coach Frosty Ferzacca, however, has had bad seasons in his two years at Marquette and is on the last year of a three year contract.

Mullins, 48, gained the reputation of fighting for a balanced sports program since becoming Kansas State athletic director in 1951. He started his athletic career in 1928 as a Notre Dame fullback under the late Knute Rockne.

He went into coaching as backfield coach at the University of Kansas in 1931. He later coached football, basketball and baseball at St. Benedict's College in Atchison, Kan., Loyola University of the South, St. Ambrose in Davenport, Iowa, and the University of Florida.

MAY WIN FIVE — Experts watching America's figure skating squad at practice in Cortina, Italy, predict it will win five Olympic medals— including one by injured Tenley Albright, above. They say U. S. will take first three places in mens' events and the first two in the ladies'. Predictions were made even though Miss Albright cut her right leg while working out Thursday and will be out of action for four or five days. (NEA Telephoto)

Tenley Albright Okayed For Competition

Scarcity Of Snow Causing Concern On Italian Scene

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 21 (AP)—A scarcity of snow worried Winter Olympics officials today but there was good news with the announcement that Tenley Albright, injured U.S. figure skating star, would be able to compete in the games opening Thursday.

While more than 1,000 athletes from 32 nations were putting in final practie licks, the injury jinx struck the Russians here and East Berlin skater broke the Soviet monopoly in the Swiss international speed skating championships across the Alps at Davos, Switzerland.

Miss Albright, the 20-year-old world skating champion from Newton Center, Mass., was examined by her doctor father, who said she would probably be able to resume her full training schedule Tuesday. Dr. Hollis Albright flew here from Boston after his daughter severely gashed her leg two days ago while skating.

The best hopes for U.S gold medals in the games are Miss Albright, and another world champion figure skater, Hayes Allen Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Russia's dominance in speed skating at Davos was shattered by Helmut Kuhnert, 19-year-old East German youth who captured the 10,000 meter (6 miles, 376 yards) race at Davos.

In his first international competition, Kuhnert sped over the course in 16 minutes, 33.2 seconds, beating out Kees Broekman, veteran Dutch internationalist, with a 16:33.5 clocking. Kuhnert's time was only six-tenths shy of the world record, and was 1:27.7 faster than he had ever covered the distance.

Russian skaters had won the 500, 1,500 and 5,000 meter events during the last three days, but today they could do no better than a third place by Oleg Goncharenko. His time was 16:36.4. Pat McNamara of Minneapolis, only American to qualify, finished 23rd in 17:46.7. His time was an American record.

Although several veteran Scandinavian speed skaters sat out the Davos affair, the Russians still were favored to capture one or two gold medals at Cortina. These 7th winter games are the first to draw the Russians out from behind the iron curtain.

The Russians, however, joined the injury brigade when two of their star women skiers and one male downhill ace were hurt during trial runs on lofty Tofana mountain's icy downhill course.

Valentina Nabatenko suffered a broken right leg in a nasty spill, and went to Codivilla hispital. Alla Vasiljeva sprained her right ankle and Victor Turunin sprained his left ankle, but Russian team officials were unable to say whether they could compete in the games.

Five days before the games are due to start they have a greater casualty list than the entire 1952 Oslo games. Katy Rodolph of Reno, Nev., one of the top U. S. skiers, is definitely out with a fractured neck vertebrae. Evi Lanig, German downhill star, and the Romanian Alpine star John Secui fractured legs yesterday. Belgian bobsledder Charles De Sorger has a broken arm.

U. S. bobsled hopes rose when Waightman (Bud) Washbond of East Hartford, Conn., sped down the Olympic course in the fastest two-heat time of the day's practice runs. Washbond piloted his two-man sled down the twisting, 1,700-meter chute in one minute, 24.53 seconds, and 1:24.11.

His combined time of 2:48.64 bettered the 2:48.80 total for Eugenio Monti, ace Italian driver who is rated the one to beat in the Olympic championship. James Bickford, Saranac Lake, N. Y., acted as brakeman on one of Washbond's runs, while Pat Biesiadecki, Ware, Mass., took over brake on the second spin.

Over on the ski jump, Dick Rahoi of Iron Mountain, Mich., soared 249 feet, 4¼ inches for the best performance of an American in the trials. But the best leap of the day, 259 feet, 2½ inches, was turned in by Koba Tsakadze of Russia, who had a bad spill.

In the past week the weather has jittered daily from near Lapland temperatures to the sunny 50's. As the snow now lies, the games could be held but many skiers believe the performances would be poor. Several events would be highly dangerous, especially for the fast turning slalom and giant slalom skiers.

A 13-inch snowfall covered this dolomite Alps valley 11 days ago. Not a fraction of an inch has been added since. In the meantime alternating thaws and freezes have glazed much of the snow with an icy crust.

There are bare patches in melting snow at several places on Alpine trails.

Twenty-four gold medals emblematic of first place will be awarded between Thursday and Feb. 5 for these events:

Men's and women's downhill, slalom, giant slalom; singles figure skating, pairs figure skating; the 10 meter and 3 x 5 meter cross country women ski races; men's 15, 30 and 50 meter and the 4 x 10 meter relay cross country races; nordic combination; special jumping; two and four-man bobsled races; ice hockey; and speed skating over 500, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Unless all signs are wrong, the Russians will be dominant, winning at least six or seven gold medals. They are not entered in the bobsled races or figure skating.

In addition to speed skating, the Soviet athletes can be expected to win one or two men's cross country events; a pair of women's cross country races, and at least one Alpine events.

In addition to the figure skating and two-man bobsleds, the U. S. also has a good chance in the four-man bobsled, piloted by Art Tyler, Rochester, N. Y., physicist.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, International Olympics Committee president, is fully satisfied with the games arrangement. More than $8,000,000 has been spent for the big winter sports show.

DEAF MUTE WINS

MANILA, Jan. 21 (AP)—Deaf mute Mario D'Agata outclassed little Cezar of the Philippines tonight to score an easy 10-round decision in a bantamweight fight in Manila's Rizal Stadium. Both weighed 120.

Curtis Boys Give Scarr, Kowalski Relay Rematch

The colorful Curtis brothers, Jack and George, are giving villainous Stan Kowalski and Red Scarr another chance to accomplish what they failed to do last week in an almost "anything goes" match when they tangle again Tuesday night in the tag team wrestling main event at Gus Kallio's Arena. And a "winner-take-all" tag has been applied.

Scarr, the hooded bad boy, and Kowalski, the six-foot-six cotton-hued longhair of the Gorgeous George school, did plenty of complaining about their loss last Tuesday in a "Texas rules" bout that permits much of the mat tactics usually considered illegal anywhere else. The Curtis brothers found "Texas style" to their liking in outroughing the toughies, but Scarr and Kowalski figured the match was too fast for one referee to handle.

"Maybe the referee just couldn't keep track of everything, but we should have been the winners," declared Kowalski, a recent addition to the southern mat circuits. "It's likely that it takes two referees to follow this style of wrestling. Give us two referees, and we'll show those Curtis boys. We'll even back our confidence with a winner-take-all risk."

"Whatever they want is okay with us," commented Jack Curtis, spokesman for the Vicksburg brothers upon being relayed the challenge by Promoter Kallio.

So Kallio bills the winner-take-all relay scramble and announced last night that Bill Barney, the West Monroe automobile mechanic, and Curt Englade, an import from Mississippi, will serve as referees.

The tag tussle, with a 90-minute time limit, two falls to win, will be preceeded by a pair of one-fall scraps in which the main event talent will take introductory bows.

MIGHTY POLACK — Stan Kowalski, native of Poland, teams with masked Red Scarr against Jack and George Curtis in a tag Match Tuesday at Kallio's Arena Tuesday. The big Pole stands six-foot-six, weighs well over 200 pounds.

Host Of Rookies Ready For National Loop Bids

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21 — UP—The National League Saturday announced it would turn loose a huge total of 134 frisky rookies in spring training pastures next month, labelling them "unhesitatingly" as the finest crop of youngsters to come up since World War II.

Dave Grote, head of the National League Service Bureau, who compiled the list of rookies, said a large number of them figured to stick "on the strength of outstanding minor league performance in 1955".

Many of the newcomers are not newcomers at all, nor are they rookies in any sense of the word. They are veterans, who fall into the rookie class because they are ex-major leaguers back and shooting for comebacks.

Among the players returning for another chance are George Munger, ex-Cardinal right hander who is up with Pittsburgh after a 23-8 year at Hollywood; pitcher Al Worthington back with the Giants after winning 19 at Minneapolis; Ray Murray, ex-Athletics' catcher also on the Giant roster after a .329 batting mark at Dallas; and relief pitching expert Ken Lehman who comes to the Dodgers again after a 22-9 season with Montreal.

Others whose names will be remembered by the squint - eyed baseball fanatics who scan big league box scores are pitcher Stu Miller and first baseman Tom Alston, both in for another look in the Cardinal camp, and pitchers Turk Lown and Jim Brosnan, who will be trying to stick this time for good with the Cubs. The Phillies, only club without a minor league all-star on their roster, are bringing back one of Washington's old knuckle ball experts, Marino Pieretti.

Other players by clubs who are rated as likely to stick with the parent teams:

MILWAUKEE — First baseman Frank Torre, .327 at Toledo; pitcher Red Murff, Texas League's "pitcher of the year" with a 27-11 mark at Dallas; and pitcher Humberto Robinson 14-4 at Toledo.

PITTSBURGH — Pitcher Fred Waters, 18-3 with a 2.06 earned run average at Mexico City; infielder, Curt Roberts, .321 at Hollywood; outfielder Bobby Del Greco, .287 with 73 RBIs at Hollywood; first baseman Bob Skinner, .346 at New Orleans and catcher Danny Kravitz, .298 with 88 RBIs at New Orleans.

NEW YORK — Infielder Bill Gardner, .310 at Minneapolis and outfielder Bob Lennon, .280, 31 homers, and 104 RBIs at Minneapolis.

BROOKLYN — Shortstop Jasper Spears, .262 at St. Paul; outfielder Gino Cimoli, .306 at Montreal; outfielder Dick Williams, .317 at Fort Worth; and infielder Charley Neal, .274 at Montreal.

CINCINNATI — Pitcher Charley Rabe, 21-7 and the Sally League's "most valuable player" at Columbia, S. C.; pitcher Jim Pearce, 12 5 at Omaha, and catcher Ed Bailey, .282 at San Diego.

ST. LOUIS — Catcher Hal Smith .299 at Houston; infielder Joe Cunningham, .275 at Rochester; shortstop Dick Schofield, .273 at Omaha; and outfielder Russ Rac, .312 with 21 homers and 98 RBIs at Houston.

CHICAGO — Outfielder Gale Wade, .310 at Los Angeles, and infielder Bob McKee, .278 and the Western League all-star second baseman at Des Moines.

PHILADELPHIA — Outfielder Bob Bowman, .270 at Syracuse; pitcher Jim Owens, 15-11 at Syracuse; and pitcher Lynn Lovenguth, 15-8 at Syracuse.

Miss Berg Forges 5-Stroke Margin In Tampa Tourney

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 21 (AP)—Patty Berg pulled away from the field in the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament with another four under par 71.

With a 54-hole total of 218 the popular veteran is four strokes to the good with one more round to go.

Skipping from third to second place with a 73 was Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., who now has 222.

Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., who had trailed Miss Berg by only one stroke the first two days, blew to 79 today and slipped to third with 227.

Tied at 229 were Louise Suggs, the pre-tournament favorite with Miss Berg, and Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif. Miss Suggs shot 76 and Miss Hanson 74 over the 6,307-yard Palma Ceia course.

Fullerton Tagged Mont's Top Aid In Terrapin Camp

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 21 (AP)—Ed Fullerton, former star University of Maryland football player, was named today as head Coach Tommy Mont's first new assistant.

Fullerton, who played at halfback and fullback before his graduation in 1953, was separated recently from the air force for which he played and coached at the nearby Bolling Base.

A 25-year-old product of near Pittsburgh, Fullerton turned in his greatest performance in Maryland's 28-13 Sugar Bowl victory over Tennessee in 1952. He scored two touchdowns, passed for another and recovered a fumble setting up the fourth.

He played briefly for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League in 1953 before entering the air force.

Mont, who became head coach earlier this week after Jim Tatum's resignation and departure for North Carolina, said Fullerton will serve as assistant backfield coach.

Game Laws To Be Talked At Wildlife Unit's Meet

By JOHN SNYDER
Director Louisiana Wildlife Federation

The officers of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation have called a meeting of all interested sportsmen of the parish for Tuesday night at the Virgish Hotel for the purpose of drafting new resolutions governing hunting and gishing for the coming year. The resolutions passed upon here will then be introduced at the "state-wide" convention of the Federation to be hald in Baton-Rouge in February.

The Louisiana Wildlife Federation, affiliated with the National Federation, is an organization for all of the sportsmen of Louisiana. Not designed as an organization to be run by or for any particular cliche, but, rather, an oragnization of sportsmen pledged to defend our natural resources from wasteful destruction, the Wildlife Federation plays a large part in shaping our state and federal laws regulating opening and closing of seasons, bag and creel limits, license and stamp fees, possession limits, and other important phases of hunting and fishing laws.

Our elected officials, both state and federal, eager to please the nations sportsmen as much as possible with our limited supply of fish and game, use the Wildlife Federation as a sounding board. Therefore, it is of the utmost importance that sportsmen, should attend this meeting and make their feelings known. The officers of the local unit again take this opportunity to solicit your membership in the federation and assure you that your active patircipation in its affairs will be welcomed, and your ideas concerning the conservation of our resources appreciated and the proper value placed upon them - not by any individuals, but by the unit as a whole.

Election years, with their changing of officials, both appointed and elected, as well as existing laws and regulations, management and filed personnel, ideas concerning the conservation and reaping of the harvest of past planting and restocking programs, are trying times. Times when sportsmen should be constantly on guard, lest years of past work be proven fruitless and sportsmen deprived of God-given resources by selfish interest or well-meaning officials hounded by pressure groups.

For instance, at this time, there is a group of cattlemen in the west who are making attempts to take over our great national forest for their personal use. This minority group, unmindful of the thousands of tourist and sportsmen who enjoy this forest each year, would have already desecrated much of this area if it had not been for concerted action from the nation's sportsmen. This is by no means the first "interest grab" of its kind - nor will it be the last. The next one could be here in Louisiana. Unite now, and present a united front of sportsmen, united for the protection and conservation of our natural resources. Let us work with our officials; give them the benefit of our past achievements as well as our mistakes, for we sportsmen have a collective knowledge of hunting and fishing conditions that only actual experience of years spent afield can provide.

Louisiana has surged forward in the past eight years in its conservation program. After many years of neglect and public indifference, our officials began to take steps to correct the wanton destruction of our natural resources — our many lakes, rivers, and forest — and Louisiana, endowed more so than most states with the beauties and priceless wonders of nature is well on the way to its rightful place as the garden spot of America. A hunting and fishing paradise for the recreation and enjoyment of all of its citizens, as well as thousands of tourist who are already flocking here, bringing many thousands of much needed tourist dollars to add to the economy of one and all.

The new and incoming administration has already shown its interest in working with the sportsmen of this state in carrying on this all important work for a better Louisiana. They have promised that well qualified men will be chosen to work untiringly with and for the interest of all of our people towards the betterment and preservation of our resources. Can we, the people, ask more? Can we ask more of them than we are willing to do for ourselves? We, as Americans and true sportsmen, can show these men that we are ready and willing to do our part by attending this wildlife meeting Tuesday night, expressing our interest in conservation and submitting our ideas and proposals (in writing) for an improved program in the future.

The spirit of free election will also prevail at this meeting as members, old and new, will have the pleasure of nominating fellow spotrsmen - to be voted upon at the February meeting - for the various offices of the Ouachita unit. Nominations will also be taken for the most outstanding sportsman of 1955, who will receive the coveted Floyd Martin Memorial trophy given each year, in honor of a deceased and respected past president of the Ouachita unit, to the local sportsmen whom the members of the unit feel has done the most outstanding job of promoting conservation for that period.

The meeting will be opened at 7:30 o'clock with the showing of a short film on bear hunting, then, the remainder of time will be given over to the business at hand.

Vidalia Looking To Falkenheiner For More Honor

A Viking center, young Falkenheiner was recently declared recipient of the sportsmanship award in the Jonesville tournament along with gaining a spot on the all-tournament team and from all indications this young athlete will be gaining many honors in the future as an athlete and a student as he rates highly in scholastics at the local school.

Burwell Jones, former University of Michigan swimming star, has won six National AAU titles.

Iowa State Cage Coach In Public Okay Of Officials

AMES, Iowa, Jan. 21 (AP)—Basketball coach Bill Strannigan of Iowa State College was on record today with a formal statement approving officials assigned in the Big Seven Conference.

Earlier this week Strannigan had charged that the league's officials were picking on Gary Thompson, the star Iowa State guard.

Strannigan read a formal statement to the crowd last night as a curtain-raiser to Iowa State's 81-60 victory over Drake. He said:

"In view of the fact that there has been so much publicity regarding officiating, and the work of Cliff Ogden in our recent games, I would like to take this opportunity to assure our home crowd that officials assigned in this league are of the highest caliber.

"Furthermore I would like to request that you treat our guest team and the officials in the manner that you would like your team to be treated on their games away from home."

In an interview Thursday, Strannigan had said that "referees' calls against Thompson on our trip to Oklahoma and Kansas have left me very upset."

He asserted that Big Seven coaches had "gotten together with the object of having what they call 'acting' or 'baiting' fouls called against Thompson."

He said that when Ogden was working the Iowa State - Kansas game at Kansas "this Kansas player knocks Gary down, yet Ogden calls the foul on Gary."

Ogden refereed last night's Iowa State-Drake game. After the game both Strannigan and Drake coach Jack McClelland said they thought the officiating was good.

Bolt Storms Ahead In Caliente As Souchak Falters

Tommy Chalks Up 3 Under 69 For Two-Stroke Lead

By BOB MYERS

TIJUANA, Mexico, Jan. 21 (AP)—Tall Tommy Bolt took command of the $12,500 Caliente Open Golf Tournament today, shooting a three under par 69 in the third round of the event as Mike Souchak, the leader through the first 36 holes, faltered and fell back.

Bolt's hot round gave him a 54-hole total of 208 and sends him into the final 18 holes tomorrow with a lead of two strokes over big Mike. Souchak registered a 74, for 210.

Playing before a sizable gallery over the 7,000-yard Tijuana Country Club, with its par 36-36—72, Bolt started out three shots behind the 28-year-old former college football player from Duke.

But as Souchak scrambled and lost decisions to par, Bolt caught him at the 13th hole of today's round and passed him on the 14th.

In third place at 211, was Marty Furgol, who shot a 71, and tied at 212 were Gene Littler, with a 70, and Bo Wininger, 71.

The leading amateur still was Rod Funseth, Spokane, Wash., with a 72 for 213, and tied with him were Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., 74, and Mike Fetchik, Mahopac, N. Y., 71.

Bolt and Souchak played in a threesome with Ted Rhodes, who bounced for a 76, so most of the day's action centered on this group.

Bolt played straight par on every hole on the first side, while Souchak was putting badly and his iron shots left much to be desired.

Then Bolt turned on the heat on the back side, knocking out three birdies with a beautiful display of shots with a four-wood. None of his birdie putts was any great length, so good were his approaches.

Bolt noted that in the three rounds he has scored 11 birdies, and the only long putt needed was a 30-footer in the first round. The rest were no longer than four feet.

Bolt's previous rounds were 69-70, while Souchak had carded a sizzling 65 and a 71.

Souchak's putter deserted him. On the 13th, for instance, he three putted from about 25 feet. The first putt was so strong it carried some eight feet past the cup.

Six strokes behind Bolt were three professionals, long John Barnum with a 68, Walter Burkemo a 70, and veteran Vic Ghezzi, 71.

Six players were tied at 215, including Frank Stranahan and Ed Oliver, while Doug Ford and Bob Rosburg were in the even par 216 bracket.

Todays weather was ideal and more was promised for the windup tomorrow of Tijuana's first Caliente Open since 1935.

'Red' Cambell Resigns As Rayville Grid Coach

RAYVILLE, La., Jan. 21 (Special)—M. R. "Red" Campbell, head coach of the Rayville High School football Hornets, has submitted his resignation to the Richland Parish School board, it has been reported here. Campbell's resignation came by letter from Starksville, Miss.

Coach Campbell submitted his resignation as coach and teacher Friday afternoon, but, according to J. B. Thompson Jr., superintendent of parish schools, the resignation will not be considered officially until it is acted upon by members of the school board at the next board meeting.

However, Coach Campbell requested that his resignation be considered effective immediately, and asked to be relieved of his duties from the date of his request.

Coach Campbell said his resignation was offered due to ill health, and added:

"I have enjoyed my six-year stay as an employee of the Richland Parish school board, and it is with deepest regret that circumstances force me to resign."

Thompson said no move has been made to fill the vacancy, pending the school board meeting, but that applications for the job are being accepted. He indicated the new coach will be named soon, however.

Coach Campbell has enjoyed considerable success with his Rayville teams, and produced his best machine in 1953 when the Hornets won the north Louisiana Class A championship, and several fine athletes were developed during his reign here, one notable being Levi "Chuck" Johns, ace back at Louisiana State University.

The departure of Campbell becomes the eighth in north Louisiana high school ranks in recent weeks. Other head grid coaches who have resigned include Jim Hodgins, Ouachita of Monroe; Bobby Taberlet, Jonesboro-Hodge; Jack Rowan, Byrd of Shreveport; George Doherty, Minden; Ralph Edwards, Pineville; Pat Riser, Leesville; and Guy Carroll, Bolton of Alexandria.

Tigers, Greenies Ready To Resume Basketball Wars

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21—UP—The traditional hard court rivalry between Tulane and LSU will be staged after a two-week mid-term examination layoff for both when the Wave cagers visit their state opponents Monday.

Tulane enters the fray with the better record, 6-8, but LSU, with a 4-10 season mark, was favored because of home-court familiarity.

On a comparison scale with Southeastern Conference foes, Tulane dropped verdicts to Florida, Kentucky and Tennessee after beating Georgia. LSU topped both Georgia and Florida before losing to Kentucky and Tennessee.

The wave will be out to extend its ten-year edge of 13-11 over the Tigers.

Iowa's Calvin Jones Signs With Bombers

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21 (AP)—Calvin Jones, 22-year-old guard and captain of the University of Iowa football team last season, has signed to play with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of Canadian Football League, the club said today.

The Bombers are coached by Al Sherman, former assistant coach of the New York Giants of the National Football League.

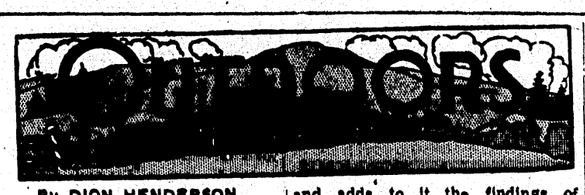
Auburn Starts Spring Grid Workouts Feb. 7

AUBURN, Ala., Jan. 21 (AP)—Head coach Ralph Jordan announced today that Auburn's spring football practice would begin Feb. 7, with the annual A-day game on March 3.

Jordan expects about 80 men to report for the drills, including 45 sophomores. Nine lettermen, including five starters, were lost from last year's team through graduation.



By DION HENDERSON
The Associated Press

How does a wild duck steer his way from a marsh on the MacKenzie river to a slough in Louisiana, or from the Aleutians to Hawaii — and back again to the same sport?

Since Aristotle observed — erroneously, though it took 2,000 years to find him out — that a chosen leader headed the migrant flocks, wise men and ordinary clods alike have speculated on what guides the world's millions of migratory birds.

Guesses, educated and otherwise, on the answer have ranged from olympic guidance through plain magic to present-day theories of elaborate built-in biological radar. Or the whole mysterious business is dismissed in a word as instinct.

In other words, no one really knows.

But now a distinguished American waterfowl authority, summing up 15 years of observation by himself and other game management scientists, has come up with what may be an historical report.

The migratory process seems so uncanny, says H. Albert Hochbaum, that most of the theories to explain it may have been overcomplicated. The birds, he suggests, know their home the same way you know yours, and they travel in ancestral patterns using the same sort of system you would. This is the way that Hochbaum, director of research at the Delta Waterfowl Research Station in Manitoba phrases it:

"The beginning and ending of the annual migration is a learned place."

And the statement may become a milestone in wildlife management.

Hochbaum's report is contained in a book, "Travels and Traditions of Waterfowl," published this past week by the University of Minnesota press. It reviews the history of research on the subject and adds to it the findings of American and Canadian biologists cooperating in the Delta program.

In the title of the book, Hochbaum adds a word to the outdoorsman's vocabulary—traditions. It covers and explains much of the behavior previously obscured by the "Instinct" label.

Birds, of course, have a sense of direction but it's no sixth sense. So do some insects, like ants and bees, and most animals, as witness the cat that came back, to say nothing of the hunter. Modern man is no Polynesian navigator, by and large, but he can observe enough to tell east from west on a sunny day.

A duckling, Hochbaum says, learns its marsh, explores surrounding areas when it can fly, finally joins a mass migration to wintering grounds. Scattered landmarks can guide a flight for hundreds of miles, and from thousands of feet in the air such landmarks are visible day or night.

One immediate use of the Hochbaum theory is an explanation why regions that once bred multitudes of ducks are now barren, even though the habital still may be favorable. If a population were wiped out by disaster or otherwise kept from breeding, traditional patterns might not be reestablished for years, if ever.

The monumental work is not exactly the kind of reading to while away 15 minutes between trains, but the sportsman and ornithologist may gain much from it.

On travel itself, Hochbaum observes that the distance of travel is relative to the traveler, and postulates, for fellow technicians, four coordinates to the dimension of travel.

What this amounts to, in understandable language, is time-in-space yardstick for comparing duck travel with human travel. Given the advances of his flying height, his lateral range of vision, his length of sight ahead and his speed, a canvasback has an overwhelming advantage. Three hundred miles to a duck is like 20 miles to a man.

For instance, by formula the 3,000 mile flight from the MacKenzie delta for the Gulf is to a duck as a 200-mile walk to a man, and that's possible to conceive, even today.

Tenley Albright Okayed For Competition

Scarcity Of Snow Causing Concern On Italian Scene

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 21 (AP)—A scarcity of snow worried Winter Olympics officials today but there was good news with the announcement that Tenley Albright, injured U.S. figure skating star, would be able to compete in the games opening Thursday.

While more than 1,000 athletes from 32 nations were putting in final practic licks, the injury jinx struck the Russians here and East Berlin skater broke the Soviet monopoly in the Swiss international speed skating championships across the Alps at Davos, Switzerland.

Miss Albright, the 20-year-old world skating champion from Newton Center, Mass., was examined by her doctor father, who said she would probably be able to resume her full training schedule Tuesday. Dr. Hollis Albright flew here from Boston after his daughter severely gashed her leg two days ago while skating.

The best hopes for U.S gold medals in the games are Miss Albright, and another world champion figure skater, Hayes Allen Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Russia's dominance in speed skating at Davos was shattered by Helmut Kuhnert, 19-year-old East German youth who captured the 10,000 meter (6 miles, 376 yards) race at Davos.

In his first international competition, Kuhnert sped over the course in 16 minutes, 33.2 seconds, beating out Kees Broekman, veteran Dutch internationalist, with a 16:33.5 clocking. Kuhnert's time was only six-tenths shy of the world record, and was 1:27.7 faster than he had ever covered the distance.

Russian skaters had won the 500, 1,500 and 5,000 meter events during the last three days, but today they could do no better than a third place by Oleg Goncharenko. His time was 16:36.4. Pat McNamara of Minneapolis, only American to qualify, finished 23rd in 17:46.7. His time was an American record.

Although several veteran Scandinavian speed skaters sat out the Davos affair, the Russians still were favored to capture one or two gold medals at Cortina. These 7th winter games are the first to draw the Russians out from behind the iron curtain.

The Russians, however, joined the injury brigade when two of their star women skiers and one male downhill ace were hurt during trial runs on lofty Tofana mountain's icy downhill course.

Valentina Nabatenko suffered a broken right leg in a nasty spill, and went to Codivilla hispital. Alla Vastiljeva sprained her right ankle and Victor Turunin sprained his left ankle, but Russian team officials were unable to say whether they could compete in the games.

Five days before the games are due to start they have a greater casualty list than the entire 1952 Oslo games. Katy Rodolph of Reno, Nev., one of the top U. S. skiers, is definitely out with a fractured neck vertebrae. Evi Lanig, German downhill star, and the Romanian Alpine star John Secul fractured legs yesterday. Belgian bobsledder Charles De Sorger has a broken arm.

U. S. bobsled hopes rose when Waightman (Bud) Washbond of East Hartford, Conn., sped down the Olympic course in the fastest two-heat time of the day's practice runs. Washbond piloted his two-man sled down the twisting, 1,700-meter chute in one minute, 24.53 seconds, and 1:24.11.

His combined time of 2:48.64 bettered the 2:48.80 total for Eugenio Monti, ace Italian driver who is rated the one to beat in the Olympic champion-ship. James Bickford, Saranac Lake, N. Y., acted as brakeman on one of Washbond's runs, while Pat Biesiadecki, Ware, Mass., took over brake on the second spin.

Over on the ski jump, Dick Rahoi of Iron Mountain, Mich., soared 249 feet, 4½ inches for the best performance of an American in the trials. But the best leap of the day, 259 feet, 2½ inches, was turned in by Koba Tsakadze of Russia, who had a bad spill.

In the past week the weather has jittered daily from near Lapland temperatures to the sunny 50's. As the snow now lies, the games could be held but many skiers believe the performances would be poor. Several events would be highly dangerous, especially for the fast turning slalom and giant slalom skiers.

A 13-inch snowfall covered this dolomite Alps valley 11 days ago. Not a fraction of an inch has been added since. In the meantime alternating thaws and freezes have glazed much of the snow with an icy crust.

There are bare patches in melting snow at several places on Alpine trails.

Twenty-four gold medals emblematic of first place will be awarded between Thursday and Feb. 5 for these events:

Men's and women's downhill, slalom, giant slalom; singles figure skating, pairs figure skating; the 10 meter and 3 x 5 meter cross country women ski races; men's 15, 30 and 50 meter and the 4 x 10 meter relay cross country races; nordic combination; special jumping; two and four-man bobsled races; ice hockey; and speed skating over 500, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Unless all signs are wrong, the Russians will be dominant, winning at least six or seven gold medals. They are not entered in the bobsled races or figure skating.

In addition to speed skating, the Soviet athletes can be expected to win one or two men's cross country events; a pair of women's cross country races, and at least one Alpine events.

In addition to the figure skating and two-man bobsleds, the U. S. also has a good chance in the four-man bobsled, piloted by Art Tyler, Rochester, N. Y., physicist.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, International Olympics Committee president, is fully satisfied with the games arrangement. More than $8,000,000 has been spent for the big winter sports show.

DEAF MUTE WINS

Curtis Boys Give Scarr, Kowalski Relay Rematch

The colorful Curtis brothers, Jack and George, are giving villainous Stan Kowalski and Red Scarr another chance to accomplish what they failed to do last week in an almost "anything goes" match when they tangle again Tuesday night in the tag team wrestling main event at Gus Kallio's Arena. And a "winner-take-all" tag has been applied.

Scarr, the hooded bad boy, and Kowalski, the six-foot-six cotton-hued longhair of the Gorgeous George school, did plenty of complaining about their loss last Tuesday in a "Texas rules" bout that permits much of the mat tactics usually considered illegal anywhere else. The Curtis brothers found "Texas style" to their liking in outroughing the toughies, but Scarr and Kowalski figured the match was too fast for one referee to handle.

"Maybe the referee just couldn't keep track of everything, but we should have been the winners," declared Kowalski, a recent addition to the southern mat circuits. "It's likely that it takes two referees to follow this style of wrestling. Give us two referees, and we'll show those Curtis boys. We'll even back our confidence with a winner-take-all risk."

"Whatever they want is okay with us," commented Jack Curtis, spokesman for the Vicksburg brothers upon being relayed the challenge by Promoter Kallio.

So Kallio bills the winner-take-all relay scramble and announced last night that Bill Barney, the West Monroe automobile mechanic, and Curt Englade, an import from Mississippi, will serve as referees.

The tag tussle, with a 90-minute time limit, two falls to win, will be preceeded by a pair of one-fall scraps in which the main event talent will take introductory bows.

MIGHTY POLACK — Stan Kowalski, native of Poland, teams with masked Red Scarr against Jack and George Curtis in a tag Match Tuesday at Kallio's Arena Tuesday. The big Pole stands six-foot-six, weighs well over 200 pounds.

Host Of Rookies Ready For National Loop Bids

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21 — UP—The National League Saturday announced it would turn loose a huge total of 134 frisky rookies in spring training pastures next month, labelling them "unhesitatingly" as the finest crop of youngsters to come up since World War II.

Dave Grote, head of the National League Service Bureau, who compiled the list of rookies, said a large number of them figured to stick "on the strength of outstanding minor league performance in 1955".

Many of the newcomers are not newcomers at all, nor are they rookies in any sense of the word. They are veterans, who fall into the rookie class because they are ex-major leaguers back and shooting for comebacks.

Among the players returning for another chance are George Munger, ex-Cardinal right hander who is up with Pittsburgh after a 23-8 year at Hollywood; pitcher Al Worthington back with the Giants after winning 19 at Minneapolis; Ray Murray, ex-Athletics' catcher also on the Giant roster after a .329 batting mark at Dallas; and relief pitching expert Ken Lehman who comes to the Dodgers again after a 22-9 season with Montreal.

Others whose names will be remembered by the squint - eyed baseball fanatics who scan big league box scores are pitcher Stu Miller and first baseman Tom Alston, both in for another look in the Cardinal camp, and pitchers Turk Lown and Jim Brosnan, who will be trying to stick this time for good with the Cubs. The Phillies, only club without a minor league all-star on their roster, are bringing back one of Washington's old knuckle ball experts, Marino Pieretti.

Other players by clubs who are rated as likely to stick with the parent teams:

MILWAUKEE — First baseman Frank Torre, .327 at Toledo; pitcher Red Murff, Texas League's "pitcher of the year" with a 27-11 mark at Dallas; and pitcher Humberto Robinson 14-4 at Toledo.

PITTSBURGH — Pitcher Fred Waters, 18-3 with a 2.06 earned run average at Mexico City; infielder, Curt Roberts, .321 at Hollywood; outfielder Bobby Del Greco, .287 with 73 RBIs at Hollywood; first baseman Bob Skinner, .346 at New Orleans and catcher Danny Kravitz, .298 with 88 RBIs at New Orleans.

NEW YORK — Infielder Bill Gardner, .310 at Minneapolis and outfielder Bob Lennon, .280, 31 homers, and 104 RBIs at Minneapolis.

BROOKLYN — Shortstop Jasper Spears, .262 at St. Paul; outfielder Gino Cimoli, .306 at Montreal; outfielder Dick Williams, .317 at Fort Worth; and infielder Charley Neal, .274 at Montreal.

CINCINNATI — Pitcher Charley Rabe, 21-7 and the Sally League's "most valuable player" at Columbia, S. C.; pitcher Jim Pearce, 12 5 at Omaha, and catcher Ed Bailey, .282 at San Diego.

ST. LOUIS — Catcher Hal Smith .299 at Houston; infielder Joe Cunningham, .275 at Rochester; shortstop Dick Schofield, .273 at Omaha; and outfielder Russ Rac, .312 with 21 homers and 98 RBIs at Houston.

CHICAGO — Outfielder Gale Wade, .310 at Los Angeles, and infielder Bob McKee, .278 and the Western League all-star second baseman at Des Moines.

Fullerton Tagged Mont's Top Aid In Terrapin Camp

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 21 (AP)—Ed Fullerton, former star University of Maryland football player, was named today as head Coach Tommy Mont's first new assistant.

He played briefly for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League in 1953 before entering the air force.

Mont, who became head coach earlier this week after Jim Tatum's resignation and departure for North Carolina, said Fullerton will serve as assistant backfield coach.

Game Laws To Be Talked At Wildlife Unit's Meet

By JOHN SNYDER
Director Louisiana
Wildlife Federation

The officers of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation have called a meeting of all interested sportsmen of the parish for Tuesday night at the Virginia Hotel for the purpose of drafting new resolutions governing hunting and gishing for the coming year. The resolutions passed upon here will then be introduced at the "state-wide" convention of the Federation to be hald in Baton Rouge in February.

The Louisiana Wildlife Federation, affiliated with the National Federation, is an organization for all of the sportsmen of Louisiana. Not designed as an organization to be run by or for any particular cliche, but, rather, an oragnization of sportsmen pledged to defend our natural resources from wasteful destruction, the Wildlife Federation plays a large part in shaping our state and federal laws regulating opening and closing of seasons, bag and creel limits, license and stamp fees, possession limits, and other important phases of hunting and fishing laws.

Our elected officials, both state and federal, eager to please the nations sportsmen as much as possible with our limited supply of fish and game, use the Wildlife Federation as a sounding board. Therefore, it is of the utmost importance that sportsmen, should attend this meeting and make their feelings known. The officers of the local unit again take this opportunity to solicit your membership in the federation and assure you that your active patricipation in its affairs will be welcomed, and your ideas concerning the conservation of our resources appreciated and the proper value placed upon them - not by any individuals, but by the unit as a whole.

Election years, with their changing of officials, both appointed and elected, as well as existing laws and regulations, management and filed personnel, ideas concerning the conservation and reaping of the harvest of past planting and restocking programs, are trying times. Times when sportsmen should be constantly on guard, lest years of past work be proven fruitless and sportsmen deprived of God-given resources by selfish interest or well-meaning officials hounded by pressure groups.

For instance, at this time, there is a group of cattlemen in the west who are making attempts to take over our great national forest for their personal use. This minority group, unmindful of the thousands of tourist and sportsmen who enjoy this forest each year, would have already desecrated much of this area if it had not been for concerted action from the nation's sportsmen. This is by no means the first "interest grab" of its kind - nor will it be the last. The next one could be here in Louisiana. Unite now, and present a united front of sportsmen, united for the protection and conservation of our natural resources. Let us work with our officials; give them the benefit of our past achievements as well as our mistakes, for we sportsmen have a collective knowledge of hunting and fishing conditions that only actual experience of years spent afield can provide.

Louisiana has surged forward in the past eight years in its conservation program. After many years of neglect and public indifference, our officials began to take steps to correct the wanton destruction of our natural resources — our many lakes, rivers, and forest — and Louisiana, endowed more so than most states with the beauties and priceless wonders of nature is well on the way to its rightful place as the garden spot of America. A hunting and fishing paradise for the recreation and enjoyment of all of its citizens, as well as thousands of tourist who are already flocking here, bringing many thousands of much needed tourist dollars to add to the economy of one and all.

The new and incoming administration has already shown its interest in working with the sportsmen of this state in carrying on this all important work for a better Louisiana. They have promised that well qualified men will be chosen to work untiringly with and for the interest of all of our people towards the betterment and preservation of our resources. Can we, the people, ask more? Can we ask more of them than we are willing to do for ourselves? We, as Americans and true sportsmen, can show these men that we are ready and willing to do our part by attending this wildlife meeting Tuesday night, expressing our interest in conservation and submitting our ideas and proposals (in writing) for an improved program in the future.

The spirit of free election will also prevail at this meeting as members, old and new, will have the pleasure of nominating fellow spotrsmen - to be voted upon at the February meeting - for the various offices of the Ouachita unit. Nominations will also be taken for the most outstanding sportsman of 1955, who will receive the coveted Floyd Martin Memorial trophy given each year, in honor of a deceased and respected past president of the Ouachita unit, to the local sportsmen whom the members of the unit feel has done the most outstanding job of promoting conservation for that period.

The meeting will be opened at 7:30 o'clock with the showing of a short film on bear hunting, then, the remainder of time will be given over to the business at hand.

Burwell Jones, former University of Michigan swimming star, has won six National AAU titles.

Iowa State Cage Coach In Public Okay Of Officials

AMES, Iowa, Jan. 21 (AP)—Basketball coach Bill Strannigan of Iowa State College was on record today with a formal statement approving officials assigned in the Big Seven Conference.

Earlier this week Strannigan had charged that the league's officials were picking on Gary Thompson, the star Iowa State guard.

Strannigan read a formal statement to the crowd last night as a curtain-raiser to Iowa State's 81-60 victory over Drake. He said:

"In view of the fact that there has been so much publicity regarding officiating, and the work of Cliff Ogden in our recent games, I would like to take this opportunity to assure our home crowd that officials assigned in this league are of the highest caliber.

"Furthermore I would like to request that you treat our guest team and the officials in the manner that you would like your team to be treated on their games away from home."

In an interview Thursday, Strannigan had said that "referees' calls against Thompson on our trip to Oklahoma and Kansas have left me very upset."

He asserted that Big Seven coaches had "gotten together with the object of having what they call 'acting' or 'baiting' fouls called against Thompson."

He said that when Ogden was working the Iowa State - Kansas game at Kansas "this Kansas player knocks Gary down, yet Ogden calls the foul on Gary."

Ogden refereed last night's Iowa State-Drake game. After the game both Strannigan and Drake coach Jack McClelland said they thought the officiating was good.

Better Writing Seen As Need Of FHA Publicists

FERRIDAY, Jan. 21 (Special)—"Better ways of writing news items," was the topic at a recent meeting of Central Louisiana Farmers Home Administration personnel at Alexandria, attended by S.D. Hammons, county supervisor and Audrey county office clerk of the Concordia FHA.

Charles Price, associate editor of the Extension department, pointed out a recipe for better writing of news items that included, Who, one quart; What, one cup; When, one tablespoon; Where, one teaspoon; How, one dash; and Why, one pinch.

A. V. Paterson, associate director of Visual Aids for the Extension department, said that pictures highlight a news story and for newspaper use must be sharp, glossy, unmutilated and have good contrasting elements.

Miss R. Perry, home economist of the Extension service, emphasized the need for more live-at-home programs for farm families, illustrating her talk with colorful slides.

A discussion of the new Emergency Loan program was given by F. L. Spencer, state director of the FHA.

U. S. To Continue Synthetics Study On Same Scale

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. (AP) — Government studies of synthetic fuels and its other oil and gas research activities are planned on about the same scale as now in the year starting July 1.

This was the word today from the Bureau of Mines. It was based on the assumption that Congress appropriates the money recommended in President Eisenhower's budget for the bureau's operations.

The budget proposes $4,473,600 for the bureau's synthetic liquid fuels division compared with the current year's appropriation of $3,887,720.

For oil and natural gas research and other activities of the bureau, $1,344,000 was recommended compared with $1,265,955 and for helium research, $94,700 compared with $79,713.

A bureau official said the slight increases are for covering salary hikes provided by law and that the budget figures contemplate operations at about the same level as this year.

The government's helium plants near Amarillo and Excel, Tex., and at Otis, Kan., and Shiprock, N. M. are operated on funds received from helium sales. The government controls helium production and sales.

About two-thirds of the output goes to government agencies and one-third to private purchasers, much of which is used in government contracts.

Helium sales are estimated at some four million dollars a year.

Congress has restricted oil shale work at the Rifle, Colo., synthetic fuels plant, and retorting and refining equipment there is now on a standby basis.

The budget calls for $507,000 to continue oil shale research at the bureau's Laramie, Wyo., Plant.

The budget recommended $413,800 for the interior department's oil and gas division, compared with $390,000 this year, most of the increase to go for higher salaries. A total of $147,400 is earmarked for enforcement of the Connally Hot Oil Act, compared with $142,604 this year.

Youth Reported Missing Here Is Found In Arizona

A ninth-grade Ouachita Parish High School student, James Lee Osburne, 15, son of Mrs. Henry S. Riser, 910 South Seventh Street, who was missing since he apparently left for school Tuesday morning, has been located, the Monroe police department revealed Saturday afternoon.

The youth has been "visiting his father, James Lee Osburne, who lives at Buck Eye, Arizona," police said.

Police asked that the missing persons report on the local youth be canceled.

Let Your Light So Shine

For another year, this theme will guide the 2,000 mothers of Ouachita Parish on their March on Polio. At 7 o'clock, the night of January 31—as the church bells ring and the fire sirens sound —mothers of the parish, headed by Mrs. Roy Fisher, will conduct their march for one hour. Pictured with Mrs. Fisher, second from left, are the six district chairmen of the parish. Far left, Mrs. H. G. McDonald, chairman of the Monroe area, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. J. W. Better Writing Seen As Need Of FHA Publicists

FERRIDAY, Jan. 21 (Special)—"Better ways of writing news items," was the topic at a recent meeting of Central Louisiana Farmers Home Administration personnel at Alexandria, attended by S.D. Hammons, county supervisor and Audrey county office clerk of the Concordia FHA.

Charles Price, associate editor of the Extension department, pointed out a recipe for better writing of news items that included, Who, one quart; What, one cup; When, one tablespoon; Where, one teaspoon; How, one dash; and Why, one pinch.

A. V. Paterson, associate director of Visual Aids for the Extension department, said that pictures highlight a news story and for newspaper use must be sharp, glossy, unmutilated and have good contrasting elements.

Miss R. Perry, home economist of the Extension service, emphasized the need for more live-at-home programs for farm families, illustrating her talk with colorful slides.

A discussion of the new Emergency Loan program was given by F. L. Spencer, state director of the FHA.

U. S. To Continue Synthetics Study On Same Scale

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — Government studies of synthetic fuels and its other oil and gas research activities are planned on about the same scale as now in the year starting July 1.

This was the word today from the Bureau of Mines. It was based on the assumption that Congress appropriates the money recommended in President Eisenhower's budget for the bureau's operations.

The budget proposes $4,473,600 for the bureau's synthetic liquid fuels division compared with the current year's appropriation of $3,887,720.

For oil and natural gas research and other activities of the bureau, $1,344,000 was recommended compared with $1,265,955 and for helium research, $94,700 compared with $79,713.

A bureau official said the slight increases are for covering salary hikes provided by law and that the budget figures contemplate operations at about the same level as this year.

The government's helium plants near Amarillo and Excel, Tex., and at Otis, Kan., and Shiprock, N. M. are operated on funds received from helium sales. The government controls helium production and sales.

About two-thirds of the output goes to government agencies and one-third to private purchasers, much of which is used in government contracts.

Helium sales are estimated at some four million dollars a year.

Congress has restricted oil shale work at the Rifle, Colo., synthetic fuels plant, and retorting and refining equipment there is now on a standby basis.

The budget calls for $507,000 to continue oil shale research at the bureau's Laramie, Wyo., Plant.

The budget recommended $413,800 for the interior department's oil and gas division, compared with $390,000 this year, most of the increase to go for higher salaries. A total of $147,400 is earmarked for enforcement of the Connally Hot Oil Act, compared with $142,604 this year.

Youth Reported Missing Here Is Found In Arizona

A ninth-grade Ouachita Parish High School student, James Lee Osburne, 15, son of Mrs. Henry S. Riser, 910 South Seventh Street, who was missing since he apparently left for school Tuesday morning, has been located, the Monroe police department revealed Saturday afternoon.

The youth has been "visiting his father, James Lee Osburne, who lives at Buck Eye, Arizona," police said.

Police asked that the missing persons report on the local youth be canceled.

Miss Woods Is Honored At Prenuptial Parties

Claiming interest here in Rayville and Winnsboro have been the prenuptial parties honoring Miss Joy Louise Woods, bride-elect of Bernard Scriber of Winnsboro. Among the parties honoring Miss Woods was a luncheon hosted by her aunt, Mrs. R. P. McKay, in this city and a tea shower given by Rayville hostesses in the home of Mrs. J. C. Walters.

Place cards with sachet bags and individual white camellias marked guests places at the luncheon given at the Hollywood for Miss Woods.

A green and white motif was used in the dining room. Centering the luncheon table was a gladiola tree of white featuring green aspidistra leaves beneath. White gladioli and white camellias were placed on the leaves. Near the honoree's place was a miniature bride and groom.

For the party, Miss Woods chose a brown velvet trousseau suit complemented by a pink perfection camellia presented by the hostess.

Mrs. N. C. Woods, the bride-to-be's mother, was attired in a green two-piece model with a variagated pink and white camellia.

Invited to share the occasion with the hostess, honor guest and her mother were Mrs. James Woods, Mrs. W. B. Scriber, Miss Ethel Mae Voss, Miss Julia Cash and Miss Barbara Hancock.

Tea Shower

The home of Mrs. J. C. Walters was the setting for a tea shower given between 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Walters, Mrs. Florence McLemore, Mrs. Murry Epinette, Mrs. Loy C. Cloninger, Mrs. Bennie D. White, Mrs. J. C. Boles, Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. J. V. Boles, Mrs. W. G. McKinney and Katie Sue Croxton.

At the door to receive guests were Mrs. Walters, Miss Woods, her mother, Mrs. N. C. Woods and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. H. Scriber.

Of focal interest in the living room was a mantel arrangement of pink gladioli surrounded by pink camellias reflected in a large mirror.

A similar arrangement was used on the buffet. Centering the serving table, overlaid in a lace cloth, was a composition of rose camellias arranged on tulle with pink satin streamers with silver candelabras holding pink tapers.

Alternating at the silver service during the afternoon were Mrs. W. B. Scriber and Mrs. R. P. McKay.

Tea girls were Miss Mary Owen, Miss Judy Downes, Miss Nancy Cloninger, and Mrs. Jerry Colson.

The honoree was wearing a light mauve brocaded sheath dress with a matching jacket fashioned with a high mandarin collar. Her white corsage was enhanced by tiny silver wedding bells.

Mrs. Marie Jordan registered guests in the bride's book.

The bride - elect's gifts were displayed on attractive tables overlaid in white organdy skirts.

Mrs. Blomeyer Art Chairman Talks To Club

Of much interest was the discussion by Mrs. H. P. Blomeyer, art chairman, on "Our Living Master Builder, Frank Loyd Wright," which was the feature of the regular meeting of the AAUW, held in the home of Mrs. Jake Humphries, 607 Lakeshore Drive.

As members arrived at the Humphries residence, they were received by the hostesses, Mrs. Jake Humphries, Mrs. E. W. Lockhart, Mrs. George Riser, Mrs. Herbert Steed, Miss Gertrude Gregory, Miss Norma Stewart, and Mrs. P. L. Crowell.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Amiee Cook, president of the group.

Following the review given by Mrs. H. P. Blomeyer a social hour was held.

An arrangement of camellias centered the lace-covered serving table. At the coffee service was Mrs. Amiee Cook. An assortment of sandwiches, cookies, and nuts were served.

Those attending were: Mrs. Virginia Brueck, Mrs. O. D. Brantley, Mrs. Walter C. Bentrup, Mrs. H.P. Blomeyer, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. John P. Burton, Mrs. James R. Catching, Mrs. H. S. Chilton, Mrs. Amiee Cook, Mrs. H. Clyde Cook, Miss Carrie Dee Drew, Miss Frances Flanders, Miss Anne Gannaway, Miss Gertrude Gregory, Mrs. Jake Humphries, Mrs. Elizabeth Leake, Mrs. Gladys Jones, Mrs. E. W. Lockhart, Mrs. H. B. Robinson, Mrs. Herbert Steed, Mrs. W. W. Ward, Mrs. Anthony M. Wilbert, Mrs. John P. Zoll.

The February meeting will be held in the home of President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater, 221 Chauvin Street.

Recent Bride Party Honoree

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Mrs. Floyd Nolen Jones, bride of recent date, was honoree at a coffee hour on January 14, from 4 to 5 p.m. in the reception rooms of the First Baptist Church. Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames W. P. Key, C. A. Martin, H. E. Evans and Hugh Tidwell.

Mrs. Jones was lovely in a two piece blue knitted suit from her trousseau. With it she wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations, a gift of the hostesses.

Tall white tapers burning in silver candlesticks, graced either end of the serving table which was covered with a white lace cloth and decorated with white gladiolas and huckleberry greenery.

Musical selections rendered by Mrs. C. A. Martin at the piano, depicted highlights of the bride's life. Approximately fifty persons were invited to enjoy the occasion with the honoree.

Mother's March On Polio

January 31.– 7 to 8 P. M.

Let Your Light So Shine

For another year, this theme will guide the 2,000 mothers of Ouachita Parish on their March on Polio. At 7 o'clock, the night of January 31—as the church bells ring and the fire sirens sound —mothers of the parish, headed by Mrs. Roy Fisher, will conduct their march for one hour. Pictured with Mrs. Fisher, second from left, are the six district chairmen of the parish. Far left, Mrs. H. G. McDonald, chairman of the Monroe area, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. J. W. Landrum, Columbia Highway Area, Mrs. G. A. O'Neal, of Fairbanks, Mrs. Eleanor Painich, West Monroe, Mrs. Mark Stanley, Calhoun, and Mrs. Dennis Knox, of Sterlington.

Mrs. C. E. Faulk Is Hostess To Ft. Miro Chapter D. A. R.

The Ft. Miro Chapter D. A. R. met in the home of Mrs. Clarence E. Faulk, 207 McClendon Place, West Monroe.

Members were welcomed by Mrs. Faulk and Mrs. Herbert Steed, chairman of hostesses. Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. J. B. Carlton, Mrs. George Hemphill, Mrs. Robert A. Baylor, Miss Harriett Boyle, Mrs. E. G. Calvert, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. E. J. Brown, Mrs. F. W. Dawson, Mrs. James Drew and Mrs. C. E. Buckley.

Mrs. H. Flood Madison, Jr., regent presided. Sergeant George Whitlow of the Monroe police department gave an informative talk on safety. Sergeant Whitlow discussed signs, stopping distances, hazards and safety rules. Public officials constantly are working toward greater uniformity in traffic signs throughout the nation. Uniform standards provide five basic sign shapes, so motorists can tell instantly the type of sign by its shape. It is a violation of law to disregard regulatory signs. Sergeant Whitlow stated that 1,172 accidents were reported to the police department last year with four fatalities. Monroe was rated 67 per cent on safety by the National Safety Council. News From The Public Library

The past week saw the arrival of a number of new books of fiction which we had previously ordered for the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Many of our patrons do not understand how we get the books for the library. They are carefully selected by the librarian from book reviews and advance notices. She is glad to have suggestions from the staff, board and public. The library subscribes to a book reviewing service which lists books several weeks before publication date and gives a good review of them. In this way the books can be ordered and be ready for the public by the time of publication. Some of this week's additions are certain to be popular.

"Valley of the Vines" by Joy Packer is a novel of strong emotional conflict set in an atmosphere haunting and exotic. It has its setting in South Africa on the beautiful cape Peninsula. It is the story of a home, a family and of many interesting characters. It is one you will not want to miss. "Mary of Carisbrooke" by Margaret Campbell Barnes tells the moving, tragic story of Charles I during the period of his imprisonment in Carisbrooke Castle on the Isle of Wight. It is also the story of Mary, niece of the housekeeper, beautiful and loyal, who fell in love with Charles. Margaret Campbell Barnes is one of our most gifted writers of historical novels and her latest story will be highly interesting. She has the power of making a past period and people come completely alive. This book should be one of her best for she makes her home on the Isle of Wight and should certainly be familiar with the setting.

Edison Marshall's books are always eagerly awaited by the reading public. His latest is called "The Gentleman." This is a story of Charleston in the days before the Civil War. In this book we get a picture of all classes of society and of a man who tried to find his true place in this world. Frederic Van De Water is the author of a number of historical novels set in upper New York and Vermont during the period before and during the Revolutionary war. His latest story is called "Wings of the Morning" and covers the same period. It is a thrilling and exciting novel and one that will be widely read.

Frances Gray Patton, author of the popular book of last year "Good Morning, Miss Dove" has a new book called "A Piece of Luck." This is a collection of short stories. It is a delightful collection and will be warmly welcomed by her followers.

Everyone who enjoyed Robert Fontaine's "The Happy Time" will welcome his new book "Hello to Springtime" which is a continuation to the first. In it we again meet his charming mother and father and his unusual and interesting uncles. It is a humorous book with a touch of nostalgia about it. It is certain to have a wide appeal.

In the non-fiction field there are several interesting additions "Theatre 55" is a reading edition of a dozen of the years best plays. It includes "Witness for the Prosecution," "Bus Stop," "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof," "The Bad Seed," "The Desperate Hours," "Inherit the Wind," "The Saint of Bleecker Street," "Fanny," "Anastasia," 'The Tender Trap," "Lunatics and Lovers" and "The Reclining Figure." Everyone interested in the theatre will want to see this book.

Another book of non-fiction and one for which we have had numerous requests is "The Answer is God," which is the inspiring personal story of Dale Evans and Roy Rogers and the miracle that changed their lives. John Masters, who has written several novels about life in India has now written his autobiography, which he calls "Bugles and A Tiger" and which tells where he got much of the information for his books of fiction.

These and many other books are waiting for you at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If you are not a patron, come in soon and enroll, so you can take advantage of its resources.

Miss Woods Is Honored At Prenuptial Parties

Claiming interest here in Rayville and Winnsboro have been the prenuptial parties honoring Miss Joy Louise Woods, bride-elect of Bernard Scriber of Winnsboro. Among the parties honoring Miss Woods was a luncheon hosted by her aunt, Mrs. R. P. McKay, in this city and a tea shower given by Rayville hostesses in the home of Mrs. J. C. Walters.

Place cards with sachet bags and individual white camellias marked guests places at the luncheon given at the Hollywood for Miss Woods.

A green and white motif was used in the dining room. Centering the luncheon table was a gladiola tree of white featuring green aspidistra leaves beneath. White gladioli and white camellias were placed on the leaves. Near the honoree's place was a miniature bride and groom.

For the party, Miss Woods chose a brown velvet trousseau suit complemented by a pink perfection camellia presented by the hostess.

Mrs. N. C. Woods, the bride-to-be's mother, was attired in a green two-piece model with a variagated pink and white camellia.

Invited to share the occasion with the hostess, honor guest and her mother were Mrs. James Woods, Mrs. W. B. Scriber, Miss Ethel Mae Voss, Miss Julia Cash and Miss Barbara Hancock.

Tea Shower

The home of Mrs. J. C. Walters was the setting for a tea shower given between 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Walters, Mrs. Florence McLemore, Mrs. Murry Epinette, Mrs. Loy C. Cloninger, Mrs. Bennie D. White, Mrs. J. C. Boies, Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. J. V. Boles, Mrs. W. G. McKinney and Katie Sue Croxton.

At the door to receive guests were Mrs. Walters, Miss Woods, her mother, Mrs. N. C. Woods and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. H. Scriber.

Of focal interest in the living room was a mantel arrangement of pink gladioli surrounded by pink camellias reflected in a large mirror.

A similar arrangement was used on the buffet. Centering the serving table, overlaid in a lace cloth, was a composition of rose camellias arranged on tulle with pink satin streamers with silver candelabras holding pink tapers.

Alternating at the silver service during the afternoon were Mrs. W. B. Scriber and Mrs. R. P. McKay.

Tea girls were Miss Mary Owen, Miss Judy Downes, Miss Nancy Cloninger, and Mrs. Jerry Colson.

The honoree was wearing a light mauve brocaded sheath dress with a matching jacket fashioned with a high mandarin collar. Her white corsage was enhanced by tiny silver wedding bells.

Mrs. Marie Jordan registered guests in the bride's book.

The bride - elect's gifts were displayed on attractive tables overlaid in white organdy skirts.

Girl Scout News

In line with the democratic procedure used in all Girl Scout affairs, the girls themselves have a voice in camp and program plans that concern them directly. Of course, we take for granted that this is true in troops. It extends, however, a great deal further, through the girl planning board, made up of representatives of intermediate troops, who help make decisions about city-wide events, such as Girl Scout Week, cookie sale, camping and summer plans.

Meeting for the first time in the new year next Saturday morning at the office, 416 Wood Street, at 10:00 o'clock, the group has for the first time, asked representatives of fourth grade, or fly-up, troops to meet with them. Because girls like to do things with a buddy, troops usually elect two representatives to attend these meetings, bringing ideas from their troops and reporting back to them. Girl Scout Week and the cookie sale are almost upon us, so the representatives will have immediate plans to make. Traditionally in our council we have presented the Juliette Low fund pennies as part of the Girl Scout Week observance.

Wouldn't it be appropriate if, after these many months of meeting and planning and fund raising, the Silver Waters Girl Scout Council would be chartered in the Girl Scout Week, the 44th anniversary of Scouting in the U. S. A.? We'll soon be hearing results of Thursday night's meeting.

Two of the many things that Brownies like, we find are to make things with their hands and to go places. Troop 10, with Mrs. S. S. Hollan, Mrs. R. E. Hanna and Mrs. Claude Gilliland as leaders has had these two interests in mind in planning activities for the near future. At last week's meeting, Mrs. Peggy Garnett visited the troop and taught the girls to decorate hand lotion bottles with shells. It was barely a start on what can be a fascinating hobby, but the girls and leaders were pleased with the results, many of which were quite artistic for such young girls.

Two trips planned for the troop are to the library and to the museum at the college. Next week the troop will visit the library, where Miss Frances Flanders has promised to tell them a story, show them how the library works, and answer their questions. The trip to the museum will be a few weeks later.

As part of learning about their community, Brownie Scouts of Troops 8, Mrs. E. M. Varnadt, and Mrs. C. E. Leath, leaders, recently visited a bottling plant, where the girls were most interested in the steps that go into the bottling of one of their favorite soft drinks.

Do all of our readers know that when Brownies, or older Scouts, for that matter, go on trips they return to their leaders a permission blank signed by their parents, allowing them to participate?

MRS. WILLIAM HALE GEORGE

George-Norsworthy Nuptials Said In Afternoon Ceremony

Among interesting weddings of the winter season was that of Miss Dorothy Anne Norsworthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Norsworthy of Collinston, to William Hale George, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. George, of Bastrop, which was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Reily Memorial Methodist Church in Collinston. The Reverend Fred A. Meade, assisted by Reverend David Herrell of Garland, Tex., officiated at the ceremony performed before a gathering of relatives and friends of the young couple. Mrs. B. W. Hopgood presented a concert of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. H. J. Waldrop, soloist.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of bridal silk taffeta and net and hand clipped Chantilly lace. The neckline of scalloped imported lace was frosted with seed pearls, as well as the points over her hands, which tapered from long fitted sleeves. From the mid-riff the voluminous skirt unfolded into arcs of pleated nylon and lace. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a fitted, pearl embossed, Juliet cap of lace. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible topped with yellow throated orchids and cascades of valley lilies.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Clair Cavett of Houston, Miss., Patricia Waldrop of Collinston and Miss Carolyn George, sister of the bridegroom, of Bastrop. They were identically attired in white nylon net dresses made along fitted lines, enhanced with matching stoles. The full flared skirts were waltz length. They wore be-feathered bandeaus fashioned of velvet and veiling and they carried jeweled bags topped with pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Suzanne Waldrop, gowned in pink marquisette and taffeta, and Rector Hopgood were candlelighters. Little Eugenia Holloway, identically dressed, scattered rose petals from a nylon covered basket.

Tom George served his brother as best man. The ushers were, William Alton Norsworthy, brother of the bride, and Robert Davis.

A reception immediately followed at Hill Top, the home of the bride's parents. Spring tulips, carnations, snapdragons and stock were used throughout the house for decorations. The guests were greeted by Miss Walter Mae Dalgarn and Miss Ann Boyd.

The bride's table, covered with a cut work cloth held a tiered cake formed of hearts, garlanded with pink roses and lilies of the valley. This was surrounded with ruffled tulle and Michaelmas daisies. White tapers glowing from silver candelabra, mounted in a silver bowl, decorated with white snapdragons and pink carnations, completed the setting.

Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Ivy Smith of Monroe, Mrs. A. J. Tarver, Mrs. O. W. Reily, Mrs. Robert Davis, of Bastrop, Mrs. O. W. Reily, Jr. of Cleveland, Miss., Mrs. Talmadge Forman, Bastrop, Mrs. Hewitt Holloway of Bastrop, Mrs. Billy John Breaux, Carencro, and Mrs. J. G. Pyron.

For traveling Mrs. George chose a costume-dress of soft tweed in tan and gold. Completing the ensemble she wore an arm length cape of matching material. Her accessories were of the same tones of tan. At her shoulder she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home in Collinston.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Herring of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Cavett and Mrs. Clair Cavett of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Overton, Mr Ed Morris, Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Colby, and Mr. and Mrs. Moss of Monroe, Mrs. A. R. Service, Rodessa, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Harp, Ruston, Mr. Donald McArthur, New London, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wemple, Chenneyville, Mr. and Mrs. Ray P. Kanagy-Thomas Nuptials Performed In Newellton

Of social interest in Newellton and New Orleans was the wedding of Miss Glenda Vernon Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Erickson Thomas of New Orleans, and Mr. Willard George Kanagy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Lincoln Kanagy, of Costa Mesa, Calif. The ceremony was performed on Friday evening December thirtieth, at the Newellton Union Church by the Rev. Clarence Pickens.

A large sunburst arrangement made of Woodwardia fern and filled with white stock, roses, and gladioli centered the sanctuary. This was banked with illumined cathedral tapers in white wrought iron candelabra, entwined with southern smilax. Smaller sprays of Woodwardia fern were used to complete the altar decorations. Small cathedral tapers were also placed in the windows of the church and along the aisle.

The bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown of ivory white satin was fashioned with a bateau neckline filled in with illusion, and long sleeves which tapered to points over the wrist.

The long skirt, made along slim lines in front had back fullness which swept into a cathedral length train. The bride's veil of illusion was held in place by a small crown of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet combined a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Miss Barbara Lee Thomas was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids included Misses Virginia Lou and Clifford Jean Wilkerson and Betty Clyde Ratcliff all of Newellton and cousins of the bride. Betsy Bonds Ratcliff was flower girl. Their floor length gowns were of white tulle fashioned with square necklines and short sleeves formed by soft folds. The fitted bodices were trimmed with panels of tucks and ornamenting the full skirts were panels of pleated tulle. On their heads they wore wreaths of ivy and carried bouquets of red roses and ivy. The flower girls frock was made identical to the bridesmaids. She carried a nosegay of red roses and also wore a wreath of ivy.

Gerald Sward of Bakersfield, Calif., was best man. Serving as groomsmen and ushers were Messrs. Charles Keith Candepon of Gulfport, Miss., Monte Ray Bane of Fort Worth, Tex., and Edward McCarthy of Fort Benjamin, Ind. Ring bearer was Master Charles Everett Ratcliff, Jr.

A reception followed the ceremony at Elk Ridge Plantation, the home of the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clyde Vernon Ratcliff of Newellton.

The plantation home was beautifully decorated with mass arrangements of white gladioli, stock and candytuft in the reception rooms.

In the dining room, the bridal table was covered with a white net cloth over satin and trimmed with garlands of southern smilax. In the center was a handsome wedding cake of four columnar tiers. It was decorated with confection roses and green leaves, and topped with fresh lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Thomas headed the receiving line wearing a gown of shell pink satin made along slim lines; the square neckline was trimmed in lace which formed short cape sleeves. The skirt was made along sheath lines. Pinned at one shoulder was a corsage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Kanagy, mother of the bridegroom, wore a steel blue peau de soie model fashioned with three quarter length sleeves and a sweetheart neckline trimmed in jewels. She wore an orchid corsage.

Later in the evening, Mr. Kanagy and his bride left on a wedding trip to Florida. Upon return they will reside in an apartment on Vermillion blvd. The bride chose for traveling a beige wool suit, matching hat trimmed in darker brown and brown alligator accessories.

The bride was graduated from Metairie Park County Day School and attended Louisiana State University where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority and Lambda interfraternity. She later attended Tulane University. Her mother is the former Miss Daisy Ratcliff of Elk Ridge Plantation.

Mr. Kanagy is a graduate of the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, where he received his B. A. degree and was a member of Delta Chi fraternity. His mother is the former Miss Vivian Johnson of Chicago, Ill.

You'll find there are about 36 large prunes in a pound.

Mrs. C. E. Faulk Is Hostess To Ft. Miro Chapter D. A. R.

The Ft. Miro Chapter D. A. R. met in the home of Mrs. Clarence E. Faulk, 207 McClendon Place, West Monroe.

Members were welcomed by Mrs. Faulk and Mrs. Herbert Steed, chairman of hostesses. Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. J. B. Carlton, Mrs. George Hemphill, Mrs. Robert A. Baylor, Miss Harriett Boyle, Mrs. E. G. Calvert, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. E. J. Brown, Mrs. F. W. Dawson, Mrs. James Drew and Mrs. C. E. Buckley.

Mrs. H. Flood Madison, Jr., regent presided. Sergeant George Whitlow of the Monroe police department gave an informative talk on safety. Sergeant Whitlow discussed signs, stopping distances, hazards and safety rules. Public officials constantly are working toward greater uniformity in traffic signs throughout the nation. Uniform standards provide five basic sign shapes, so motorists can tell instantly the type of sign by its shape. It is a violation of law to disregard regulatory signs. Sergeant Whitlow stated that 1,172 accidents were reported to the police department last year with four fatalities. Monroe was rated 67 per cent on safety by the National Safety Council. Mrs. John Coon asked Sergeant Whitlow what would he recommend as a good safety rule for Monroe and he stated that courtesy was an important factor.

The recording secretary, Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., read the minutes of the last meeting. The treasurer, Mrs. Duncan Cook made her report. The following chairmen gave their reports: Mrs. C. E. Buckley, Jr., American Citizens; Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Approved Schools; Mrs. John E. Coon, D.A.R. Magazine; Mrs. R. L. Carson, D.A.R. Magazine Advertising; Mrs. Courtney Oliver, Genealogical Records. Miss Eleona Brinsmade, National Defense Chairman, told of the Status of Armed Forces Treaty, where soldiers overseas; accused of violation of the law are tried by the laws of the country where they are, and are imprisoned in foreign jails and sometimes are tried by officials who do not speak the American language. This treaty must be revoked and support must be given the Bricker Amendment. Mrs. Clarence E. Faulk gave the National Honor Roll report and Mrs. Ralph Armstrong the press relations report.

Mrs. Madison and Miss Frances Flanders were elected delegates to the Continental Congress to be held in Washington, D. C. in April. The State Conference will be held in Lafayette in March and Mrs. Madison and Mrs. C. E. Buckley were elected as delegates and the alternates are Mrs. M. S. McGuire, Mrs. R. L. Carson, Mrs. W. B. Matthews and Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr. Mrs. A. Shepard and Mrs. Archie Dickerson, regent, Chief Tusquahoma Chapter were guests.

The hostesses showed an ancestral exhibition of old letters, newspapers and documents. Many beautiful pieces of clothing over 100 years old were displayed. Mrs. Archie Dickerson assisted the hostesses. Members present in addition to the hostesses were Miss Jane Steed, Mrs. R. L. Carson, Mrs. Ralph Armstrong, Mrs. H. G. Thompson, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. O. C. Roddey, Mrs. R. L. Junod, Mrs. John J. Stack, Mrs. E. N. Faulk, Mrs. Wm. B. Clarke, Mrs. W. C. Oliver, Mrs. J. W. Standley, Sr., Mrs. W. B. Matthews, Miss Annie Butler, Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., Mrs. Christine Moore, Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Mrs. Duncan Cook, Mrs. H. M. Butler, Mrs. David I. Garrett and Mrs. John E. Coon.

SOUR CREAM TREAT

NEW YORK — Post-holiday treat: Ham balls in sour cream gravy. Grind enough ham to make about 2¾ cups. Brown ¼ cup of chopped onion in fat in a skillet. Add ½ cup of water and 1 cup of commercially soured cream. Cook until the mixture is thickened, pour over the ham balls and serve.

News From The Public Library

The past week saw the arrival of a number of new books of fiction which we had previously ordered for the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Many of our patrons do not understand how we get the books for the library. They are carefully selected by the librarian from book reviews and advance notices. She is glad to have suggestions from the staff, board and public. The library subscribes to a book reviewing service which lists books several weeks before publication date and gives a good review of them. In this way the books can be ordered and be ready for the public by the time of publication. Some of this week's additions are certain to be popular.

"Valley of the Vines" by Joy Packer is a novel of strong emotional conflict set in an atmosphere haunting and exotic. It has its setting in South Africa on the beautiful cape Peninsula. It is the story of a home, a family and of many interesting characters. It is one you will not want to miss. "Mary of Carisbrooke" by Margaret Campbell Barnes tells the moving, tragic story of Charles I during the period of his imprisonment in Carisbrooke Castle on the Isle of Wight. It is also the story of Mary, niece of the housekeeper, beautiful and loyal, who fell in love with Charles. Margaret Campbell Barnes is one of our most gifted writers of historical novels and her latest story will be highly interesting. She has the power of making a past period and people come completely alive. This book should be one of her best for she makes her home on the Isle of Wight and should certainly be familiar with the setting.

Edison Marshall's books are always eagerly awaited by the reading public. His latest is called "The Gentleman." This is a story of Charleston in the days before the Civil War. In this book we get a picture of all classes of society and of a man who tried to find his true place in this world. Frederic Van De Water is the author of a number of historical novels set in upper New York and Vermont during the period before and during the Revolutionary war. His latest story is called "Wings of the Morning" and covers the same period. It is a thrilling and exciting novel and one that will be widely read.

Frances Gray Patton, author of the popular book of last year "Good Morning, Miss Dove" has a new book called "A Piece of Luck." This is a collection of short stories. It is a delightful collection and will be warmly welcomed by her followers.

Everyone who enjoyed Robert Fontaine's "The Happy Time" will welcome his new book "Hello to Springtime" which is a continuation to the first. In it we again meet his charming mother and father and his unusual and interesting uncles. It is a humorous book with a touch of nostalgia about it. It is certain to have a wide appeal.

In the non-fiction field there are several interesting additions "Theatre 55" is a reading edition of a dozen of the years best plays. It includes "Witness for the Prosecution," "Bus Stop," "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof," "The Bad Seed," "The Desperate Hours," "Inherit the Wind," "The Saint of Bleecker Street," "Fanny," "Anastasia," "The Tender Trap," "Lunatics and Lovers" and "The Reclining Figure." Everyone interested in the theatre will want to see this book.

Another book of non-fiction and one for which we have had numerous requests is "The Answer is God," which is the inspiring personal story of Dale Evans and Roy Rogers and the miracle that changed their lives. John Masters, who has written several novels about life in India has now written his autobiography, which he calls "Bugles and A Tiger" and which tells where he got much of the information for his books of fiction.

These and many other books are waiting for you at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If you are not a patron, come in soon and enroll, so you can take advantage of its resources.

MRS. HENRY KILLEN

Mrs. Killen To Speak To Women Voters

Mrs. Henry L. Killen, of Orlando, Fla. will visit the Monroe League of Women voters tomorrow.

She will be accompanied by Mrs. Albert Lusch of New Orleans, organization chairman for the State League of Women Voters.

The board of directors of the league will meet at 7 p.m. at the Frances Hotel, with Mrs. R. M. Troy, president, presiding.

All members of the Monroe league are invited to attend and hear Mrs. Killen discuss program planning for the coming two years. For reservations call Mrs. R. M. Troy at 2-6246.

Another active member of the League of Women Voters was born when a new citizen of Georgia read about what women in the league there were doing to improve the prison-parole system.

Mrs. Killen, recalls that when she moved to Georgia in the 30's, "prison conditions in the state had been receiving nation-wide attention." "As a new citizen of Georgia, I was thrilled to learn that the women of the state, working through the league, were achieving splendid results in their efforts to improve these very unfortunate circumstances."

After this beginning, Mrs. Killen went on to help found a local league and serve as first president in Albany, Ga., in 1936. She has been president of the Florida league and vice-president of the Orlando League and was elected a director of the League of Women Voters of the United States in 1952, a post for which she was re-elected in 1954.

A lifelong southerner, the former Louise Elizabeth Arnandez was born in New Iberia, La., of Creole ancestry, her father being Spanish and her mother French-Acadian. With this background her hobbies rather naturally include cooking such specialties as Creole gumbo. She also likes to work in her garden, with emphasis on camellias and hibiscus.

Mrs. Killen attended Mt. Carmel Convent and the Louisiana State Normal College. She has taught in public schools in Georgia, Louisiana and Florida. Her husband was a superintendent of schools in Louisiana, but they left the state because of what they felt was political interference. Mr. Killen is now associated with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Mrs. Killen has two stepsons, both married, and five grandchildren.

While she has found "all of the work of the league tremendously interesting and valuable," Mrs. Killen has said that: "I believe I have found more personal satisfaction in my work of organizing new leagues than in any other phrase of league activity, for this seems to me such a direct service to the democratic process. Each new league means so many new women, trained to be more effective citizens and prepared to serve their local communities, as well as the state and the nation."

Mrs. Killen was elected a director of the League of Women Voters of the United States in 1952 and re-eelcted in 1954. Previously, she had served as president of the League of Women Voters of Florida, 1949-51; first president of the League of Women Voters of Albany, Ga., which she helped to found in 1936; vice president of the Orlando League.

She helped organize the Citizens' Constitution Committee of Florida, and became its vice chairman.

Mrs. Killen is a native of Louisiana, where she attended Mt. Carmel Convent and the Louisiana State Normal College. She has also spent a great deal of time in Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina. She has taught in public schools of both Louisiana and Florida.

Girl Scout News

In line with the democratic procedure used in all Girl Scout affairs, the girls themselves have a voice in camp and program plans that concern them directly. Of course, we take for granted that this is true in troops. It extends, however, a great deal further, through the girl planning board, made up of representatives of intermediate troops, who help make decisions about city-wide events, such as Girl Scout Week, cookie sale, camping and summer plans.

Meeting for the first time in the new year next Saturday morning at the office, 416 Wood Street, at 10:00 o'clock, the group has for the first time, asked representatives of fourth grade, or fly-up, troops to meet with them. Because girls like to do things with a buddy, troops usually elect two representatives to attend these meetings, bringing ideas from their troops and reporting back to them. Girl Scout Week and the cookie sale are almost upon us, so the representatives will have immediate plans to make. Traditionally in our council we have presented the Juliette Low fund pennies as part of the Girl Scout Week observance.

Wouldn't it be appropriate if, after these many months of meeting and planning and fund raising, the Silver Waters Girl Scout Council would be chartered in the Girl Scout Week, the 44th anniversary of Scouting in the U. S. A.? We'll soon be hearing results of Thursday night's meeting.

Two of the many things that Brownies like, we find are to make things with their hands and to go places. Troop 10, with Mrs. S. S Hollan, Mrs. R. E. Hanna and Mrs Claude Gilliland as leaders has had these two interests in mind in planning activities for the near future. At last week's meeting, Mrs. Peggy Garnett visited the troop and taught the girls to decorate hand lotion bottles with shells. It was barely a start on what can be a fascinating hobby, but the girls and leaders were pleased with the results, many of which were quite artistic for such young girls.

Two trips planned for the troop are to the library and to the museum at the college. Next week the troop will visit the library, where Miss Frances Flanders has promised to tell them a story, show them how the library works, and answer their questions. The trip to the museum will be a few weeks later.

As part of learning about their community, Brownie Scouts of Troops 8, Mrs. E. M. Varnadt, and Mrs. C. E. Leath, leaders, recently visited a bottling plant, where the girls were most interested in the steps that go into the bottling of one of their favorite soft drinks.

Do all of our readers know that when Brownies, or older Scouts, for that matter, go on trips they return to their leaders a permission blank signed by their parents, allowing them to participate?

Among interesting weddings of the winter season was that of Miss Dorothy Anne Norsworthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Norsworthy of Collinston, to William Hale George, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. George, of Bastrop, which was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Reily Memorial Methodist Church in Collinston. The Reverend Fred A. Meade, assisted by Reverend David Herrell of Garland, Tex., officiated at the ceremony performed before a gathering of relatives and friends of the young couple. Mrs. B. W. Hopgood presented a concert of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. H. J. Waldrop, soloist.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of bridal silk taffeta and net and hand clipped Chantilly lace. The neckline of scalloped imported lace was frosted with seed pearls, as well as the points over her hands, which tapered from long fitted sleeves. From the mid-rift the voluminous skirt unfolded into acres of pleated nylon and lace. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a fitted, pearl embossed, Juliet cap of lace. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible topped with yellow throated orchids and cascades of valley lilies.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Clair Cavett of Houston, Miss. Patricia Waldrop of Collinston and Miss Carolyn George, sister of the bridegroom, of Bastrop. They were identically attired in white nylon net dresses made along fitted lines, enhanced with matching stoles. The full flared skirts were waltz length. They wore be-feathered bandeaus fashioned of velvet and veiling and they carried jeweled bags topped with pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Suzanne Waldrop, gowned in pink marquisette and taffeta, and Rector Hopgood were candlelighters. Little Eugenia Holloway, identically dressed, scattered rose petals from a nylon covered basket.

Tom George served his brother as best man. The ushers were, William Alton Norsworthy, brother of the bride, and Robert Davis.

A reception immediately followed at Hill Top, the home of the bride's parents. Spring tulips, carnations, snapdragons and stock were used throughout the house for decorations. The guests were greeted by Miss Walter Mae Dalgarn and Miss Ann Boyd.

The bride's table, covered with a cut work cloth held a tiered cake formed of hearts, garlanded with pink roses and lilies of the valley. This was surrounded with ruffled tulle and Michaelmas daisies. White tapers glowing from silver candelabra, mounted in a silver bowl, decorated with white snapdragons and pink carnations, completed the setting.

Kanagy-Thomas Nuptials Performed In Newellton

Of social interest in Newellton and New Orleans was the wedding of Miss Glenda Vernon Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Erickson Thomas of New Orleans, and Mr. Willard George Kanagy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Lincoln Kanagy, of Costa Mesa, Calif. The ceremony was performed on Friday evening December thirtieth, at the Newellton Union Church by the Rev. Clarence Pickens.

A large sunburst arrangement made of Woodwardia fern and filled with white stock, roses, and gladioli centered the sanctuary. This was banked with illumined cathedral tapers in white wrought iron candelabra, entwined with southern smilax. Smaller sprays of Woodwardia fern were used to complete the altar decorations. Small cathedral tapers were also placed in the windows of the church and along the aisle.

The bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown of ivory white satin was fashioned with a bateau neckline filled in with illusion, and long sleeves which tapered to points over the wrist.

The long skirt, made along slim lines in front had back fullness which swept into a cathedral length train. The bride's veil of illusion was held in place by a small crown of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet combined a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Miss Barbara Lee Thomas was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids included Misses Virginia Lou and Clifford Jean Wilkerson and Betty Clyde Rateliff all of Newellton and cousins of the bride. Betsy Bonds Rateliff was flower girl. Their floor length gowns were of white tulle fashioned with square necklines and short sleeves formed by soft folds. The flower girls frock was made identical to the bridesmaids. She carried a nosegay of red roses and also wore a wreath of ivy.

Gerald Sward of Bakersfield, Calif., was best man. Serving as groomsmen and ushers were Messrs. Charles Keith Candepon of Gulfport, Miss., Monte Ray Bane of Fort Worth, Tex., and Edward McCarthy of Fort Beniamin, Ind. Ring bearer was Master Charles Everett Rateliff, Jr.

The plantation home was beautifully decorated with mass arrangements of white gladioli, stock and candytuft in the reception rooms.

In the dining room, the bridal table was covered with a white net cloth over satin and trimmed with garlands of southern smilax. In the center was a handsome wedding cake of four columnar tiers. It was decorated with confection roses and green leaves, and topped with fresh lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Thomas headed the receiving line wearing a gown of shell pink satin made along slim lines; the square neckline was trimmed in lace which formed short cape sleeves. The skirt was made along sheath lines. Pinned at one shoulder was a corsage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Kanagy, mother of the bridegroom, wore a steel blue peau de soie model fashioned with three quarter length sleeves and a sweetheart neckline trimmed in jewels. She wore an orchid corsage.

A gleaming mass of candles illuminated the altar which was garlanded in spicy pine roping with four tall floor candelabra which held the burning white tapers. The altar rail top was banked with pine interspersed with clumps of white candy tuft and stock. A white satin bow centered the decor. Two tall baskets of white stock and gladiola were used on either side of the altar. Graduated candlebra centered the altar rail and topped the piano with their soft light of gleaming tapers.

Prenuptial music was presented by Mrs. C. L. Moore, Jr. She also accompanied Miss Betty Miller, soloist. Serving as candle lighters and ushers were John Robert Lowry and Will Sanders of Ruston.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by her sister, Miss Nan Riser, maid of honor, who wore a waltz length gown of pink crystalline with a red velveteen shrug jacket. The bodice, made of lace, was fitted, with a scalloped sweetheart neckline outlined in tiny seed pearls. The long tight sleeves were pointed at the wrists. The fingertip veil of illusion was of tulle and fell from a coronet of seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible with a white orchid centered in a white lace handkerchief.

Attending the groom as best man was his father.

The mother of the bride was gowned in a street length pale aqua brocaded cotton - satin sheath dress with a short fitted jacket. She wore a matching satin lattice work half hat and black accessories.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the church manse. The bride's table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and centered with an artistic arrangement of white stock and fern. A crystal candelabra held six lighted tapers. The crystal punch bowl was placed at one end of the table. The opposite end of the table held the wedding cake topped by four wedding bells and tulle of palest pink.

Tea girls dressed in lovely afternoon models, alternated at the punch bowl and served the bride's cake. Those assisting were Misses Betty Jean Tarver, Carol Lynn Smith, Margot Horn, and Mrs. Mrs. Huey Stein, Mrs. Ralph King, Jr., and Mrs. Morris Dante.

MRS. HENRY KILLEN

Mrs. Killen To Speak To Women Voters

Mrs. Henry L. Killen, of Orlando, Fla. will visit the Monroe League of Women voters tomorrow.

She will be accompanied by Mrs. Albert Lusch of New Orleans, organization chairman for the State League of Women Voters.

The board of directors of the league will meet at 7 p.m. at the Frances Hotel, with Mrs. R. M. Troy, president, presiding.

All members of the Monroe league are invited to attend and hear Mrs. Killen discuss program planning for the coming two years. For reservations call Mrs. R. M. Troy at 2-6246.

Another active member of the League of Women Voters was born when a new citizen of Georgia read about what women in the league there were doing to improve the prison-parole system.

Mrs. Killen, recalls that when she moved to Georgia in the 30's, "prison conditions in the state had been receiving nation-wide attention." "As a new citizen of Georgia, I was thrilled to learn that the women of the state, working through the league, were achieving splendid results in their efforts to improve these very unfortunate circumstances."

After this beginning, Mrs. Killen went on to help found a local league and serve as first president in Albany, Ga., in 1936. She has been president of the Florida league and vice-president of the Orlando League and was elected a director of the League of Women Voters of the United States in 1952, a post for which she was re-elected in 1954.

A lifelong southerner, the former Louise Elizabeth Arnandez was born in New Iberia, La., of Creole ancestry, her father being Spanish and her mother French-Acadian. With this background her hobbies rather naturally include cooking such specialties as Creole gumbo. She also likes to work in her garden, with emphasis on camellias and hibiscus.

Mrs. Killen attended Mt. Carmel Convent and the Louisiana State Normal College. She has taught in public schools in Georgia, Louisiana and Florida. Her husband was a superintendent of schools in Louisiana, but they left the state because of what they felt was political interference. Mr. Killen is now associated with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Mrs. Killen has two stepsons, both married, and five grandchildren.

While she has found "all of the work of the league tremendously interesting and valuable," Mrs. Killen has said that: "I believe I have found more personal satisfaction in my work of organizing new leagues than in any other phrase of league activity, for this seems to me such a direct service to the democratic process. Each new league means so many new women, trained to be more effective citizens and prepared to serve their local communities, as well as the state and the nation."

Mrs. Killen was elected a director of the League of Women Voters of the United States in 1952 and re-eelcted in 1954. Previously, she had served as president of the League of Women Voters of Florida, 1949-51; first president of the League of Women Voters of Albany, Ga., which she helped to found in 1936; vice president of the Orlando League.

She helped organize the Citizens' Constitution Committee of Florida, and became its vice chairman.

Mrs. Killen is a native of Louisiana, where she attended Mt. Carmel Convent and the Louisiana State Normal College. She has also spent a great deal of time in Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina. She has taught in public schools of both Louisiana and Florida.

1. Sit in an upright position within a 30 degree angle of the screen.
2. Sit at least 8 feet from the set.
3. Do not view TV in a dark room. Illumination should be almost normal, but no lamps should be shining in the face of the picture tube They should be at the side or reflected upward.
4. Keep the brightness of the picture at a minimum.
5 Do not look at picture continuously. It is advisable to turn your eyes from the picture every few minutes to break the pattern.

Care of Stainless Steel

Stainless steel has proved itself a highly satisfactory and durable material for kitchen equipment, though some foods and cleaning and sanitizing agents can cause trouble as corrosion and rust. Suggestions for prevention of corrosion of stainless steel equipment include: Select proper type of stainless steel (Non - magnetic is generally considered more corrosive resistant than magnetic.) Keep it clean, exposed to the air and dry all surfaces and never clean with metal sponges or steel wool.

Gardening Information

It's time to plant tomato, pepper and eggplant seeds to get early plants for transplanting. A small plant box 18 inches wide, 18 inches long and six inches deep will be sufficiently large to grow enough plants which you will need early. Use soil for the planting box which has much organic matter. Use a small amount of a complete fertilizer (One you use in your garden.) Equal parts of sand and peat moss, with fertilizer added makes a good planting soil. Well rotted stable manure will serve well in place of peat moss. Plant seed box in rows, firm then cover with a layer of sand. Press burlap or any cloth down closely over planted seed box and water until thoroughly wet. Let cloth remain for several days or until you see small plants. Remove and cover with grass or other translucent type material. Only water when plants show need of it. Too much water may cause plants to rot off. Expose plants to direct sunlight as much as possible when weather is suitable.

Varieties recommended are: Marglobe, Rutgers, Louisiana Allseason, Jefferson, Louisiana Gulf State. Louisiana Dixie. and Vancross.

Sweet Peppers: World Beater, Dixie Wonder, and California Wonder.

Eggplant Varieties: Florida High Bush, Black Beauty. and New Orleans Market.

Remember that a clean, well-pulverized seed bed is a must for good gardening. Now is the time to broadcast the barnyard manure over the plot. For fertilizer use 4 to 8 pounds of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8 per 100 feet of row. Garden guides may be obtained by calling 3-2251.

The agent will not be in the field next week since she will be attending the farm and home development meeting on the 24, 25 and 26th. The fourth week of each month will be spent with this program.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Couple

WINNSBORO — An impressive ceremony was held during the Yuletide when Miss Elizabeth Ann Riser, daughter of Mrs. W. J. Riser, became the bride of Lt. Charles Ray Martin of the U. S. Air Force, and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Martin.

The marriage was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon on December 23rd at the First Presbyterian church, where the Rev. W. W. Morriss officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A gleaming mass of candles illuminated the altar which was garlanded in spicy pine roping with four tall floor candelabra which held the burning white tapers. The altar rail top was banked with pine interspersed with clumps of white candy tuft and stock. A white satin bow centered the decor. Two tall baskets of white stock and gladiola were used on either side of the altar. Graduated candlebra centered the altar rail and topped the piano with their soft light of gleaming tapers.

Prenuptial music was presented by Mrs. C. L. Moore, Jr. She also accompanied Miss Betty Miller, soloist. Serving as candle lighters and ushers were John Robert Lowry and Will Sanders of Ruston.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by her sister, Miss San Riser, maid of honor, who wore a waltz length gown of pink crystalline with a red velveteen shrug jacket. Her bouffant skirt with the strapless bodice was sprinkled with sequins. She wore matching pink pumps. Her headdress was fashioned of pink sequins in a band effect. The maid of honor's bouquet was red roses with pink tulle and pink lace ribbon.

The flower girl, Carla Martin, cousin of the bridegroom, wore a floor length cotton - satin model with a low round neckline and fashioned with a three - tiered bouffant skirt with a wide crushed red velveteen sash ending in a bow at the back. Her headdress was a red velveteen bandeau. Carla's bouquet was identical to the maid of honor's.

The bride entered with her brother, Jimmy Riser, who gave her in marriage. She was wearing a floor length gown of white lace over layers of white tulle and faille. The bodice, made of lace, was fitted, with a scalloped sweetheart neckline outlined in tiny seed pearls. The long tight sleeves were pointed at the wrists. The fingertip veil of illusion was of tulle and fell from a coronet of seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible with a white orchid centered in a white lace handkerchief.

Attending the groom as best man was his father.

The mother of the bride was gowned in a street length pale aqua brocaded cotton - satin sheath dress with a short fitted jacket. She wore a matching satin lattice work half hat and black accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore for her son's wedding an attractive periwinkle blue lace street length dress with a navy half hat and black accessories.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the church house. The bride's table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and centered with an artistic arrangement of white stock and fern. A crystal candelabra held six lighted tapers. The crystal punch bowl was placed at one end of the table. The opposite end of the table held the wedding cake topped by four wedding bells and tulle of palest pink.

Tea girls dressed in lovely afternoon models, alternated at the punch bowl and served the bride's cake. Those assisting were Misses Betty Jean Tarver, Carol Lynn Smith, Mar-ot Horn, and Mrs. Mrs. Huey Stem, Mrs. Robb Kinz, Jr., and Mrs. Morris Dante.

Mrs. Mildred Bates of Shreveport, asked the guests to sign the bride's guest book.

The young couple left immediately following the reception for their wedding trip to New Orleans. For traveling, Mrs. Martin chose a brown chiffon wool sheath with a short jacket. Her hat was brown satin trimmed, and she wore beige gloves and brown accessories. The jacket was complimented by the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Winnsboro High School and Louisiana Tech in Ruston, where she received her degree in home economics.

The bridegroom also graduated from Winnsboro High school and has a degree in business administration from Louisiana Tech.

Care of Stainless Steel

Stainless steel has proved itself a highly satisfactory and durable material for kitchen equipment, though some foods and cleaning and sanitizing agents can cause trouble as corrosion and rust. Suggestions for prevention of corrosion of stainless steel equipment include: Select proper type of stainless steel (Non - magnetic is generally considered more corrosive resistant than magnetic.) Keep it clean, exposed to the air and dry all surfaces and never clean with metal sponges or steel wool.

Gardening Information

It's time to plant tomato, pepper and eggplant seeds to get early plants for transplanting. A small plant box 18 inches wide, 18 inches long and six inches deep will be sufficiently large to grow enough plants which you will need early. Use soil for the planting box which has much organic matter. Use a small amount of a complete fertilizer (One you use in your garden.) Equal parts of sand and peat moss, with fertilizer added makes a good planting soil. Well rotted stable manure will serve well in place of peat moss. Plant seed box in rows, firm then cover with a layer of sand. Press burlap or any cloth down closely over planted seed box and water until thoroughly wet. Let cloth remain for several days or until you see small plants. Remove and cover with grass or other translucent type material. Only water when plants show need of it. Too much water may cause plants to rot off. Expose plants to direct sunlight as much as possible when weather is suitable.

Varieties recommended are: Marglobe, Rutgers, Louisiana Allseason, Jefferson, Louisiana Gulf State. Louisiana Dixie. and Vancross.

Sweet Peppers: World Beater, Dixie Wonder, and California Wonder.

Eggplant Varieties: Florida High Bush, Black Beauty. and New Orleans Market.

Remember that a clean, well-pulverized seed bed is a must for good gardening. Now is the time to broadcast the barnyard manure over the plot. For fertilizer use 4 to 8 pounds of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8 per 100 feet of row. Garden guides may be obtained by calling 3-2251.

The agent will not be in the field next week since she will be attending the farm and home development meeting on the 24, 25 and 26th. The fourth week of each month will be spent with this program.

MR. AND MRS. FRED M. LEACHMAN

Miss Farmer Says Vows By Candlelight

Miss Sally Lou Farmer and Fred M. Leachman pledged their wedding vows in a beautiful candlelight ceremony at the Downsville Methodist church Thursday evening, December 29, at 7 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Farmer of Downsville, and Mr. Leachman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Leachman of Choudrant.

The vows were exchanged before an altar rail decorated with smilax and white satin ribbons. White cathedral tapers in wrought-iron candelabra burned against a background of greenery. Tall baskets of white mums were placed along the altar rail.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. Leachman of Minden, uncle of the groom.

Nuptial music was presented by Miss Bettye Maxwell who also accompanied her sister, Miss Carolyn Maxwell who sang "Whither Thou Goest," "O Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown featuring a fitted bodice of lace over taffeta accented with a Peter Pan collar and tiny covered buttons. The long fitted sleeves ended in points over her hands. The bouffant skirt of taffeta, net, and tulle was waltz length. Her veil of illusion was waist - length and was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a crescent - shaped bouquet of white carnations with long white satin streamers.

Mrs. Billy E. Leachman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her waltz length gown of canary yellow was fashioned with an off the shoulder bodice of lace over taffeta and a full skirt of net over taffeta. The gown was enhanced by a small stole of net. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and wore matching flowers in her hair.

The bride-maids, Mrs. Cleve Hammons and Miss Patsy Bayles, wore dresses identical to the matron of honor. Mrs. Hammons' gown was winter lilac, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and wore a matching headpiece. Miss Bayles wore a dress of mint green, and her bouquet and headpiece were also of white carnations.

Billy E. Leachman of Ruston, brother of the groom, served as best man. The groomsmen and candlelighters were Delane Leachman of Ruston, and Layton Leachman of Choudrant, both brothers of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Farmer chose a dress of navy blue crepe with accents of pink. She wore pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Leachman, mother of the groom, wore a charcoal suit with black and winter white accessories, and her corsage was of pink carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the social room of the church. The bridal couple, their parents, and their attendants formed the receiving line.

Miss Marsha Roach of Wisner, cousin of the bride, attended the guest register.

The reception hall was decorated for the occasion with attractive arrangements of white mums and greenery. Tall white tapers burned at vantage points.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white Maderia cloth and was centered with the bride's bouquet. The white wedding cake was a three - tiered creation topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. M. E. Stivers, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Spencer Maxwell, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. L. M. Woodburn, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. C. A. White alternated at the crystal punch bowl. Mrs. Delane Leachman, Miss Annie Ruth Patterson, Miss Ann Hale, and Miss Sue Hammons assisted in the serving courtesies.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, the bride had changed to a two - piece brown faille dress. Her accessories were beige and brown, and she wore a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Film Strip To Tell Story For Alaska College

This week district superintendents throughout the United States will receive the long-awaited film-strip telling of the need of the Alaska Methodist College which is to be built in Anchorage, Alaska, within the next few years.

Produced by the Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church, the film-strip will use colored slides and a recording and script to tell the story of the proposed college and the efforts to establish and maintain it.

A few beautiful scenes of Alaska will be followed by a presentation of the future of the last great American frontier territory, and the story of the Anchorage Founders Crusade for the college in which $715,000 was pledged locally.

The visit of a group of area representatives to the college site, the forming of the Arctic Prayer Circle, and plans for the promotion of advance specials for the Alaska Methodist College on a five-year basis are also given, along with statements of various leaders endorsing the movement.

The script was prepared by Rev. P. Gordon Gould and Dr. H. L. Johns, associate secretaries of the Division of National Missions, who are assigned to bring this message to the attention of the Methodist churches throughout the states.

The film-strip will be used by the district superintendents in meetings of pastors, in district groups, and in local churches in the effort to secure as many Advance Special acceptances as possible. Local churches may have free use of the film-strip and will schedule it by contacting their district superintendents.

The bishop in each area of American Methodism has appointed an area representative to assist in the special promotional work on behalf of the college project. These area representatives met with the Alaska Methodist College Committee of the Division of National Missions in Chicago on December 5, 1955, in the first report meeting. With most of the reports being very incomplete, the outlook for the financing of the proposed college showed cash, acceptances, and goals as follows: Anchorage "Crusade," $715,000; cash received at the Philadelphia office, $239,000; local church acceptances, $522,-549; additional goals set up by various districts and annual conferences, $813,000; a total of $2,289,-549. This was considered an encouraging start, and the period of January - February - March, 1956, was named as a time for further work, to make a report at the time of the general conference session.

Included in the mailing of the film-strip is a small Alaska flag which was designed by Benny Benson, a boy in the mission school of the Jesse Lee Home, operated by the Woman's Division of Christian Service.

The purpose of the Alaska Methodist College is to provide needed educational facilities for the youth of Alaska through a fully accredited church-related liberal arts college, which, with its Christian influence, will strengthen the Territory and the church through the development of Alaskan leadership.

The Methodist Church has given Alaska its flag, and it now has the privilege of giving Alaska a church-related college, the Alaska Methodist college. All churches are invited to have a share in this five-year program.

DR. ROBERT CASHMAN

'Better Things Of Life' Topic Of Dr. Cashman

Dr. Robert Cashman, author of two vital books that pertain to churches and their efforts in a community, will be guest speaker in the educational building of the Monroe First Methodist Church, Friday, January 27 at 7 p.m. He will discuss "The Better Things of Life."

He is author of "The Business Administration of a Church" and a second book that is widely read which is "The Finances of a Church."

Dr. Cashman served as national chairman of the Congregational Christian Denomination's Unit plan campaign to raise $1,200,000 for pensions of older ministers and widows. This campaign was so successful that it went over three years ahead of schedule.,

Recognizing his many services to the church, Dr. Cashman was honored by Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., at the 1950 commencement by the degree of Doctor of Laws.

At the meeting of the general council of the Congregational Christian Churches in the United States, held in Claremont, Calif., in June 1952, he was elected national moderator of the denomination for the 1954-5 biennium; traveling more than 80,000 miles and addressing 30,000 people in 33 states and 8 foreign countries in his work for the churches.

In April 1955, Dr. and Mrs. Cashman moved to Shreveport and are active members of the First Methodist Church there. Dr. Cashman is retired but has been giving time to the promotion of the Shreveport United Fund (Community Chest) which has completed the raising of $750,000 for 28 charities.

Barham To Address Oak Ridge Baptists

Erle M. Barham, prominent Baptist layman of Oak Ridge, will address the congregation of the Oak Ridge Baptist Church on Sunday night, according to an announcement by the pastor, Dr. Glen Lee Greene, who will be in New Orleans attending the annual Masonic Grand Lodge.

The subject of Barham's address will be "The Church and the Problem of Juvenile Delinquency." This service will represent a step in the direction of coupling community interest with the continued desire of the church to act creatively toward the development of resources for better understanding of and solutions for the problem.

Barham, long interested in youth work, is well qualified to discuss the subject of juvenile delinquency as it relates to the church. He is a Sunday school teacher in the local church. Reared in Oak Ridge, he has had wide experience in scouting, Lionism and related civic activities. He is a member of the State Parks and Recreation Commission, and active in Conservation and Wildlife projects.

Since the question of juvenile delinquency is of wide public interest, the public is cordially invited to hear this discussion. The service begins at 7 o'clock at the Baptist church.

Presbytery Of Red River In Annual Meet

Presbyterian ministers and laymen from throughout north Louisiana will meet in Tallulah next Tuesday and Wednesday. The Tallulah Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. Arthur Strickland is pastor, will be host to the Presbytery of Red River of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., at its winter meeting, January 24-25.

The work of both laymen and ministers will be evident at this meeting. Mr. J. H. Nelson, of Minden, La., is the moderator-designate, succeeding the Rev. Edgar L. Storey, of Vivian. In addition to performing the duties of moderator, Mr. Nelson will report the activities of the capital gifts committee of which he is chairman. Mr. John J. Doles, of Plain Dealing, Presbytery's treasurer of benevolences, will report the contributions of the churches for the year 1955.

Presbytery will open with the retiring moderator's sermon at ten o'clock Tuesday morning. Another minister of the Presbytery, Dr. W. Taylor Reveley, professor of Bible at Southwestern at Memphis, will preach the sermon "The Doctrine of Creation" at nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

The better part of these two days will be given to reports by Presbytery's committees; these reports will reflect the work done in the Presbytery during the past year and will propose recommendations for 1956.

While the public is invited to attend any of the sessions of Presbytery, the worship service Tuesday evening will be of special interest. At seven-thirty o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Wm. R. Riley, missionary to the Belgium Congo, will deliver a missionary message. Following this address, the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered.

"Presbytery" is one of the church courts within the Presbyterian system of church government. A presbytery consists of all the ministers and one ruling elder from each church within a certain district. The Presbytery of Red River covers all of North Louisiana and at the present time has forty-four churches. The Rev. Wm. R. Gage, of Winnfield, is stated clerk, succeeding the Rev. L. R. Swinney, of Homer.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: When is the proper age for a person to join a church? I have never done so, and even now my parents think that I am too young. I am nearly nineteen, and feel the need of some contact with religion. L. C. M.

ANSWER: I do not believe that you are approaching this problem correctly. Your problem is not so much the age of joining the church, but rather are you spiritually fit for it. You see, we do not join the church to be in contact with some religion, but to have fellowship with those who love Christ, and to participate in the mission of the church. To have such fellowship, you need to find Christ as Saviour and Lord first. The Bible says that "The Lord added unto them (the Church) daily those that were being saved." If you should join the church without a personal faith, you might do damage to both the church and yourself. Take Christ as your Saviour, and then you will be spiritually ready.

Prayers Will Be Continued Through May

The Prayer Life Movement is gaining strength here assures the Rev. Lea Joyner, secretary of the commission. She assures that it is being manifested in the life of the Methodist churches in the local Monroe district.

Throughout the Louisiana conference from Jan. 1 to May 31, there will be a continuous chain of prayer. The churches, she assures, are reporting great benefit from these prayer vigils. Day by day the statement, "Prayer is the key that unlocks the door to God's Power house" is becoming increasingly real to those who participate.

Churches that are participating here are listed as follows: McGuire church, Feb. 17-18; First Church, West Monroe, Jan. 4, 5; Crowville - Baskin, Feb. 22 - 23; Delhi, March 26-27; St. Paul's, Monroe, Jan. 18, 19; Southside, Monroe, Jan. 2, 3; Holly Ridge, April 9, 10; Mer Rouge, April 10, 11; Columbia, April 11, 12; Sicily Island, April 13-14; Stone Avenue Monroe, April 13, 14; Fairbanks, May 17, 18; Oak Grove, May 18, 19; Lake Providence, May 19, 20; Memorial, Monroe, Jan. 24, 25; Jonesville, Jan. 23, 24; Rayville, Jan. 21, 22, Sterlington, Jan. 26, 27; Gordon Avenue, Jan. 28, 28; First church, Monroe, May 20, 21; Bastrop - Beekman, May 21, 22; Tallulah May 22, 23; Gilbert, May 23, 24; Winnsboro, March 18, 19; Waterproof, Jan. 15, 16; Oak Ridge, Jan. 17, 18.

In each case the Vigil begins at 6 p.m. on the first date and ends at 6 p.m. on the second date.

FHA Loans Available For Eligible Farmers

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Jan. 21 (Special) — Farmers home administration loans are now available to eligible farmers and stockmen in East Carroll parish, announces Joseph H. LeBeau, Jr., East Carroll parish FHA supervisor.

Any established farmer or stockman who is engaged primarily in farming or livestock production is eligible for a loan provided he is unable to obtain from commercial banks, other private lending agencies, or the Farmers home administration, under its regular lending programs, the credit needed to continue his normal farming operations.

This type of loan was authorized because of the economic squeeze that farmers find themselves in due to high costs of production, lower prices received for commodities sold, and the continuing rise in the prices of many items bought by farmers in their normal operations.

All FHA loans must be approved by the parish committee. Members of the East Carroll FHA committee are Lynwood W. Baker, Herman Johnson and Sedric L. Wilson.

Additional information may be obtained from the FHA office in Lake Providence.

Trees were planted on 3,280 farms in 1955 in connection with tree planting programs in North Dakota. In all, 6,119,085 trees were planted.

Air Force Couple Wed In Gilbert

Miss Tommie Jean McLemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. McLemore of Gilbert became the bride of Charles William Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Turner of Marion, in an impressive double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Gilbert.

The Rev. J. T. Halley, officiated at the nuptial service attended by families and friends.

Tall white wicker baskets of flowers marked the improvised altar. White candles burned in sconces and on the piano.

Prior to the ceremony "Because" and "I Love You Truly" were sung. The candles were lighted by Miss Linda Arnold.

The bride was wearing a two-piece brown suit. Her accessories were white and brown and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. John W. Stephens. She chose a navy blue crepe model with white and navy accessories and a corsage of blue carnations for the occasiin.

John W. Stephens, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held.

The dining table, overlaid with a linen cutwork cloth over green held the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride's cake was served by her aunt, Mrs. W. Brown McLemore. Mrs. Allen Turner, great aunt of the bride, presided at the punch service.

Mrs. Turner is a graduate of Gilbert High School. Mr. Turner graduated from Linville High School. They are both serving with the United States Air Force at Croswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex.

Hunt Speaks To Garden Club

Progress in the Making

An impressive ceremony was the ground breaking for News-Star—World's new home on Monday. Did you see the architect's drawing in the World last week? Another beautiful structure for Ouachita Parish indicating booming progress. I was impressed by the expression of happiness on Mr. Robert Ewing's face as he turned the first soil for this mammoth building. Many years of planning preceeded this initial step that will enable the News-Star—World personnel to serve their people—not better—but as they have served us in the past. Congratulations!

Mr. Lanier Hunt, noted horticulturist lectured to the Monroe Garden Club last week. Thought you would like to know some of the fine gardening information he gave us. So I quote "Our problem is trying to find new and better plants and those that withstand the drowth. Preparing the soil deep and breaking the subsoil is the answer to the drowth problem. In my own gardens, visitors first remark is that heavy watering must be carried on, to have such healthy looking plants. I do no watering because my place is much too large. But—I use a sub-soiler or a tractor to break that heavy subsoil. The tractor will not harm the roots of your trees if you will run it back and forth toward the tree and not around it. Do this type soil preparation before you plant. Many of course have established gardens.

"Continue to add humus to the soil. Plants can get through a drowth better with plenty of this decayed vegetable matter. Incorporate it in the soil when you plant also. Then mulch well. Pine straw is one of our best mulches because it does not pack, yet controls weeds and grass as well as conserving moisture.

"In a few years we hope to have a rose that is resistant to leaf spot by using the old McCartney plants for understock. At one time there were over a thousand tea roses in southern gardens. These are disease resistant and we should try to revive more of them. Watch for plants in old gardens. Ask for cuttings.

"A shrub that withstands the drowth well is the Chinese Holly. Gardeners prune this plant too severely and often lose them. They should never be pruned lower than five feet.

"If you get no blooms from your purple magnolias the cause is probably that they set bud and the low temperatures cause these buds to drop.

"We should use more of our crinum lilies. The foliage drops over and gets unsightly at times, but the blooms make up for this. Treat these lilies as shrubs, giving them plenty of room. They are heavy feeders and need lots of water."

Here are a few miscellaneous suggestions Mr. Hunt gave us: Chinese dog wood will grow well in this area (I'm not familiar with this). Use snowball vibernum more as it is hardy; plant montbretia four inches deep; sternbergia is satisfactory in North Louisiana; the rabbits will not eat the foliage of hoop petticoat crocus; (about the only one they won't eat); lily of the Nile tree should grow well here; Moore's Blue Lily of the Valley is hardy and should grow here; transplant lycoris after the foliage dies down completely and always plant very shallow.

Good Food Buys This Week

Meats: Retail prices of all meat items are well below last year's price level at this time. The most outstanding decrease in meat prices may be found among pork cuts. Hog prices are the lowest they have been in fourteen years. Good buys are available in both fresh and smoked cuts.

Beef prices are showing a slight decline, with a plentiful supply in sight. Watch local markets for special features on certain cuts.

Currently, large eggs offer the most for your money on a cost-per-pound basis. Compare price differences between Grade A and Grade B eggs. B eggs may be satisfactorily used for scrambling, cooking and baking purposes.

Milk and cheese continue to offer good values price-wise and nutrition-wise.

The fresh vegetable counter is suffering the effect of the Florida cold weather. The cold curtailed harvesting of most fresh vegetables, such as pole beans, string beans, squash, tomatoes, celery, peppers and cucumbers. Consequently, prices of these vegetables are high and supply low this week. Meanwhile, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, lettuce, and cabbage show good quality and reasonable prices.

Citrus (grapefruit and oranges) still top the list of fruit buys. Apparently the citrus was not too seriously affected by cold weather. Pears, grapes and bananas may be found at moderate prices on some counters. Apples from the West Coast are good quality.

Announcements

Your "Open House" programs for next week are as follows: Monday, Billie Fincher from Jena will put on a 4-H Club meeting; Tuesday, Elizabeth McDanial from Oak Grove will make biscuit and muffins; Wednesday, we'll show and plant shade trees; Thursday, Bertha Genung will prepare some of her famous New Orleans Shrimp recipes; Friday is Marketing Day with Mildred and Mammy.

I'll be in New Orleans today through Tuesday, guest of the Louisiana Dairy Association, drinking lots of milk and eating dairy products.

See you next Sunday.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Ruston Club Has Flower Show; New Club Joins

Today we want to welcome a new garden club to the federation. The Green Acres Garden Club of Bastrop. Mrs. M. A. Wroten is president. We want to remind you that Flower Show School IV will be coming up in April and you need to get started on your required reading. The following books are available at the Garden Center library or your public library: "American Colorist," by Berrin (booklet), "Color in Flower Arrangement" by Wilson, "Color Notation" by Munsell, "Complete Landscape Garden Guide," Korbobo, "Woman's Home Companion Garden Book," chapters 22, 23, 27, 28, 25, 46, "History of Flower Arrangement," Berrall. You will need to read all these books and review them later. The questions on your reading examination are drawn from books on the required reading list.

The Ruston Garden Club staged the flower show this week that might well be entitled "Promise of Spring." The exhibits were point scored by an accredited judge. The all blue ribbon show was staged by Mrs. W. Durden, Jr., president of the club. First place in the arrangement section was a line arrangement of quince in a brass bowl set on a carved teakwood stand. Quince branches in the bud stage were arranged in a triangular line. Three bright red camellias with self foliage were placed at the base of the arrangement. The simplicity of line and the color harmony was most pleasing. Second place was awarded to a simple vertical design of five early daffodils and self foliage placed in a small brass bowl with its own teakwood stand. Incidentally our little early daffodil is Narcissus Minor.

The third arrangement was a lovely spiral design of white narcissus and self foliage in a small brass bowl. Keynote of the show was simplicity. All the designs were Oriental in feeling and light and airy as the first breath of spring.

Also on display at the Garden Center was an original composition by Mrs. John Lewis. The theme was "Ready for the Show" an informal composition suitable for a modern home. A brown hand carved wooden plate held the design of tall spikes of pussy-willow. Two placements of finger coral in gleaming white were placed in front of the pussy - willow. The center of interest was a rosette of lace coral framed by foliage of the lovely Chinese cabbage. (These are ruffly leaves of green shading into yellow - green and veined with a red - violet shade.) Mushroom coral placed in the foreground and fine white gravel covering the entire plate added to the illusion of a seashore scene.

If you are interested in making a garden tour, now is the time to make your plans. Nearby, of course, we have the annual Natchez Pilgrimage all during March. The Williamsburg Garden Symposium announces two sessions — March 7-9 and March 12-14. For full information write The Williamsburg Garden Symposium, Goodwin Building, Williamsburg, Virginia or drop by the Garden Center. The Horticulture Travel Foundation is offering two European Garden Tours and a Garden Tour of the Hawaiian Islands. Folders describing the tours may be seen at the Garden Center.

Don't forget that state board meeting of the Louisiana Garden Club Federation, Thursday January 26 in Alexandria at the YWCA building.

JUDGE CONFESSES

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Traffic Judge Charles Henchel fined a driver who gave a policeman a hard time for ordering his car towed away, then offered this bit of solace: "I wouldn't want anyone to know it, but my car has been towed away twice. I paid."

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

More Information About Conifers

Around the turn of this century, our nurseries in the United States were featuring the Colorado blue spruce, the Engellman spruce and the Norway spruce in their catalogues. You can find some fine specimens of these three conifers in parks and cemeteries and old gardens and grounds today. Not too many of them survived because people did not know how big they would get or what conditions they wanted when they first showed up in nurseries. We just have to learn these things by doing.

Now we know that the Norway spruce gets off to a wonderful start, as do most young conifers, and is a very handsome Christmas tree shaped specimen that becomes larger and handsomer every year for twenty to forty years. Then it begins to decline under most southern conditions. It simply is not a long - lived tree. It has shot its bolt, and it does not then stay with us much longer. Sap - suckers love to drill holes into the soft bark of the Norway spruce, too. They will often riddle the trunks with ring after ring of their holes and cause the poor trees to nearly bleed to death early in the spring.

The Colorado blue spruces which were set out everywhere in the old days have survived better than the Norway spruces have because they are naturally long - lived trees. They grow very slowly and have seemed to be able better to cope with our great droughts and white hot summer heat than many conifers from other parts of the world. Some glorious specimens can be seen in cemeteries and on old home places here and there. Engellman's spruce is not as common, but the few still growing are a glorious sight to behold. The foliage is dense and a rich green. Not to be confused with these are the occasional specimens of the green form of the Colorado blue spruce.

Another conifer that was once very popular is that stickery evergreen with branchlets made up of two rows of prickly needles about an inch long backed up to each other like two combs. Many of these were used in Christmas decorations this year either gilded or silvered or just plain green. The buds at the ends of the twigs are a little ball of more prickles that resemble baby cones. This evergreen, the Cunninghamia, was named for the man for whom some people think the camellia should have been named. Dr. Harold Hume thinks that the monk, Camel, probably never saw a camellia. At any rate, Cunningham was an employee of the British East India Company in China and sent home descriptions and live plants of the camellia before anyone else had done it.

Cunninghamia is one of the large trees we see in oriental paintings and art. These conifers, like many other kinds, are very beautiful when very young but rather ugly in their adolescence — at the time they begin to get up to about ten to twenty feet. They lose many branches. Strangely enough, they just seem to be shedding them as if it were the natural thing for them to do. Some improved varieties are now in our nurseries, and we shall perhaps always grow Cunninghamias in spite of their messiness. Ask for the better type that is more compact than the ordinary ones.

ABSTRACT CO. ELECTS

FARMERVILLE, Jan. 21 (Special) — Harvey G. Fields, Olivia Barr, and Hazel N. Albritton, all of West Monroe, were elected president, vice - president, and secretary - treasurer, respectively, by members of the board of directors of the Citizens Abstract and Title Company of Farmerville, it was announced today. The newly elected officers will serve during the ensuing year.

MICHIGAN'S FUTURE

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Michigan some day will pass Florida as the nation's No. 2 fruit and vegetable state and challenge California for top position, two Michigan State University horticultural experts predict.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

A husband would love to find his wife eternally gay, understanding and faithful.

New, Mutual Interests Help Keep Marriage Attractive

When we notice a man and woman who seem to be intrigued with one another, who seem to be having fun, who have that sparkle in their eyes, we are likely to think that they are not married, no matter what their ages are.

This seems to be a very cynical attitude and yet, sadly, it is somewhat realistic. It is realistic in that too many married folk allow their daily lives to sink into ruts of fatigue, of taking each other for granted, and sameness, day after day, year after year. It is almost to the point where, if you find your wife or husband attractive, you are acting illegally or are suspect for intrigue.

The average woman, whether she realizes it or not, would really like to have a Don Juan, with perfect manners—the Prince Charming in every way. BUT she also would like to have a stable man she can lean on and depend on, and one on whose love she can rely.

The man would love to find his wife eternally gay and understanding, lovely, faithful, with never a criticism and no shred of fatigue, even though she runs the house well, takes care of the children, and manages somehow on the budget.

This is all to the good! Human nature always is hopeful until it is in real danger.

Why not look at it from both angles, both of you! Why not realize that in the stress of daily work, yours and his, you are apt to lose those magical times together which you could create if you both would put a little thought and heart into it.

Whenever I see a couple who looks bored, I always wonder whether they really are bored or whether they feel so at home together that they feel that they can relax.

However, it does seem that when they go out on a gala evening that both husband and wife might feel some obligation to be an entertaining "date."

A husband and wife never should overlook the chance to add variety to their daily life together and to create new, mutual interests and hobbies. It may be some reading, a new card game, a new sport, or new records to listen to. Even these small things may make the difference between a happy and unhappy or "so-so" couple.

Film Strip To Tell Story For Alaska College

This week district superintendents throughout the United States will receive the long-awaited film-strip telling of the need of the Alaska Methodist College which is to be built in Anchorage, Alaska, within the next few years.

Produced by the Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church, the film-strip will use colored slides and a recording and script to tell the story of the proposed college and the efforts to establish and maintain it.

A few beautiful scenes of Alaska will be followed by a presentation of the future of the last great American frontier territory, and the story of the Anchorage Founders Crusade for the college in which $715,000 was pledged locally.

The visit of a group of area representatives to the college site, the forming of the Arctic Prayer Circle, and plans for the promotion of advance specials for the Alaska Methodist College on a five-year basis are also given, along with statements of various leaders endorsing the movement.

The script was prepared by Rev. P. Gordon Gould and Dr. H. L. Johns, associate secretaries of the Division of National Missions, who are assigned to bring this message to the attention of the Methodist churches throughout the states.

The film-strip will be used by the district superintendents in meetings of pastors, in district groups, and in local churches in the effort to secure as many Advance Special acceptances as possible. Local churches may have free use of the film-strip and will schedule it by contacting their district superintendents.

The bishop in each area of American Methodism has appointed an area representative to assist in the special promotional work on behalf of the college project. These area representatives met with the Alaska Methodist College Committee of the Division of National Missions in Chicago on December 5, 1955, in the first report meeting. With most of the reports being very incomplete, the outlook for the financing of the proposed college showed cash, acceptances, and goals as follows: Anchorage "Crusade," $715,000; cash received at the Philadelphia office, $239,000; local church acceptances, $522,549; additional goals set up by various districts and annual conferences, $813,000; a total of $2,289,519. This was considered an encouraging start, and the period of January - February - March, 1956, was named as a time for further work, to make a report at the time of the general conference session.

Included in the mailing of the film-strip is a small Alaska flag which was designed by Benny Benson, a boy in the mission school of the Jesse Lee Home, operated by the Woman's Division of Christian Service.

The purpose of the Alaska Methodist College is to provide needed educational facilities for the youth of Alaska through a fully accredited church-related liberal arts college, which, with its Christian influence, will strengthen the Territory and the church through the development of Alaskan leadership.

The Methodist Church has given Alaska its flag, and it now has the privilege of giving Alaska a church-related college, the Alaska Methodist college. All churches are invited to have a share in this five-year program.

'Better Things Of Life' Topic Of Dr. Cashman

Dr. Robert Cashman, author of two vital books that pertain to churches and their efforts in a community, will be guest speaker in the educational building of the Monroe First Methodist Church, Friday, January 27 at 7 p.m. He will discuss "The Better Things of Life."

He is author of "The Business Administration of a Church" and a second book that is widely read which is "The Finances of a Church."

Dr. Cashman served as national chairman of the Congregational Christian Denomination's Unit plan campaign to raise $1,200,000 for pensions of older ministers and widows. This campaign was so successful that it went over three years ahead of schedule.,

Recognizing his many services to the church, Dr. Cashman was honored by Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., at the 1950 commencement by the degree of Doctor of Laws.

At the meeting of the general council of the Congregational Christian Churches in the United States, held in Claremont, Calif., in June 1952, he was elected national moderator of the denomination for the 1954-5 biennium; traveling more than 80,000 miles and addressing 30,000 people in 33 states and 8 foreign countries in his work for the churches.

In April 1955, Dr. and Mrs. Cashman moved to Shreveport and are active members of the First Methodist Church there. Dr. Cashman is retired but has been giving time to the promotion of the Shreveport United Fund (Community Chest) which has completed the raising of $750,000 for 28 charities.

Barham To Address Oak Ridge Baptists

Erle M. Barham, prominent Baptist layman of Oak Ridge, will address the congregation of the Oak Ridge Baptist Church on Sunday night, according to an announcement by the pastor, Dr. Glen Lee Greene, who will be in New Orleans attending the annual Masonic Grand Lodge.

The subject of Barham's address will be "The Church and the Problem of Juvenile Delinquency." This service will represent a step in the direction of coupling community interest with the continued desire of the church to act creatively toward the development of resources for better understanding of and solutions for the problem.

Barham, long interested in youth work, is well qualified to discuss the subject of juvenile delinquency as it relates to the church. He is a Sunday school teacher in the local church. Reared in Oak Ridge, he has had wide experience in scouting, Lionism and related civic activities. He is a member of the State Parks and Recreation Commission, and active in Conservation and Wildlife projects.

Since the question of juvenile delinquency is of wide public interest, the public is cordially invited to hear this discussion. The service begins at 7 o'clock at the Baptist church.

Chilling cookie dough has advantages. After chilling, rolled cookie dough will be easier to handle than if it does not get this frosty treatment.

Presbytery Of Red River In Annual Meet

Presbyterian ministers and laymen from throughout north Louisiana will meet in Tallulah next Tuesday and Wednesday. The Tallulah Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. Arthur Strickland is pastor, will be host to the Presbytery of Red River of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., at its winter meeting, January 24-25.

The work of both laymen and ministers will be evident at this meeting. Mr. J. H. Nelson, of Minden, La., is the moderator-designate, succeeding the Rev. Edgar L. Storey, of Vivian. In addition to performing the duties of moderator, Mr. Nelson will report the activities of the capital gifts committee of which he is chairman. Mr. John J. Doles, of Plain Dealing, Presbytery's treasurer of benevolences, will report the contributions of the churches for the year 1955.

Presbytery will open with the retiring moderator's sermon at ten o'clock Tuesday morning. Another minister of the Presbytery, Dr. W. Taylor Reveley, professor of Bible at Southwestern at Memphis, will preach the sermon "The Doctrine of Creation" at nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

The better part of these two days will be given to reports by Presbytery's committees; these reports will reflect the work done in the Presbytery during the past year and will propose recommendations for 1956.

While the public is invited to attend any of the sessions of Presbytery, the worship service Tuesday evening will be of special interest. At seven-thirty o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Wm. R. Riley, missionary to the Belgium Congo, will deliver a missionary message. Following this address, the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered.

"Presbytery" is one of the church courts within the Presbyterian system of church government. A presbytery consists of all the ministers and one ruling elder from each church within a certain district. The Presbytery of Red River covers all of North Louisiana and at the present time has forty-four churches. The Rev. Wm. R. Gage, of Winnfield, is stated clerk, succeeding the Rev. L. R. Swinney, of Homer.

QUESTION: When is the proper age for a person to join a church? I have never done so, and even now my parents think that I am too young. I am nearly nineteen, and feel the need of some contact with religion. L. C. M.

ANSWER: I do not believe that you are approaching this problem correctly. Your problem is not so much the age of joining the church, but rather are you spiritually fit for it. You see, we do not join the church to be in contact with some religion, but to have fellowship with those who love Christ, and to participate in the mission of the church. To have such fellowship, you need to find Christ as Saviour and Lord first. The Bible says that "The Lord added unto them (the Church) daily those that were being saved." If you should join the church without a personal faith, you might do damage to both the church and yourself. Take Christ as your Saviour, and then you will be spiritually ready.

Prayers Will Be Continued Through May

The Prayer Life Movement is gaining strength here assures the Rev. Lea Joyner, secretary of the commission. She assures that it is being manifested in the life of the Methodist churches in the local Monroe district.

Throughout the Louisiana conference from Jan. 1 to May 31, there will be a continuous chain of prayer. The churches, she assures, are reporting great benefit from these prayer vigils. Day by day the statement, "Prayer is the key that unlocks the door to God's Power house" is becoming increasingly real to those who participate.

Churches that are participating here are listed as follows: McGuire church, Feb. 17-18; First Church, West Monroe, Jan. 4, 5; Crowville - Baskin, Feb. 22 - 23; Delhi, March 26-27; St. Paul's, Monroe, Jan. 18, 19; Southside, Monroe, Jan. 2, 3; Holly Ridge, April 9, 10; Mer Rouge, April 10, 11; Columbia, April 11, 12; Sicily Island, April 13-14; Stone Avenue Monroe, April 13, 14; Fairbanks, May 17, 18; Oak Grove, May 18, 19; Lake Providence, May 19, 20; Memorial, Monroe, Jan. 24, 25; Jonesville, Jan. 23, 24; Rayville, Jan. 21, 22, Sterlington, Jan. 26, 27; Gordon Avenue, Jan. 28, 28; First church, Monroe, May 20, 21; Bastrop - Beckman, May 21, 22; Tallulah May 22, 23; Gilbert, May 23, 24; Winnsboro, March 18, 19; Waterproof, Jan. 15, 16; Oak Ridge, Jan. 17, 18.

In each case the Vigil begins at 6 p.m. on the first date and ends at 6 p.m. on the second date.

FHA Loans Available For Eligible Farmers

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Jan. 21 (Special) — Farmers home administration loans are now available to eligible farmers and stockmen in East Carroll parish, announces Joseph H. LeBeau, Jr., East Carroll parish FHA supervisor.

Any established farmer or stockman who is engaged primarily in farming or livestock production is eligible for a loan provided he is unable to obtain from commercial banks, other private lending agencies, or the Farmers home administration, under its regular lending programs, the credit needed to continue his normal farming operations.

This type of loan was authorized because of the economic squeeze that farmers find themselves in due to high costs of production, lower prices received for commodities sold, and the continuing rise in the prices of many items bought by farmers in their normal operations.

All FHA loans must be approved by the parish committee. Members of the East Carroll FHA committee are Lynwood W. Baker, Herman Johnson and Sedric L. Wilson.

Additional information may be obtained from the FHA office in Lake Providence.

Trees were planted on 3,280 farms in 1955 in connection with tree planting programs in North Dakota. In all, 6,119,085 trees were planted.

TIMOTHY J. MURPHY

National Head Of VFW Will Attend Banquet Tuesday

More than 200 persons from virtually every section in the state are expected to attend a banquet to be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Hotel Virginia, in honor of Timothy J. Murphy, Boston attorney, and commander - in - chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Murphy is scheduled to appear on television at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday and he will speak to members of the Lions club at Ruston the following afternoon. In the evening he is scheduled to be on television in Alexandria.

The VFW's chief executive enlisted in the U. S. Navy in August of 1942 and served through November of 1945 as a line officer aboard a small aircraft carrier in the South Pacific. At the completion of his tour of duty, he was a lieutenant commander and since that time he has been promoted to commander in the naval reserve.

After leaving the service, he returned to the practice of law and was subsequently appointed first assistant attorney - general of Massachusetts.

Dislike Soil Bank

Cotton Industry Spokesmen Urge Program Change

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — Spokesmen for the giant cotton industry generally opposed most provisions of the administration's soil-bank plan today but urged drastic overhaul of recent federal cotton programs.

They told the Senate Agriculture Committee, which is working on broad new farm legislation, that another cutback in cotton acreage as proposed by the soil bank would do further damage to cotton producers, ginners and others in the industry.

The cotton representatives, suggested instead:

1. Sale of as much as five million bales a year at cut rate world prices in an effort to regain this country's "fair share" of the foreign cotton trade.

2. A shift in the basis of support loans to a longer staple cotton—one inch middling instead of the present ⅞ths inch—even though this could lower domestic price supports for best cotton by 3 or 3½ cents a pound.

3. Restoration of the rigid 90 per cent of parity supports on cotton.

4. Some limitation or restriction on imports of cotton textiles, particularly those from Japan which have been reported on the increase.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), a committee member, contended the State Department has blocked an Agriculture Department proposal to sell off several million bales of surplus government cotton at reduced prices on world markets.

By his questioning of witnesses, Eastland contended this amounted "to manipulation to enrich four or five global American corporations" which he said had set up cotton production and ginning facilities in Mexico, Brazil an other cotton-growing nations.

Eastland identified the corporations as Anderson Clayton & Co. Cook & Co., Hohenberg Brothers and McFadden Cotton Co.

Alan G. Patterson of Poinsett County, Arkansas, appearing for the American Cotton Producer Associates, said he agreed with Eastland that these American corporations were offering difficult competition for U. S. cotton growers.

But Patterson said he "would not go so far" as to say they were dictating State Department policy.

Patterson said he might be willing to cooperate with a long range soil bank program if it returned $10 an acre and did not include land now used for cotton. He said he gets about this much now from land his tenants operate.

Chairman Ellender (D-La) asked if this would not displace the tenants.

"There are going to be quite a few tenants who are not going to be there," Patterson replied. "It's already happening. They are leaving the farm by thousands. We are not forcing them off. It's the economic situation. They just can't make a living."

He said this resulted from past planting cuts under federal programs that had allowed foreign competitors to expand their production.

G. C. Cortight, Jr., appearing for the Delta Council, said the cotton acreage cutback last year "displace 11,981 Mississippi farm families an more than 55,000 were displaced in the cotton belt."

Does your kitchen boast an electric rotisserie? Then do try roasting a duck on it! You'll find this method of cooking duckling gives wonderfully crisp skin. But make sure you have an extra dripping pan that fits under the heating element of the rotisserie. About a cup of fat will drip out from the duck and the regular tray will have to be emptied of the fat several times during the cooking; here's where the auxiliary pan will come in handy.

When your family requests baked fish, you'll save yourself the bother of basting if you select fat fish rather than lean. Some of the fat varieties are sea bass, butterfish, halibut, lake trout, mackerel, pompano, porgie, salmon and whitefish.

Here's a way to sneak an egg into the diet of one of your family who tires of eggs or just doesn't like them: Beat one up and slowly stir into it enough hot cereal for one serving.

Solon Offers Plan To Cut 'Phantom Freight', 'Bootlegging' Of Autos

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—UP—A Democratic senator proposed Friday that new cars be required to carry federal "truth" labels to protect buyers against "phantom" freight charges.

The suggestion was made by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (Okla), chairman of a Senate subcommittee studying auto sales practices.

Frederick J. Bell, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, estimated the public paid up to $200 million last year alone in unwarranted freight charges.

"Phantom" freight is a charge added to the price of new cars above the actual transportation cost. Most auto freight charges are based on railroad transportation from Detroit, even though many cars are shipped from nearer factories at cheaper truck rates.

Monroney suggested that each new car be required to carry a windshield sticker that would stay on until the car was registered by its owner. The sticker would show the "chain of ownership" and the exact type of transportation used.

He said this not only would hit "phantom" freight charges but also would help curb auto "bootlegging" — the sale of new cars by a regular franchised dealer to non-franchised dealers for resale.

Monroney said a "truth in labelling" law already exists for cars sold in Oklahoma but cannot be fully effective because it operates only after a car enters the state.

He noted that the government already requires accurate labels on cloth, food, drugs, liquor from bonded warehouses and other products.

Bell, whose organization has sharply attacked selling practices of the big auto makers, called on congressional action to halt what he called the "downhill plunge of industrial ethics and morality" in the auto industry. He appeared before Monroney's subcommittee.

Meanwhile Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told a House subcommittee that General Motors Corp. is operating a "collectivist state" whose very existence threatens the nation's economic freedom.

He said the General Motors "empire" is greater than the population of most American cities, with 600,000 employes, 504,000 stockholders and "control over 21,000 suppliers and thousands of dealers."

Hunt Speaks To Garden Club

Progress in the Making

An impressive ceremony was the ground breaking for News-Star—World's new home on Monday. Did you see the architect's drawing in the World last week? Another beautiful structure for Ouachita Parish indicating booming progress. I was impressed by the expression of happiness on Mr. Robert Ewing's face as he turned the first soil for this mammoth building. Many years of planning preceeded this initial step that will enable the News-Star—World personnel to serve their people—not better—but as they have served us in the past. Congratulations!

Mr. Lanier Hunt, noted horticulturist lectured to the Monroe Garden Club last week. Thought you would like to know some of the fine gardening information he gave us. So I quote "Our problem is trying to find new and better plants and those that withstand the drowth. Preparing the soil deep and breaking the subsoil is the answer to the drowth problem. In my own gardens, visitors first remark is that heavy watering must be carried on, to have such healthy looking plants. I do no watering because my place is much too large. But—I use a sub-soiler or a tractor to break that heavy subsoil. The tractor will not harm the roots of your trees if you will run it back and forth toward the tree and not around it. Do this type soil preparation before you plant. Many of course have established gardens.

"Continue to add humus to the soil. Plants can get through a drowth better with plenty of this decayed vegetable matter. Incorporate it in the soil when you plant also. Then mulch well. Pine straw is one of our best mulches because it does not pack, yet controls weeds and grass as well as conserving moisture.

"In a few years we hope to have a rose that is resistant to leaf spot by using the old McCartney plants for understock. At one time there were over a thousand tea roses in southern gardens. These are disease resistant and we should try to revive more of them. Watch for plants in old gardens. Ask for cuttings.

"A shrub that withstands the drowth well is the Chinese Holly. Gardeners prune this plant too severely and often lose them. They should never be pruned lower than five feet.

"If you get no blooms from your purple magnolias the cause is probably that they set bud and the low temperatures cause these buds to drop.

"We should use more of our crinum lilies. The foliage drops over and gets unsightly at times, but the blooms make up for this. Treat these lilies as shrubs, giving them plenty of room. They are heavy feeders and need lots of water."

Here are a few miscellaneous suggestions Mr. Hunt gave us: Chinese dog wood will grow well in this area (I'm not familiar with this). Use snowball vibernum more as it is hardy; plant montbretia four inches deep; sternbergia is satisfactory in North Louisiana; the rabbits will not eat the foliage of hoop petticoat crocus; (about the only one they won't eat); lily of the Nile tree should grow well here; Moore's Blue Lily of the Valley is hardy and should grow here; transplant lycoris after the foliage dies down completely and always plant very shallow.

Good Food Buys This Week

Meats: Retail prices of all meat items are well below last year's price level at this time. The most outstanding decrease in meat prices may be found among pork cuts. Hog prices are the lowest they have been in fourteen years. Good buys are available in both fresh and smoked cuts.

Beef prices are showing a slight decline, with a plentiful supply in sight. Watch local markets for special features on certain cuts.

Currently, large eggs offer the most for your money on a cost-per-pound basis. Compare price differences between Grade A and Grade B eggs. B eggs may be satisfactorily used for scrambling, cooking and baking purposes.

Milk and cheese continue to offer good values price-wise and nutrition-wise.

The fresh vegetable counter is suffering the effect of the Florida cold weather. The cold curtailed harvesting of most fresh vegetables, such as pole beans, string beans, squash, tomatoes, celery, peppers and cucumbers. Consequently, prices of these vegetables are high and supply low this week. Meanwhile, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, lettuce, and cabbage show good quality and reasonable prices.

Citrus (grapefruit and oranges) still top the list of fruit buys. Apparently the citrus was not too seriously affected by cold weather. Pears, grapes and bananas may be found at moderate prices on some counters. Apples from the West Coast are good quality.

Garden Center Notes

Ruston Club Has Flower Show; New Club Joins

Today we want to welcome a new garden club to the federation. The Green Acres Garden Club of Bastrop. Mrs. M. A. Wroten is president. We want to remind you that Flower Show School IV will be coming up in April and you need to get started on your required reading. The following books are available at the Garden Center library or your public library: "American Colorist," by Berrin (booklet), "Color in Flower Arrangement" by Wilson, "Color Notation" by Munsell, "Complete Landscape Garden Guide," Korbobo, "Woman's Home Companion Garden Book," chapters 22, 23, 27, 28, 25, 46, "History of Flower Arrangement," Berrall. You will need to read all these books and review them later. The questions on your reading examination are drawn from books on the required reading list.

The Ruston Garden Club staged the flower show this week that might well be entitled "Promise of Spring." The exhibits were point scored by an accredited judge. The all blue ribbon show was staged by Mrs. W. Durden, Jr., president of the club. First place in the arrangement section was a line arrangement of quince in a brass bowl set on a carved teakwood stand. Quince branches in the bud stage were arranged in a triangular line. Three bright red camellias with self foliage were placed at the base of the arrangement. The simplicity of line and the color harmony was most pleasing. Second place was awarded to a simple vertical design of five early daffodils and self foliage placed in a small brass bowl with its own teakwood stand. Incidentally our little early daffodil is Narcissus Minor.

The third arrangement was a lovely spiral design of white narcissus and self foliage in a small brass bowl. Keynote of the show was simplicity. All the designs were Oriental in feeling and light and airy as the first breath of spring.

The three blue ribbon camellias exhibited were: K. Sawada, white Debutante, pink and Iwane Shibori, variegated red and white.

Also on display at the Garden Center was an original composition by Mrs. John Lewis. The theme was "Ready for the Show" an informal composition suitable for a modern home. A brown hand carved wooden plate held the design of tall spikes of pussy-willow. Two placements of finger coral in gleaming white were placed in front of the pussy - willow. The center of interest was a rosette of lace coral framed by foliage of the lovely Chinese cabbage. (These are ruffly leaves of green shading into yellow - green and veined with a red - violet shade.) Mushroom coral placed in the foreground and fine white gravel covering the entire plate added to the illusion of a seashore scene.

If you are interested in making a garden tour, now is the time to make your plans. Nearby, of course, we have the annual Natchez Pilgrimage all during March. The Williamsburg Garden Symposium announces two sessions — March 7-9 and March 12-14. For full information write The Williamsburg Garden Symposium, Goodwin Building, Williamsburg, Virginia or drop by the Garden Center. The Horticulture Travel Foundation is offering two European Garden Tours and a Garden Tour of the Hawaiian Islands. Folders describing the tours may be seen at the Garden Center.

Don't forget that state board meeting of the Louisiana Garden Club Federation, Thursday January 26 in Alexandria at the YWCA building.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

More Information About Conifers

Around the turn of this century, our nurseries in the United States were featuring the Colorado blue spruce, the Engellman spruce and the Norway spruce in their catalogues. You can find some fine specimens of these three conifers in parks and cemeteries and old gardens and grounds today. Not too many of them survived because people did not know how big they would get or what conditions they wanted when they first showed up in nurseries. We just have to learn these things by doing.

Now we know that the Norway spruce gets off to a wonderful start, as do most young conifers, and is a very handsome Christmas tree shaped specimen that becomes larger and handsomer every year for twenty to forty years. Then it begins to decline under most southern conditions. It simply is not a long - lived tree. It has shot its bolt, and it does not then stay with us much longer. Sap - suckers love to drill holes into the soft bark of the Norway spruce, too. They will often riddle the trunks with ring after ring of their holes and cause the poor trees to nearly bleed to death early in the spring.

The Colorado blue spruces which were set out everywhere in the old days have survived better than the Norway spruces have because they are naturally long - lived trees. They grow very slowly and have seemed to be able better to cope with our great droughts and white hot summer heat than many conifers from other parts of the world. Some glorious specimens can be seen in cemeteries and on old home places here and there. Engellman's spruce is not as common, but the few still growing are a glorious sight to behold. The foliage is dense and a rich green. Not to be confused with these are the occasional specimens of the green form of the Colorado blue spruce.

Another conifer that was once very popular is that stickery evergreen with branchlets made up of two rows of prickly needles about an inch long backed up to each other like two combs. Many of these were used in Christmas decorations this year either gilded or silvered or just plain green. The buds at the ends of the twigs are a little ball of more prickles that resemble baby cones. This evergreen, the Cunninghamia, was named for the man for whom some people think the camellia should have been named. Dr. Harold Hume thinks that the monk, Camel, probably never saw a camellia. At any rate, Cunningham was an employee of the British East India Company in China and sent home descriptions and live plants of the camellia before anyone else had done it.

Cunninghamia is one of the large trees we see in oriental paintings and art. These conifers, like many other kinds, are very beautiful when very young but rather ugly in their adolescence — at the time they begin to get up to about ten to twenty feet. They lose many branches. Strangely enough, they just seem to be shedding them as if it were the natural thing for them to do. Some improved varieties are now in our nurseries, and we shall perhaps always grow Cunninghamias in spite of their messiness. Ask for the better type that is more compact than the ordinary ones.

ABSTRACT CO. ELECTS

The newly elected officers will serve during the ensuing year.

MICHIGAN'S FUTURE

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Michigan some day will pass Florida as the nation's No. 2 fruit and vegetable state and challenge California for top position, two Michigan State University horticultural experts predict.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

A husband would love to find his wife eternally gay, understanding and faithful.

New, Mutual Interests Help Keep Marriage Attractive

When we notice a man and woman who seem to be intrigued with one another, who seem to be having fun, who have that sparkle in their eyes, we are likely to think that they are not married, no matter what their ages are.

This seems to be a very cynical attitude and yet, sadly, it is somewhat realistic. It is realistic in that too many married folk allow their daily lives to sink into ruts of fatigue, of taking each other for granted, and sameness, day after day, year after year. It is almost to the point where, if you find your wife or husband attractive, you are acting illegally or are suspect for intrigue.

The average woman, whether she realizes it or not, would really like to have a Don Juan, with perfect manners—the Prince Charming in every way. BUT she also would like to have a stable man she can lean on and depend on, and one on whose love she can rely.

The man would love to find his wife eternally gay and understanding, lovely, faithful, with never a criticism and no shred of fatigue, even though she runs the house well, takes care of the children, and manages somehow on the budget.

This is all to the good! Human nature always is hopeful until it is in real danger.

Why not look at it from both angles, both of you! Why not realize that in the stress of daily work, yours and his, you are apt to lose those magical times together which you could create if you both would put a little thought and heart into it.

Whenever I see a couple who looks bored, I always wonder whether they really are bored or whether they feel so at home together that they feel that they can relax.

However, it does seem that when they go out on a gala evening that both husband and wife might feel some obligation to be an entertaining "date."

A husband and wife never should overlook the chance to add variety to their daily life together and to create new, mutual interests and hobbies. It may be some reading, a new card game, a new sport, or new records to listen to. Even these small things may make the difference between a happy and unhappy or "so-so" couple.

'Second Greatest Sex'
By MAMIE VAN DOREN
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, January 21 — A question arose recently while we were making a movie titled "The Second Greatest Sex," and the question was: "To whom does the title refer, men or women?"

Fellows, it is my sorrowful duty to report the results of a far-reaching survey (from the back lot at Universal - International to the front gate, anyway) and it carries no stipulation for a blue ribbon marked "Male" So go ahead and beat on your chests, men. Roar like lions, puff up like gorillas, and charge like bulls. Sad but true, it isn't going to help you one bit.

Aristophanes knew it 2400 years ago when he wrote a play titled "Lysistrata," which showed how the peloponesian War came to an end just because the womenfolk went on a love strike. Rudyard Kipling recognized the unvarnished truth in "The Female of the Species" and H. L. Menchken, in his "In Defense of Women," admitted that what men mistake as woman's intuition is actually a superior sense of realism.

During the above-mentioned survey, our pollers stopped by the studio research library and gathered up a few footnotes, and one of them is most intriguing. It seems that for every 100 girls born, there are 105 newborn boys. But by the time they reach the just under-30 age bracket, the male population has dwindled to the point where it is equalled by the femmes. After that point, the dolls really begin to assert themselves. Today, for instance, there are a million more women than men in America. And there's a plurality in the voting-age groups that give women control of the polls, too.

Not only that. Women live longer, too. Average life expectancy for a female is now 71 years of age. The average man can expect an earthly existence of only 65.

There are thousands of other examples, such as the misconception that husbands are always the breadwinners. Men are often "Allowed" by their wives to pick up the checks, pay the bills and balance the budget, but the truth is that the national wealth is controlled by women. A survey (not ours) in 1952 revealed that widows are slowly accumulating the major part of the invested wealth in America, already outnumbering the men in a check of 23,000,000 shareholders.And you'd be amazed to learn how many husbands in big-paying executive jobs are actually operating on allowances given them by the Missus

When women made up their minds they'd like to be able to vote, they won the right. When they decided they wanted to serve on juries, they changed the law. When they wanted to get into the armed forces, they did. And when a woman (who'll admit she's over 35) wants to be President of the U. S., it's a safe bet that she'll accomplish it.

Who constitutes the second greatest sex? Stand up, Mister, and take yourself a bow!

Which brings us to filmland. This epic would not be complete if I didn't touch on the sex situation in the movies. When you pass the gates of the big glamour oases you sort of call it a draw. In the land of romance and mystery and intrigue, and the joy and play and work, we find the male and the female elements running neck and neck in the race for fame, glory and gold. We must have our heroes and heroines. Since there can not, as a rule, be more than one of each in a story, the score is even. Ditto for villains and sirens.

Occasionally the producers venture out with one man and several women in a play, or it can be vice versa. But as we all know, a real down to earth, or up to the skies movie must have both men and women moving about in it. Roles for players just don't grow into majorities, as with voters, we'll say. The law of averages and balances in the realm of romance demands males and females — else there would be no romance, or weddings, or jealousies, and the other incidents that figure in the lives of humans.

Call it a draw in filmland—but elsewhere I think the women are in a majority.

Martin, Lewis Star In Lavish 'Artists, Models'

The coolest comics of them all, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, are in the hottest and most enviable spot they've ever been in — smack in the middle of acres of gorgeous models—as they crash the crazy world of art in their newest and most spectacular laugh barrage, "Artists and Models."

With their sights trained on a target that hasn't been under their hilarity-producing fire before—the nightmarish and gory comic book—Dean and Jerry don beret and smock and take up residence in Greenwich Village, the maddest artists ever in a community famed for its characters.

Bat ladies, vulture men, interplantetary rockets, foreign spies, the FBI, and the most luscious models the screen has to offer parade riotously through the comedy kings' topsy-turvy lives, all of them — in best Martin and Lewis tradition — tripping along to hit tunes and gorgeous production numbers, while Dean and Jerry make a rollicking shambles of story book adventures that are out of this world.

Produced by Hal Wallis, who gave us "3 Ring Circus" and many other top Martin and Lewis hits, "Artists and Models," opening today at the Paramount Theatre, co-stars Shirley MacLaine, Dorothy Malone and Eddie Mayehoff. As though Misses MacLaine and Malone weren't enough to satisfy any self - respecting art lover, Hal Wallis has added the bonus bonanza of Eva Gabor and Anita Ekberg. The costumes all four wear are the kind that have made artists' models famous for being gorgeous on the easel and easy on the eyes.

Six top - drawer songs by Jack Brooks and Harry Warren, who wrote Dean's recent platter smash, "That's Amore," sparkle among the spectacular dance and production numbers.

Brilliantly directed by Frank Tashlin and filmed in Vista Vision and color by Technicolor, "Artists and Models" promises the most unusual plot and comedy situations Dean and Jerry have as yet been involved in. With artist Dean's comic book plots coming straight from Jerry's wacky nightmares, and with Shirley MacLaine, portraying the Bat Lady, being enthusiastically received as Jerry's feminine counterpart in comedy, "Artists and Models" stacks up as the most thoroughly enjoyable adventure in laughter and music of the season. We can't wait to see it.

The bidding:

South, 2 hearts; West, 4 diamonds; North, Pass; East, Pass.

South, 4 hearts; West, Pass; North, 5 hearts; East, Pass.

South, 6 hearts; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, Pass.

Opening lead: King of clubs.

The term "safety play" conjures up in the minds of most players, notions of post-graduate technique, yet the vast majority of them are the essence of simplicity and should be studied and applied by even the casual player. When a contract appears to be cinched it pays to be pessimistic and to take precautionary measures against badly breaking suits.

A most unusual safety play was executed by South of today's hand, one that I venture to say would have escaped the notice of the most experienced players. The opening bid of two hearts complies with the requirements of even the most stringent rules. West, protected by the shield of nonvulnerability, attempted to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery by a preemptive bid of four diamonds. North refused to make a free bid and South chose to go for the game rather than the penalty. North now made a belated raise to five hearts, justified by his sure trump trick and the singleton diamond. He was confident, moreover, that in view of his previous pass, not much would be expected of him. South, of course, cheerfully bid the slam.

The king of clubs was opened and ruffed. Had declarer thoughtlessly laid down the ace of diamonds with the intention of ruffing out the other three cards of the suit and making an over-trick, the contract would have been defeated, for East would ruff the ace and return a trump, which would leave only two trumps in dummy to take care of three losing diamonds.

Declarer, recalling the four diamond bid, made without the ace and queen, felt that it was not a remote contingency that West held an eight card suit. In any event he was willing to spend 30 points to guard against that holding. He therefore decided to give up one diamond as a safety measure and immediately returned the deuce of that suit. There was nothing the defense could do to prevent his ruffing the other two losing diamonds. No attempt was made to cash the ace until after trumps had been drawn.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. Each sex is superior to the other in some respects and inferior in others. Women are inferior in sheer physical strength but superior in vital endurance. They live longer, on the average, than men, notwithstanding the enormous drain on their strength due to bearing children, etc. Mentally, the differences are so slight as to be hardly measurable, and even these are probably mostly due to environment.

What kind of mate do you want? How To Pick A Mate includes practical tests of personality, emotional maturity, and love. Send 15c (coin only), and self - addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, according to Ernest Hooton, Harvard anthropologist, in "Science Digest." He says America is raising too many tall and skinny people. A check of 50,000 GI's showed that more than 22 per cent were of the elongated type and 9 per cent were extremely thin. Hooton attributes it to heredity. Many babies who formerly died in childhood now grow up to be "string beans." They marry tall persons and their children are likely to be tall. He contends men of half a century ago were shorter and better muscled.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. "Psychologists are convinced that the way you respond to different types of humor reveals more about your character and personality than you'd dream possible," says John E. Gibson in ""Science Digest." Business firms are using this principle in selecting men for important jobs. The test includes nearly one hundred jokes, and they form the basis for a personality test. Only psychologists and personnel consultants can use the test since response to each joke must be critically evaluated.

Delhi Woman Asks Prayers For 'Dying' Grandchild

Mrs. P. L. Jackson of Delhi, grandmother of 8 - months - old Keith Polan who is dying in a Chicago hospital from a rare heart ailment known as fibrilastosis, has appealed to the public to offer up their prayers that her grandson might live.

The stricken lad, whom Chicago physicians declared "hasn't much longer to live" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Huey Polan. The father is a former resident of Delhi where he attended the Central High School.

After physicians had made their diagnosis in December, at which time the parents thought their son was the victim of asthma, as he was having trouble breathing, they gave the blue - eyed blond youngster until his first birthday to live — until his second at the most.

After the child had been taken to the hospital, drugs were administered that provided some relief. The parents then asked Chicago residents to pray for their child.

English monarchs, with an eye to masts for the Royal Navy, customarily reserved rights to certain types and sizes of trees in their charters to the American colonies.

ANCIENT EGYPT - 6

Papyrus Boat on the Nile

The life of the ancient Egyptians centered around the River Nile. It gave them water for food, for molding bricks and for bathing. Many of them sailed up and down the Nile in small boats.

Here is a young Egyptian boy in a small, painted boat of braided papyrus covered with wood. There is an oar at the stern to steer the boat when needed, wooden paddles to propel it and a small sail to catch any stray breeze.

On either side of the prow is a big eye to show the boat where to go.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color it as you wish. Then cut out the boat carefully. Fold back along each dotted line. The center part is the bottom of the boat. Paste the corresponding lettered points together and curl the end of the bottom up inside.

Cut a piece of wax paper larger than the bottom of the boat and place it gently on the surface of a dish of water. Then set the boat on the paper and it will keep dry and firm on your own River Nile.

JUNIOR EDITORS pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission will be accepted.

Dislike Soil Bank

Cotton Industry Spokesmen Urge Program Change

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — Spokesmen for the giant cotton industry generally opposed most provisions of the administration's soil-bank plan today but urged drastic overhaul of recent federal cotton programs.

They told the Senate Agriculture Committee, which is working on broad new farm legislation, that another cutback in cotton acreage as proposed by the soil bank would do further damage to cotton producers, ginners and others in the industry.

The cotton representatives, suggested instead:

1. Sale of as much as five million bales a year at cut rate world prices in an effort to regain this country's "fair share" of the foreign cotton trade.

2. A shift in the basis of support loans to a longer staple cotton—one inch middling instead of the present ⅞ths inch—even though this could lower domestic price supports for best cotton by 3 or 3½ cents a pound.

3. Restoration of the rigid 90 per cent of parity supports on cotton.

4. Some limitation or restriction on imports of cotton textiles, particularly those from Japan which have been reported on the increase.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), a committee member, contended the State Department has blocked an Agriculture Department proposal to sell off several million bales of surplus government cotton at reduced prices on world markets.

By his questioning of witnesses, Eastland contended this amounted "to manipulation to enrich four or five global American corporations" which he said had set up cotton production and ginning facilities in Mexico, Brazil an other cotton-growing nations.

Eastland identified the corporations as Anderson Clayton & Co. Cook & Co., Hohenberg Brothers and McFadden Cotton Co.

Alan G. Patterson of Poinsett County, Arkansas, appearing for the American Cotton Producer Associates, said he agreed with Eastland that these American corporations were offering difficult competition for U. S. cotton growers.

But Patterson said he "would not go so far" as to say they were dictating State Department policy.

Patterson said he might be willing to cooperate with a long range soil bank program if it returned $10 an acre and did not include land now used for cotton. He said he gets about this much now from land his tenants operate.

Chairman Ellender (D-La) asked if this would not displace the tenants.

"There are going to be quite a few tenants who are not going to be there," Patterson replied. "It's already happening. They are leaving the farm by thousands. We are not forcing them off. It's the economic situation. They just can't make a living."

He said this resulted from past planting cuts under federal programs that had allowed foreign competitors to expand their production.

G. C. Cortight, Jr., appearing for the Delta Council, said the cotton acreage cutback last year "displace 11,981 Mississippi farm families an more than 55,000 were displaced in the cotton belt."

Does your kitchen boast an electric rotisserie? Then do try roasting a duck on it! You'll find this method of cooking duckling gives wonderfully crisp skin. But make sure you have an extra dripping pan that fits under the heating element of the rotisserie. About a cup of fat will drip out from the duck and the regular tray will have to be emptied of the fat several times during the cooking; here's where the auxiliary pan will come in handy.

When your family requests baked fish, you'll save yourself the bother of basting if you select fat fish rather than lean. Some of the fat varieties are sea bass, butterfish, halibut, lake trout, mackerel, pompano, porgie, salmon and whitefish.

Here's a way to sneak an egg into the diet of one of your family who tires of eggs or just doesn't like them: Beat one up and slowly stir into it enough hot cereal for one serving.

'Truth' Labels For Windshields

Solon Offers Plan To Cut 'Phantom Freight', 'Bootlegging' Of Autos

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—UP—A Democratic senator proposed Friday that new cars be required to carry federal "truth" labels to protect buyers against "phantom" freight charges.

The suggestion was made by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (Okla), chairman of a Senate subcommittee studying auto sales practices.

Frederick J. Bell, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, estimated the public paid up to $200 million last year alone in unwarranted freight charges.

"Phantom" freight is a charge added to the price of new cars above the actual transportation cost. Most auto freight charges are based on railroad transportation from Detroit, even though many cars are shipped from nearer factories at cheaper truck rates.

Monroney suggested that each new car be required to carry a windshield sticker that would stay on until the car was registered by its owner. The sticker would show the "chain of ownership" and the exact type of transportation used.

He said this not only would hit "phantom" freight charges but also would help curb auto "bootlegging" — the sale of new cars by a regular franchised dealer to non-franchised dealers for resale.

Monroney said a "truth in labelling" law already exists for cars sold in Oklahoma but cannot be fully effective because it operates only after a car enters the state.

He noted that the government already requires accurate labels on cloth, food, drugs, liquor from bonded warehouses and other products.

Bell, whose organization has sharply attacked selling practices of the big auto makers, called on congressional action to halt what he called the "downhill plunge of industrial ethics and morality" in the auto industry. He appeared before Monroney's subcommittee.

Meanwhile Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told a House subcommittee that General Motors Corp. is operating a "collectivist state" whose very existence threatens the nation's economic freedom.

He said the General Motors "empire" is greater than the population of most American cities, with 600,000 employes, 504,000 stockholders and "control over 21,000 suppliers and thousands of dealers."

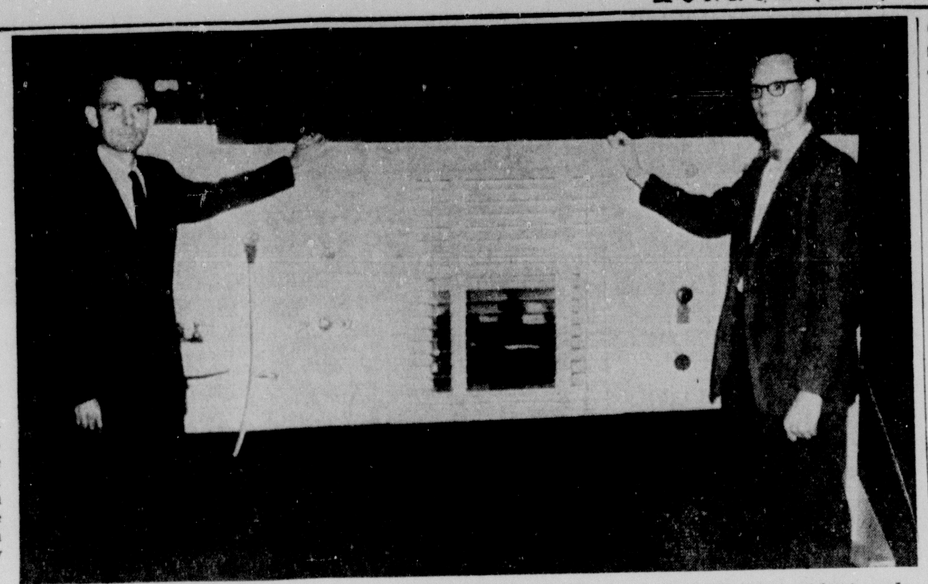
Civitans Present Gadget Board To CP School Here

Inspired by information that the Shreveport Civitan Club had built and donated a gadget board for the use of children afflicted with cerebral palsy, the Monroe Civitans initiated a similar project for the CP School at Selman Field here.

With Capt. J. W. Faler and Milton Childers as general chairman, a Civitan group worked Tuesday nights each week for more than a month at the Continental Laboratories, provided free of charge, to fashion a useful and ever ornate board that was formally presented to the Selman School for children afflicted with cerebral palsy. The presentation, accompanied by a TV showing, was held on Friday afternoon.

The men produced a fine type of workmanship which was possible through their efforts and the securing of the cooperation of a number of Monroe firms. These were: Continental Laboratories, Hill Lumber Company, Hayes Lumber Company, Monroe Lumber and Supply, Lumbermen's Supply, Montgomery Ward Company, Morgan - Lindsey Company, Smith Venetian Blinds Company, Futch Sheet Metal Company, Yarbrough Machine Works, Bell Telephone Company, and A. D. Walker who painted the board in attractive colors.



OPERATION GADGET BOARD—Energetic volunteer workers skilled in cabinet making artistry, members of the Monroe Civitan club, fashioned this valuable piece of equipment for the use and delight of children at the cerebral palsy school in Selman field. Complete in its details, it was displayed over TV Friday at 5:30 p.m., and was formally presented to the school. Capt. J. W. Faler, prominent Civitan member, was in charge of the project. Shown in the picture on the left, is Lea S. Thompson, president of the Monroe Civitan club, and at the right, K. E. Griswold, director of the cerebral palsy school. 'Second Greatest Sex'
By MAMIE VAN DOREN
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, January 21 — A question arose recently while we were making a movie titled "The Second Greatest Sex," and the question was: "To whom does the title refer, men or women?"

Fellows, it is my sorrowful duty to report the results of a far-reaching survey (from the back lot at Universal - International to the front gate, anyway) and it carries no stipulation for a blue ribbon marked "Male" So go ahead and beat on your chests, men. Roar like lions, puff up like gorillas, and charge like bulls. Sad but true, it isn't going to help you one bit.

Aristophanes knew it 2400 years ago when he wrote a play titled "Lysistrata," which showed how the peloponesian War came to an end just because the womenfolk went on a love strike. Rudyard Kipling recognized the unvarnished truth in "The Female of the Species" and H. L. Menchken, in his "In Defense of Women," admitted that what men mistake as woman's intuition is actually a superior sense of realism.

During the above-mentioned survey, our pollers stopped by the studio research library and gathered up a few footnotes, and one of them is most intriguing. It seems that for every 100 girls born, there are 105 newborn boys. But by the time they reach the just under-30 age bracket, the male population has dwindled to the point where it is equalled by the femmes. After that point, the dolls really begin to assert themselves. Today, for instance, there are a million more women than men in America. And there's a plurality in the voting-age groups that give women control of the polls, too.

Not only that. Women live longer, too. Average life expectancy for a female is now 71 years of age. The average man can expect an earthly existence of only 65.

There are thousands of other examples, such as the misconception that husbands are always the breadwinners. Men are often "Allowed" by their wives to pick up the checks, pay the bills and balance the budget, but the truth is that the national wealth is controlled by women. A survey (not ours) in 1952 revealed that widows are slowly accumulating the major part of the invested wealth in America, already outnumbering the men in a check of 23,000,000 shareholders. And you'd be amazed to learn how many husbands in big-paying executive jobs are actually operating on allowances given them by the Missus

When women made up their minds they'd like to be able to vote, they won the right. When they decided they wanted to serve on juries, they changed the law. When they wanted to get into the armed forces, they did. And when a woman (who'll admit she's over 35) wants to be President of the U. S., it's a safe bet that she'll accomplish it.

Who constitutes the second greatest sex? Stand up, Mister, and take yourself a bow!

Which brings us to filmland. This epic would not be complete if I didn't touch on the sex situation in the movies. When you pass the gates of the big glamour oases you sort of call it a draw. In the land of romance and mystery and intrigue, and the joy and play and work, we find the male and the female elements running neck and neck in the race for fame, glory and gold. We must have our heroes and heroines. Since there can not, as a rule, be more than one of each in a story, the score is even. Ditto for villains and sirens.

Occasionally the producers venture out with one man and several women in a play, or it can be vice versa. But as we all know, a real down to earth, or up to the skies movie must have both men and women moving about in it. Roles for players just don't grow into majorities, as with voters, we'll say. The law of averages and balances in the realm of romance demands males and females — else there would be no romance, or weddings, or jealousies, and the other incidents that figure in the lives of humans.

Call it a draw in filmland—but elsewhere I think the women are in a majority.

Martin, Lewis Star In Lavish 'Artists, Models'

The coolest comics of them all, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, are in the hottest and most enviable spot they've ever been in — smack in the middle of acres of gorgeous models—as they crash the crazy world of art in their newest and most spectacular laugh barrage, "Artists and Models."

With their sights trained on a target that hasn't been under their hilarity-producing fire before—the nightmarish and gory comic book—Dean and Jerry don beret and smock and take up residence in Greenwich Village, the maddest artists ever in a community famed for its characters.

Bat ladies, vulture men, interplantetary rockets, foreign spies, the FBI, and the most luscious models the screen has to offer parade riotously through the comedy kings' topsy-turvy lives, all of them — in best Martin and Lewis tradition — tripping along to hit tunes and gorgeous production numbers, while Dean and Jerry make a rollicking shambles of story book adventures that are out of this world.

Produced by Hal Wallis, who gave us "3 Ring Circus" and many other top Martin and Lewis hits, "Artists and Models," opening today at the Paramount Theatre, co-stars Shirley MacLaine, Dorothy Malone and Eddie Mayehoff. As though Misses MacLaine and Malone weren't enough to satisfy any self - respecting art lover, Hal Wallis has added the bonus bonanza of Eva Gabor and Anita Ekberg. The costumes all four wear are the kind that have made artists' models famous for being gorgeous on the easel and easy on the eyes.

Six top - drawer songs by Jack Brooks and Harry Warren, who wrote Dean's recent platter smash, "That's Amore," sparkle among the spectacular dance and production numbers.

Brilliantly directed by Frank Tashlin and filmed in Vista Vision and color by Technicolor, "Artists and Models" promises the most unusual plot and comedy situations Dean and Jerry have as yet been involved in. With artist Dean's comic book plots coming straight from Jerry's wacky nightmares, and with Shirley MacLaine, portraying the Bat Lady, being enthusiastically received as Jerry's feminine counterpart in comedy, "Artists and Models" stacks up as the most thoroughly enjoyable adventure in laughter and music of the season. We can't wait to see it.

Opening lead: King of clubs.

The term "safety play" conjures up in the minds of most players, notions of post-graduate technique, yet the vast majority of them are the essence of simplicity and should be studied and applied by even the casual player. When a contract appears to be cinched it pays to be pessimistic and to take precautionary measures against badly breaking suits.

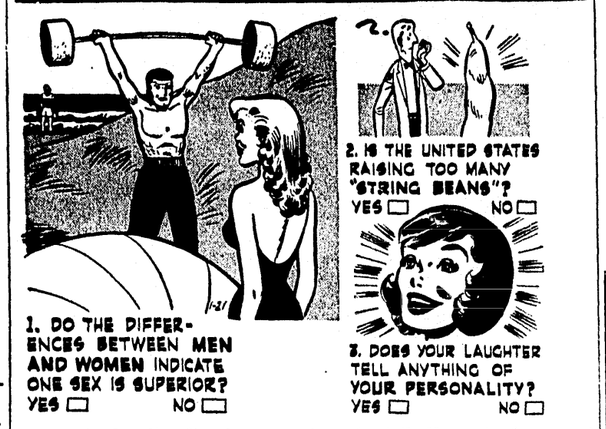
A most unusual safety play was executed by South of today's hand, one that I venture to say would have escaped the notice of the most experienced players. The opening bid of two hearts complies with the requirements of even the most stringent rules. West, protected by the shield of nonvulnerability, attempted to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery by a preemptive bid of four diamonds. North refused to make a free bid and South chose to go for the game rather than the penalty. North now made a belated raise to five hearts, justified by his sure trump trick and the singleton diamond. He was confident, moreover, that in view of his previous pass, not much would be expected of him. South, of course, cheerfully bid the slam.

The king of clubs was opened and ruffed. Had declarer thoughtlessly laid down the ace of diamonds with the intention of ruffing out the other three cards of the suit and making an over-trick, the contract would have been defeated, for East would ruff the ace and return a trump, which would leave only two trumps in dummy to take care of three losing diamonds.

Declarer, recalling the four diamond bid, made without the ace and queen, felt that it was not a remote contingency that West held an eight card suit. In any event he was willing to spend 30 points to guard against that holding. He therefore decided to give up one diamond as a safety measure and immediately returned the deuce of that suit. There was nothing the defense could do to prevent his ruffing the other two losing diamonds. No attempt was made to cash the ace until after trumps had been drawn.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman



Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. Each sex is superior to the other in some respects and inferior in others. Women are inferior in sheer physical strength but superior in vital endurance. They live longer, on the average, than men, notwithstanding the enormous drain on their strength due to bearing children, etc. Mentally, the differences are so slight as to be hardly measurable, and even these are probably mostly due to environment.

What kind of mate do you want? How To Pick A Mate includes practical tests of personality, emotional maturity, and love. Send 15c (coin only), and self - addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, according to Ernest Hooton, Harvard anthropologist, in "Science Digest." He says America is raising too many tall and skinny people. A check of 50,000 GI's showed that more than 22 per cent were of the elongated type and 9 per cent were extremely thin. Hooton attributes it to heredity. Many babies who formerly died in childhood now grow up to be "string beans." They marry tall persons and their children are likely to be tall. He contends men of half a century ago were shorter and better muscled.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. "Psychologists are convinced that the way you respond to different types of humor reveals more about your character and personality than you'd dream possible," says John E. Gibson in ""Science Digest." Business firms are using this principle in selecting men for important jobs. The test includes nearly one hundred jokes, and they form the basis for a personality test. Only psychologists and personnel consultants can use the test since response to each joke must be critically evaluated.

Delhi Woman Asks Prayers For 'Dying' Grandchild

Mrs. P. L. Jackson of Delhi, grandmother of 8 - months - old Keith Polan who is dying in a Chicago hospital from a rare heart ailment known as fibrilastosis, has appealed to the public to offer up their prayers that her grandson might live.

The stricken lad, whom Chicago physicians declared "hasn't much longer to live" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Huey Polan. The father is a former resident of Delhi where he attended the Central High School.

After physicians had made their diagnosis in December, at which time the parents thought their son was the victim of asthma, as he was having trouble breathing, they gave the blue - eyed blond youngster until his first birthday to live — until his second at the most.

After the child had been taken to the hospital, drugs were administered that provided some relief. The parents then asked Chicago residents to pray for their child.

Papyrus Boat on the Nile

The life of the ancient Egyptians centered around the River Nile. It gave them water for food, for molding bricks and for bathing. Many of them sailed up and down the Nile in small boats.

Here is a young Egyptian boy in a small, painted boat of braided papyrus covered with wood. There is an oar at the stern to steer the boat when needed, wooden paddles to propel it and a small sail to catch any stray breeze.

On either side of the prow is a big eye to show the boat where to go.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color it as you wish. Then cut out the boat carefully. Fold back along each dotted line. The center part is the bottom of the boat. Paste the corresponding lettered points together and curl the end of the bottom up inside.

Cut a piece of wax paper larger than the bottom of the boat and place it gently on the surface of a dish of water. Then set the boat on the paper and it will keep dry and firm on your own River Nile.

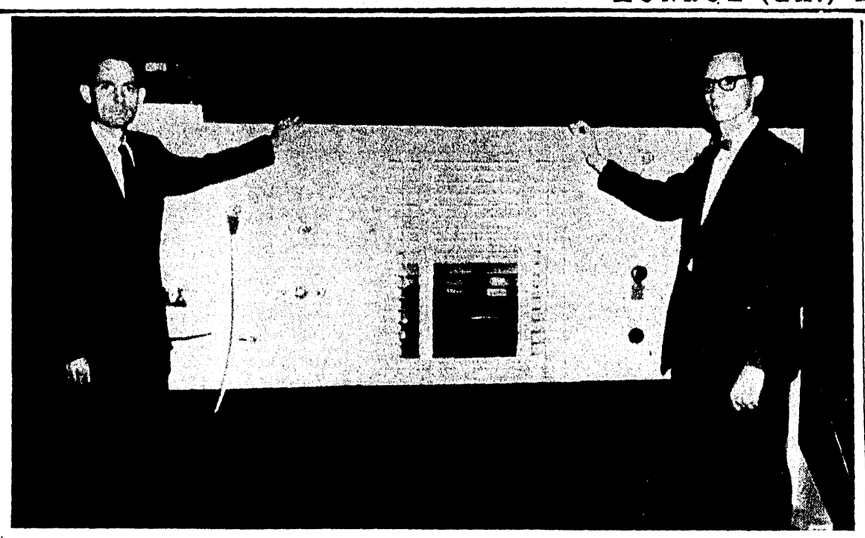
Civitans Present Gadget Board To CP School Here

Inspired by information that the Shreveport Civitan Club had built and donated a gadget board for the use of children afflicted with cerebral palsy, the Monroe Civitans initiated a similar project for the CP School at Selman Field here.

With Capt. J. W. Faler and Milton Childers as general chairman, a Civitan group worked Tuesday nights each week for more than a month at the Continental Laboratories, provided free of charge, to fashion a useful and ever ornate board that was formally presented to the Selman School for children afflicted with cerebral palsy. The presentation, accompanied by a TV showing, was held on Friday afternoon.

The men produced a fine type of workmanship which was possible through their efforts and the securing of the cooperation of a number of Monroe firms. These were: Continental Laboratories, Hill Lumber Company, Hayes Lumber Company, Monroe Lumber and Supply, Lumbermen's Supply, Montgomery Ward Company, Morgan - Lindsey Company, Smith Venetian Blinds Company, Futch Sheet Metal Company, Yarbrough Machine Works, Bell Telephone Company, and A. D. Walker who painted the board in attractive colors.



OPERATION GADGET BOARD—Energetic volunteer workers skilled in cabinet making artistry, members of the Monroe Civitan club, fashioned this valuable piece of equipment for the use and delight of children at the cerebral palsy school in Selman field. Complete in its details, it was displayed over TV Friday at 5:30 p.m., and was formally presented to the school. Capt. J. W. Faler, prominent Civitan member, was in charge of the project. Shown in the picture on the left, is Lea S. Thompson, president of the Monroe Civitan club, and at the right, K. E. Griswold, director of the cerebral palsy school. Scouting Award Will Be Awarded Here On Friday

Next Friday night in Temple B'Nai Israel in Monroe the Ner Tamid award will be made. This is a religious recognition for superior work in Boy Scout activities. It will be held at 8 p. m.

This will be the first award of the kind ever given in Northeast Louisiana. The recipient will be Scout Charles Snyder of Bastrp.

The presentation will be made by Simmie Heninger, who is Scout commissioner for the fifth congressional district of Boy Scouting.

Ben Parnell and Jack Pankey will discuss the work of scouting in the local area which is making great strides forward it is stated.

Religious Author To Deliver Talk At University Meet

PINEVILLE, Jan. 21 (Special)—One of the nation's most popular religious authors will be the featured speaker at Louisiana College's second annual Career Day which is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 3.

He is Dr. T. B. Maston, professor of social ethics at the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex., who will make three appearances at the L. C. event.

His address, "Where Are We Headed?" is set for the day's first general assembly at 9:25 a. m. in the Alexandria hall auditorium. He will also lead two adult conferences, one at 11 a. m. and the other at 1 p. m.

Topic of the initial conference will be "Parents, Teachers, and the Purposes of God"; that of the second, "Pastors, Leaders, and Christian Youth."

Dr. Maston has been a member of the Southwestern Seminary faculty since 1922. He holds five college degrees, including two doctorates and two master's. Yale University conferred the Ph. D. on him in 1939, while he received his doctor of religious education degree at the Southwestern Seminary in 1925.

Dr. Maston's undergraduate work was done at Carson - Newman College, Jefferson City, Tenn., where he completed the bachelor of arts degree in 1920. He earned a master of religious education at Southwestern in 1923 and a master of arts at Texas Christian University in 1927.

TOUGH EATING

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—A North Texas State College professor went out along on his first duck hunting trip. On his return he called a friend and bragged: "Got my limit in no time. Could have killed 30 more easily." The friend went by to see the ducks and found the professor sitting in the garage, plucking five seagulls.

The American farmer produces enough food to feed himself and 17 other people. The average Russian farmer produces enough to feed himself and two others.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, 'NO CHECK'?

WHY-AH-MISS GAY MADE 'ARRANGEMENTS' BEFOREHAND, COL. CANYON!

WHAT'S THE MATTER, STEVE, SEE SOMEBODY YOU HATE?

SAVANNAH, WHY DID YOU PICK UP THE TAB IN ADVANCE BACK THERE?

BECAUSE I HAVE A CHARGE ACCOUNT! IF YOU WANT TO BE TECHNICAL ABOUT IT, I MAKE MORE MONEY THAN YOU DO - AND THAT'S THE SIMPLEST WAY TO TAKE YOU OFF THE HOOK!

NO DEAL!

IF I TAKE YOU OUT - I PAY THE FREIGHT! WHEN I CAN'T PAY, I WON'T TAKE YOU OUT!

WELL-L-L, THAT'S VERY BIG AND STRONG OF YOU, HERR COLONEL...

IT'S IMPORTANT IN MY BUSINESS TO BE SEEN IN THE RIGHT PLACES FROM TIME TO TIME! - WHY SHOULD YOU PAY FOR MY PUBLICITY?

... WHEN I WISH TO BE WITH SOMEONE JUST FOR FUN - I DON'T WANT TO GO TO A NIGHT CLUB!

YOU MAKE ME FEEL LIKE A REAL STUFFED SHIRT... I GUESS OUR WORLDS JUST DON'T MIX SO WELL!

WHO AM I KIDDING? THEY DON'T MIX INSIDE ME EITHER!

I DO ALL THE THINGS THAT ARE EXPECTED OF A MOVIE STAR, BUT I WANT YOU TO PICK UP THE CHECK!

I LEARNED HOW TO ACT FROM READING MOVIE FAN MAGAZINES...

IF I HAD TO DO A PLAY ON A STAGE I WOULDN'T KNOW A PROSCENIUM ARCH FROM A CURTAIN CALL!

I'M JUST A LOUD-MOUTHED BRAT FROM THE PINEY WOODS WHO TRIPPED OVER THE BRASS RING AND LANDED ON MY FEET!

AND IF YOU DON'T HURRY UP AND KISS ME I'LL CALL THE HOUSE DETECTIVE AND HAVE YOU THROWN OUT FOR INSULTING ME!
